President Von Hindenburg Of Germany Reported Near Death

Von Hindenburg Slowly Sinking; Fear Death Near

Report That Hope For Aged President's Recovery Has Been Abandoned

HITLER RETURNS TO BERLIN BY PLANE

Probable Hitler Will Assume Presidency If Von Hindenburg Dies

(International News Service)
NEUDECK, Germany, July 31.—President Paul Von Hindenburg, field marshal of Germany and the nation's most popular World war hero, was slowly sinking this afternoon and hope for his recovery has been abandoned.

Members of the venerable president's immediate family assembled at his bedside at the Hindenburg estate three miles from Neudeck shortly after noon. They included Von Hindenburg's son, Colonel Oscar Von Hindenburg and the latter's wife and the president's two daughters, Frau Von Brockhausen and Frau Von Pentz.

Only a short while before 12:55 P. M.—Von Hindenburg's physicians had issued a reassuring bulletin although they admitted the president's condition was causing grave anxiety because of his advanced age—he will be 87 in October.

RUMORED DEAD.
GENEVA, July 31.—Rumors were circulated at League of Nations headquarters today that President Von Hindenburg is dead but that Chancellor Hitler has ordered official announcement of his death held up temporarily.

Discuss Presidency.
BERLIN, July 31.—Their vacation interrupted by word from Neudeck that President Von Hindenburg was dying, Chancellor Hitler and Dr. Joseph Paul Goebbels, minister of propaganda, arrived here by plane from Bayreuth, Bavaria at 4:15 this afternoon and drove immediately to the Chancellery.

Hitler and Goebbels immediately summoned those cabinet officers who are still in Berlin.

Gracie Allen Says Russia Is No Place For Women

(International News Service)
PARIS, July 31.—George Burns is really the dumb member of the team, Gracie Allen explained in dead seriousness when the famous radio and moving picture pair arrived here today from a Russian journey.

"Oh, yes indeed he is," said Gracie seriously. "He arranged the trip from New York to Moscow to see the theaters there, and when we arrived all the theaters were closed because of the summer and we had to spend all our time in the museums."

"Our guides paraded us in front of an exhibit of the evolution of the U. S. R. In the first picture was a peasant without shoes, in the middle and the last photographs the peasants were still without shoes and then we went out into the streets and saw the same peasants still without shoes."

"The U. S. R. is no place for women. They do all the work. It's they who are building the Moscow subway knee-deep in mud without shoes and stockings. We saw a big building under construction. Its they who mix mortar and do the hardest labor. The American unemployed live like Dukes compared to the workers in the Soviet."

Streets Are Badly Flooded In Cloudburst Here On Monday Afternoon

Large Force Of Workmen Cleaning Up Debris In Wake Of Down-pour

Scenes of 1913, the year of the big flood, were recalled Monday, July 30, when a cloudburst struck the City of New Castle, filled the down town streets, tore out dirt streets on hillsides and flooded cellars. It was the most terrific rain storm seen here in years and not since 1913 have the streets been as flooded as they were Monday.

All day long the sky had been promising rain and at four o'clock it started. A high wind swept the rain along in gusts and by four fifteen a torrential downpour was falling on the east side was inadequate and manhole covers came off in several places.

Sewers Add To Volume.
With the manhole covers off, the torrent shot out of the sewers three feet into the air and joined the already swelling flood that was coursing down East Washington street.

The biggest volume of water was between Butler avenue and the bridge on East Washington street. Joined with large volume of water out of Chestnut, County Line and Court streets the head of water at Kurtz street was such that in a few minutes it was over the curbs and into the store rooms. Tons of earth were carried along in the rush and the excavation for the new pavements on the west side of East Washington street looked like the whirlpool rapids. Today workmen are engaged shoveling out the dirt down to the concrete foundation.

Stalls Many Autos.
Croton avenue was probably the worst spot in the city. From East Washington street out beyond the city tool house it was a lake. In an amazingly quick time the water mounted, catching cars in that section and stalling them. In some cases the water was over the floor of the car and at least a dozen autos (Continued On Page Two)

TWO IN LINE FOR KINGSHIP

By DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK, July 31.—New life coursed through the dilapidated colony of Austrian Monarchists today.

The royal refugees, who have come on evil days since the Hapsburg dynasty founded, neglected their jobs as piano teachers, waiters, governesses, cooks, nurse maids, chauffeurs and bartenders to anticipate the return of the glory that once was theirs.

Toasts were drunk to the restoration. Court uniforms and lace were brought forth from dusty trunks. Intrigue was in the air.

There were two schools of intrigue. One supported the active claim of Archduke Otto, son of the former Empress Zita, to the Austrian throne.

The second school hailed Rudolph Alexander Nicholas Maria Hapsburg, otherwise known as James Longstreet Cleveland, of Providence, Mo.

There was a pretense of mystery and romance. Cleveland has evidenced no enthusiasm for the royal call.

But a powerful group of Royalist Hapsburgs led by Countess Maria Larisch, niece of Empress Elizabeth, wife of the late Emperor Franz Joseph, of the Austrian Empire, is urging Cleveland to bid for the throne.

The countess points out that Cleveland is the native son of Crown Prince Rudolph, of Austria, and therefore direct heir to the crown. Otto is the son of Emperor Charles who was only the nephew of Emperor Franz Joseph.

CARS COLLIDE NEAR CASCADE

Charles T. Metzler, of 404 Park avenue, well known businessman, is in the New Castle hospital, suffering with a fractured left leg, the result of an automobile accident which occurred on East Washington street, near Cascade park, about 3:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon. His condition this afternoon was described as good.

James Jones, driver of the other vehicle which figured in the collision, and his daughter Edith, of R. F. D. No. 3, New Castle, received treatment for brush burns and slight lacerations about the face, in the Jameson Memorial hospital. They were able to return to their home after the minor injuries were treated.

According to Highway Patrolman Holm, Mr. Metzler was driving east and Jones was operating west. Mr. Metzler stated this morning that he was waiting to make a left hand turn near Cascade park, when the two automobiles crashed head on. Just when the Jones car came from, is a mystery to Mr. Metzler, he stated.

Both cars were badly damaged. Mr. Metzler's left leg was fractured two inches below the knee.

Swiss Protest Arms Smuggling

(International News Service)
BERLIN, July 31.—The Swiss minister presented a note to the foreign office at noon today, protesting the smuggling of explosives across Swiss territory from Germany into Austria.

The explosives are assumed to have been for use by Austrian Nazis in last week's attempted revolution. The note is the result of an incident occurring a week ago when four men, alleged to be Nazis, were arrested attempting to smuggle bombs into Austria. The Swiss viewpoint is that this action was a violation of Switzerland's territorial sovereignty and also of the country's laws against possession and transportation of explosives.

More Than 300 Acres Of Ground Under Water Near Philadelphia

DELAWARE RIVER IS OVERFLOWING

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—Some 30 families were homeless today; and more than 300 acres of populous land lay under a vast sheet of water as a result of a rapid rise of the rain swollen Delaware river in the near-by Bow Creek section of Delaware county.

Dykes, valued at $96,000 and constructed with public funds last spring were threatened by the high waters and a railroad track was undermined.

Rains Are Heavy
The flood was caused by heavy rains in northeastern Pennsylvania. A ten foot rise of the Delaware occurred at Easton where boats and small houses were washed away by the surging waters.

Seepage in the recently constructed dykes of the Bow Creek district were noted after tons of water had been pouring for hours through older embankments along the river's shores.

Most of the families still occupying houses in the lower reaches along the river front evacuated their homes when the flood danger was first apparent. Several families had already moved permanently to higher ground as the result of last spring's floods.

NEUDECK, Germany, July 31.—President Paul Von Hindenburg, field marshal of Germany and the nation's most popular World war hero, was slowly sinking this afternoon and hope for his recovery has been abandoned.

Members of the venerable family assembled at his bedside at the Hindenburg estate three miles from Neudeck shortly after noon. They included Von Hindenburg's son, Colonel Oscar Von Hindenburg and the latter's wife and the president's two daughters, Frau Von Brockhausen and Frau Von Pentz.

Only a short while before—at 12:55 P. M.—Von Hindenburg's physicians had issued a reassuring bulletin although they admitted the president's condition was causing grave anxiety because of his advanced age—he will be 87 in October.

RUMORED DEAD.
GENEVA, July 31.—Rumors were circulated at League of Nations headquarters today that President Von Hindenburg is dead but that Chancellor Hitler has ordered official announcement of his death held up temporarily.

Discuss Presidency.
BERLIN, July 31.—Their vacation interrupted by word from Neudeck that President Von Hindenburg was dying, Chancellor Hitler and Dr. Joseph Paul Goebbels, minister of propaganda, arrived here by plane from Bayreuth, Bavaria at 4:15 this afternoon and drove immediately to the Chancellery.

Hitler and Goebbels immediately summoned those cabinet officers who are still in Berlin.

Gracie Allen Says Russia Is No Place For Women

(International News Service)
PARIS, July 31.—George Burns is really the dumb member of the team, Gracie Allen explained in dead seriousness when the famous radio and moving picture pair arrived here today from a Russian journey.

"Oh, yes indeed he is," said Gracie seriously. "He arranged the trip from New York to Moscow to see the theaters there, and when we arrived all the theaters were closed because of the summer and we had to spend all our time in the museums."

"Our guides paraded us in front of an exhibit of the evolution of the U. S. S. R. In the first picture was a peasant without shoes, in the middle and the last photographs the peasants were still without shoes and then we went out into the streets and saw the same peasants still without shoes."

"The U. S. S. R. is no place for women. They do all the work. It's they who are building the Moscow subway knee-deep in mud without shoes and stockings. We saw a big building under construction. Its they who mix mortar and do the hardest labor. The American unemployed live like Dukes compared to the workers in the Soviet."

There were two schools of intrigue. One supported the active claim of Archduke Otto, son of the former Empress Zita, to the Austrian throne.

There was a pretense of epaulettes of mystery and romance. Cleveland has evidenced no enthusiasm for the royal call.

But a powerful group of Royalists Hapsburgs! Led by Countess Maria Larisch, niece of Empress Elizabeth, wife of the late Emperor Franz Joseph, of the Austrian Empire, is urging Cleveland to bid for the throne.

The countess points out that Cleveland is the native son of Crown Prince Rudolph, of Austria, and therefore direct heir to the crown. Otto is the son of Emperor Charles who was only the nephew of Emperor Franz Joseph.

Monday evening's cloudburst saw the heaviest downpour recorded since April 5, 1929 and was the second heaviest rainfall in the history of the United States Weather Observation station here, according to the records available, Weather Observer B. F. Johnson stated this morning.

In about three hours last evening 2.67 inches of rain fell, exceeded only by the record downpour of 2.62 inches on April 5, 1929.

It was probably the heaviest rainfall in as short a period of time as has been noted for many years. The record downpour in April 1929 fell from midnight to 9 o'clock (Continued On Page Two)

With the manhole covers off, the torrent shot out of the sewers three feet into the air and joined the already swelling flood that was coursing down East Washington street.

The biggest volume of water was between Butler avenue and the bridge on East Washington street. Joined with large volumes of water out of Chestnut, County Line and Court streets the head of water at Kurtz street was such that in a few minutes it was over the curb and into the store rooms.

Tons of earth were carried along in the rush and the excavation for the new pavements on the west side of East Washington street looked like the whirlpool rapids. Today workmen are engaged shovelling out the dirt down to the concrete foundation.

Croton avenue was probably the worst spot in the city. New Life Courses Through Veins Of Royal Austrians In United States

By DAVID P. SENTNER

NEW YORK, July 31.—New life coursed through the dilapidated colony of Austrian Monarchists today.

The royal refugees, who have come on evil days since the Hapsburg dynasty founded, neglected their jobs as piano teachers, waiters, governesses, cooks, nurse maids, chauffeurs and bartenders to anticipate the return of the glory that once was theirs.

Toasts were drunk to the restoration. Court uniforms and laces were brought forth from dusty trunks. Intrigue was in the air.

Brown Shirts To Resume Duties

(International News Service)
BERLIN, July 31.—Victor Lutze, commander of the Nazi "Brown Shirt" Storm Troops, announced today that the vacation of the Storm Troopers, which began after the "Roehm revolt" of June 30, would end tomorrow and that the troops would resume their full duties. He did not indicate whether any reductions in the numerical strength of the "Brown Shirts" had been made during the vacation.

Marie Dressler Funeral Today

Only Intimate Friends Of Actress To Attend Ceremony

FILM DIRECTORS ARE PALLBEARERS

(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, July 31.—Hollywood was to bury Marie Dressler today.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios, home of her greatest film triumphs, flew its flag at half-mast.

The film colony was plunged in deepest grief, sorrowing over the death of Miss Dressler, "The Grand Old Lady" of pictures.

The funeral services were to be conducted inside the closed gates of Forest Lawn Memorial Park where 100 intimate friends will say their last farewell to the noted actress.

The services will be simple. Jeanette MacDonald, actress, will sing "Abide With Me." Organ music will be played by Catherine Lewis, who played on the set while Miss Dressler made many of her pictures; there will be a brief eulogy by the Rev. Neal Dodd.

Pallbearers will be Clarence Brown, Jack Conway, Mervyn Leroy, Charles Reisner, William K. Howard and William S. Van Dyke.

Four of them were directors of Miss Dressler's pictures.

A crypt in the sanctuary of benediction at Forest Lawn will be Miss Dressler's last resting place.

Mrs. Dall Given Divorce Decree
Brief Hearing Is Held Behind Closed Doors In Nevada Court

(International News Service)
RENO, Nev. July 31.—Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, daughter of President and Mrs. Roosevelt who divorced Curtis Dall, New York broker yesterday at nearby Minden, Nev., today veiled her plans for departure in secrecy.

Mrs. Dall won a divorce decree after a brief hearing behind closed doors in the courtroom of Judge Clark J. Guild who also granted the divorce last year of Elizabeth Donner Roosevelt from Elliott Roosevelt, a son of the President.

Mrs. Dall refused to discuss the case either before or after her court appearance and as soon as the papers were signed returned to Reno. Agreements made over property and custody of the two Dall children "Sistie" and "Buzzie" were not disclosed.

Merchant Suffers Broken Leg In Auto Accident On East Side

Charles T. Metzler, of 404 Park avenue, well known businessman, is in the New Castle hospital, suffering with a fractured left leg, the result of an automobile accident which occurred on East Washington street, near Cascade park, about 3:30 o'clock, Monday afternoon. His condition this afternoon was described as good.

James Jones, driver of the other vehicle which figured in the collision, and his daughter Edith, of R. F. D. No. 3, New Castle, received treatment for brush burns and slight lacerations about the face, in the Jameson Memorial hospital. They were able to return to their home after the minor injuries were treated.

According to Highway Patrolman Holm, Mr. Metzler was driving east and Jones was operating west. Mr. Metzler stated this morning that he was waiting to make a left hand turn near Cascade park, when the two automobiles crashed head on. Just where the Jones car came from, is a mystery to Mr. Metzler, he stated.

Both cars were badly damaged. Mr. Metzler's left leg was fractured two inches below the knee.

Much Of That Leveled By Monday's Storm Will Rise Again Says Farmer

What will be the effect on corn that was leveled by the storm Monday evening? Will it straighten up, and if it does not, will it mature lying on the ground? Jack Frew of New Wilmington, who used to operate a farm east of this city, answered this question which was propounded by a bunch of cityites who were discussing the corn situation in Alderman Mantz's office this morning.

The warning, of course, was seen as one directed at Italy, whose troops have been massed along the Austro Italian border since the day following the chancellor's murder.

BOTH FOUND GUILTY AFTER COURT TRIAL

Verdict Of Court Martial Trial Is Speedily Carried Out

By ALFRED TYRNAUER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, July 31.—Otto Planetta and Franz Holzweber were executed today. They were hanged within three hours after a court martial had found Planetta guilty of the murder of the late Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss and Holzweber guilty of high treason.

"They were the first Nazis to pay the penalty for the bold attempt of July to seize control of the Austrian government."

The men were hanged at 4:25 o'clock (11:25 a. m. E. D. T.) they had been found guilty shortly after 1:30 o'clock.

Refuse Clemency Plea
The sentences were carried out after President Wilhelm Miklas had refused their plea for clemency. Since then there was no appeal from a court martial verdict, a presidential pardon was their only hope for life.

PRESIDENT TO REACH PORTLAND THURSDAY

Vacation Trip Is Nearing End

Roosevelt To Visit Federal Projects On Trip Across United States

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO GREET HER HUSBAND

(International News Service) ABOARD U. S. S. HOUSTON, July 31.—President Roosevelt was nearing the end of his long vacation cruise today aboard the U. S. S. Houston.

Three days out of Honolulu, after a five-day stop in the "paradise" of the Pacific, the cruiser swung into the north Pacific ocean steamer lane today, approximately 1,000 off the mainland.

To inspect projects the president has temporarily turned his thoughts from a vast amount of first hand information regarding the economic, military and naval needs of the Hawaiian Islands to the inspection tour of federal projects which he will make during the overland journey from Portland to Washington.

The Houston is expected to reach the mouth of the Columbia river Thursday and then proceed up the river to Portland where Mrs. Roosevelt will greet her distinguished husband and two of her sons who accompanied the president on the long cruise down the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal, half-way across the Pacific to the Hawaiian group and thence back to the mainland.

Holzweber was the first to die on the hangman's gibbet. His death struggle lasted seven minutes. Planetta was hanged immediately afterward.

Neither of the condemned men made any statement as they went to the gallows. Each had been permitted to see his wife for a brief moment of farewell.

Only officials were admitted to the courtyard where the death sentences were carried out. The death sentence was imposed by the court within few minutes after attorneys for the state and for the defense had completed their summations of the evidence.

Even the summations were brief, requiring only an hour and a half after the court had summarily halted the taking of evidence, declaring no more testimony was necessary.

Planetta had confessed that he fired the shot which killed Austria's "martyred" chancellor. Before the military court, presided over by Gen. Albert Oberberger, he claimed he had merely fired at a figure that "rushed past in the dark" as he was confronted by a "tall man" after the raiding Nazis had stormed the chancellor on July 25.

reputed to have been made by Planetta declared he shot Dolffuss for revenge because he had been discharged from the army for his Nazi activities and that he fired at the chancellor in his office "without exchanging a word."

Holzweber was the leader of the group of 144 Nazis that entered the chancellery that fateful afternoon of last Wednesday in an abortive attempt to seize the government and establish a Nazi state in Austria.

Planetta and Holzweber were the first to be tried and the first to pay the penalty for the ill-fated attempt to drive from the power the chancellor who had fought the Nazis bitterly during the two years of his regime.

The effect on Hindenberg's death in the present international crisis centering around the events in Vienna is bound to be tremendous. Despite his advanced years the hero of Tannenberg and the Marston Lake battles with the Russians in the early war days has played a very important role in Germany's political affairs, foreign as well as domestic.

Check Upon Hitler. Though he has publicly approved many acts of the Hitler regime, including the June 30 "purgings" of the Nazis and the mass executions of the chancellor's foes, the impression has prevailed that he has expressed a decided check upon Hitler. Vice-chancellor von Papen was Hindenberg's political protégé and there are many who believe von Papen might have suffered a worse fate than being detained under "protective arrest" in the stirring days of the "purgings" had it not been for the president's known friendship for him.

With having turned down the tender of some of Hitler's speeches on foreign politics and with having advised him against approving sorties by radical elements within the Nazi Reich that might have embarrassed the Reich in her foreign relations.

Hitler To Be President? Theoretically the chief justice of the Reich, Dr. Erwin Bumke, would denounce the death, pending the election of a new president but it is believed he would immediately delete the presidential duties to Hindenberg.

The Reichstag recently fully empowered the government to change and adjust existing laws applying to the succession to the presidency. In case Hitler took over the presidency it is not believed likely that he might call elections though he might later order some sort of referendum to endorse his move in taking over the office as Reich's leader, thus elevating himself to a position something similar to that of an American president.

Dr. Bumke is 60 years old, a conservative and prominent jurist with no party inclinations.

"Although the attitude is taken that events in Austria are of a purely internal character, and although every measure is being taken to preserve good neighborly relations with Austria, the Yugoslav government is of the opinion that, in the case of special complications, the League of Nations is the only competent authority to decide the international question as an international measure or intervention would be a violation of peace treaties and could lead to further consequences."

"Any misrepresentation of the attitude of the Yugoslav authorities toward Austria will be most vigorously repudiated."

a terrific bolt, which seemed to strike on the North Hill last night. The streak of lightning seemed to flash from sky to earth and back to sky again, several times.

Many an auto driver discovered during the night that his car was in the role of a submarine. Many cars were disabled while attempting to plow through a foot or so of water.

"Was a great night for campers, especially those living in tents, along the streams, or who chance to be in the lowlands. Such a volume of water has not fallen for many months."

Residents of the North Hill who travel North on the Erie Railroad, complaining last week about the Sahara desert nature of the strip not paved between Sherdan and Euclid, this morning decided the Atlantic ocean, instead, night and today the furrows are a foot deep.

One needn't have been blind to run into things around town last night, especially during the deluge. It was noted that this morning at the corner of Mercer and one's way and that a workman was digging it up in an effort to straighten it out.

The Y. M. C. A. swimming instructor can be proud of some of his pupils for while camping at Conasaugus, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, 705 County Line street, swam across the lake and he proudly says he took his swimming instruction at the Y.

That rain storm last night was a real test to the drainage systems on a lot of roofs, no doubt, but the office on the public square reeled downer. Construction Engineer E. Myers said the drains served well.

While the talk of the storm, continued there were references to "these men drivers." Parties discussing whom they said drove at full speed through deep pools of water last night, splashing everything and everybody.

Well, the street car company and the taxi firms tell you that during the storm they did a whooping business!

Just when the government is trying to reduce crops by planting less, and paying farmers for curtailing their acreage, mother nature seems to resent the idea by being unusually prolific. John Jones, of Slippery Rock township, in commenting on the corn crop today, says that he never saw so many stalks bearing fields this year. In some fields he estimates that seven out of ten stalks bear two ears.

All the way down Washington street to the Public Square one could take a boat and motor over and through streets were in similar condition. Lightning added to the fury and in some districts electric lights were out for half an hour. Some out of order.

Trains east and west on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad were delayed for half an hour when the connecting bus from New Castle to the junction was stalled at the Lawrence school on Atlantic avenue. Passengers had to be transferred by taxicabs.

Church Gets Water The boiler rooms of the Lawrence Ice and Storage were flooded from the point of extinction of the fire. The boiler room of the Epworth M. E. church was flooded and part of the dining room was under water.

Atlantic Avenue was blocked on the west side due to the tons of debris that came rushing down from the side streets. At several points, particularly Crawford Ridge, the bridge was heavy enough to block traffic on that side, but the Highway Department was on the job before the rain cut and getting traffic started.

South Hill street also received tons of debris from hill streets. At Taylor high, the west end of Mahoning avenue received several tons of brick bats and other debris that were shed from an area of dirt a foot thick for fifty yards.

Many Trees Broken Off Trees were broken off although the wind was not heavy enough to uproot any in the city. Many beautiful trees were disfigured when huge branches were laid on the ground. One was snapped off on the Grant street and fell across the cartway.

Scores of citizens were marooned on Washington street in their automobiles and the taxicabs did a rush to get citizens climbing out of their cars into taxicabs with the water rushing beneath them.

By five o'clock the storm had subsided but not until the city had been swept with the heaviest rainfall in years.

Lightning Strikes Home Henry Jackson, 704 N. Monmouth Boulevard, a few minutes after 5 o'clock this evening, during the height of the storm, firemen were called to the scene by a telephoned alarm, but on arriving were unable to find any fire and no damage to the home, according to their report.

Several cellars located near the corner of East Long avenue and with water. Following the storm, several chimneys were torn off. South Side district were torn off.

Although there were many washouts on the roads of the Pennsylvania State Highway system, there was no serious damage done by last evening's storm. Superintendent of Highways, H. W. Lightner stated this morning.

There was lots of debris on the state roads this morning, and a large force of men was put to work cleaning away the dirt. In places, cast iron drain pipes were washed out of the ground as they were unable to stand the tremendous flow of water which descended in a short period of time.

There were no serious landslides reported, Mr. Lightner stated, but in many places earth was washed onto the roads which will have to be cleared away.

Rail Trouble Not Serious At the Pennsylvania railroad's division office here officials reported "no serious damage" from the violent storm. They said that emergency crews speedily took care of the minor breaks which occurred in communication lines. These breaks were few.

While the storm raged here, Superintendent E. S. Reed and Trainmaster B. E. Myers were at the far end of the Erie and Ashtabula division territory, at Ashtabula, O. There it was not until they reached Youngstown and their return that they became aware of a rainstorm.

Carmel Glover, commissioner of streets, stated today that a force of six trucks and about 30 men is at work clearing away the debris. He declared no complaints had been received concerning sewers although yesterday's sudden storm.

The water at the corner of East Washington street and Orono avenue was the highest since 1913, according to Charles O'Brien, clerk in the streets department. It was across the street deep. It rushed across the street level with the New Castle Dry Goods Co. store.

The department of streets removed several trees which were blown down or undermined by water. One of them was in Liberty street and another at Grant street and broken from trees in the vicinity of Blaine street and Boyles avenue were hauled away.

One of the thoroughfares seriously affected was Atlantic avenue. The section near Crawford Ridge home was particularly affected. Tons of dirt and debris were blown into the cartway and were seriously affected district was removed.

Plate Glass Broken The storm is held responsible for several automobile accidents. Wet streets on the auto of Sandy Muse, 209 Grant street, caused the car to run over the curb in South Jefferson street. The machine plunged into and broke the big plate glass at the Emergency Relief headquarters.

Walter Farnell, 1407 Francis Place, reported there were cars parked during the storm on both sides of Croton avenue near the city toolhouse and a car which had been parked on the wrong side of the street pulled from the curb. Farnell could not drive through a gasoline station.

Light Service Affected Today one could see the havoc caused by the storm. Seven truckloads of dirt had been removed from Croton and Washington street. Four truckloads were removed from Butler avenue and Washington street and these were only two of the affected zones.

Highland avenue primary electric line was down. This affected light service for some time. Police department sergeants received calls about outages and in turn notified out in some sections of Croton avenue and also in the Delaware, Leas-

Small Girl Hit By Automobile

Paul Butler, 911 Court street, reported to city police yesterday that about 4:30 p. m. a small girl ran from the north to the south side of West Long avenue, between Scott and South Jefferson street and when she struck his car was knocked down. He desired to take her to a physician. Another small girl took her home, Butler reported.

RAIN HEAVIEST IN FIVE YEARS

next morning a period of nine hours. Last night's rain fell almost entirely within a three hour period.

Other Records Other record rains occurred on September 28, 1924, August 22, 1928 and August 12, 1931 when 2.25 inches of rain fell on each of these occasions.

The Shenango river rose to a height of five feet during the night, from the low point of three and a half feet yesterday subsiding to 4.3 feet this morning, showing the storm was mostly local in character.

Some Idea Of Volume Just to give you an idea of how much 2.67 inches of rainfall amounts to, weather experts have figured that an inch of rainfall amounts to 113 tons of rain per acre. In other words, 301.71 tons of rain fell on every acre of ground in New Castle district last evening, which is a lot of water. The wonder is that it did not do far more damage than it did.

PRESIDENT TO REACH PORTLAND THURSDAY

Vacation Trip Is Nearing End

Roosevelt To Visit Federal Projects On Trip Across United States

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO GREET HER HUSBAND

(International News Service) ABOARD U. S. S. HOUSTON, July 31.—President Roosevelt was nearing the end of his long vacation cruise today aboard the U. S. S. Houston.

Three days out of Honolulu, after a five-day stop in the "paradise of the Pacific," the cruiser swung into the north Pacific ocean steamer lane today, approximately 1,000 off the mainland.

To Inspect Projects The president has temporarily turned his thoughts from a vast amount of first hand information regarding the economic, military and naval needs of the Hawaiian Islands to the inspection tour of federal projects which he will make during the overland journey from Portland to Washington.

The Houston is expected to reach the mouth of the Columbia river Thursday and then proceed up the river to Portland where Mrs. Roosevelt will greet her distinguished husband and two of their sons who accompanied the president on the long cruise down the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal, half-way across the Pacific to the Hawaiian group and thence back to the mainland.

EXECUTE TWO FOR SLAYING OF DOLLFUSS

rest of the world, was waiting to learn whether death also would be the fate of these other rebels. Dollfuss was the first to die on the gallows. His death sentence was pronounced last night. Planetta was hanged immediately afterward.

Neither of the condemned men made any statement as they went to the gallows. Each had been permitted to see his wife for a brief moment of farewell.

Only officials were admitted to the courtyard where the death sentences were carried out.

The death sentence was imposed by the court within a few minutes after attorneys for the state and the defense had completed their summations of the evidence.

Even the summations were brief, requiring only about an hour and a half after the court had summarily halted the taking of evidence, declaring no more testimony was necessary.

Planetta had confessed that he fired the shots which killed Austria's "martyred chancellor." Before the military court, presided over by Gen. Albert Oberweger, he claimed he had merely fired at a figure that "rushed past in the dark" as he was confronted by a "tail man" after the raiding Nazis had stormed the chancellery on July 25.

reputed to have been made by Planetta declared he shot Dollfuss for revenge because he had been discharged from the army for his Nazi activities and that he fired at the chancellor in his office "without exchanging a word."

Holzweber was the leader of the group of 14 Nazis that entered the chancellery that fateful afternoon of last Wednesday in an abortive attempt to seize the government and establish a Nazi state in Austria.

Planetta and Holzweber were the first to be tried and the first to pay the penalty for the ill-fated attempt to drive from the power the chancellor who had fought the Nazis bitterly during the two years of his regime.

VON HINDENBURG SLOWLY SINKING; FEAR DEATH NEAR

the event of Von Hindenburg's death was under discussion.

The effect on Hindenburg's death in the present international crisis centering around the events in Vienna is bound to be tremendous. Despite his advanced years the hero of Tannenberg and the Marston Lake battles with the Russians in the early war days has played a very important role in Germany's political affairs, foreign as well as domestic.

Check Upon Hitler. Though he has publicly approved many acts of the Hitler regime, including the June 30 "purgings" of the Nazis and the mass executions of the chancellor's foes, the impression has prevailed that he has exercised a decided check upon Hitler. Vice Chancellor von Papen was Hindenburg's political protégé and that he is many who believe von Papen might have suffered a worse fate than being detained under "protective arrest" in the stringing days of the "purgings" had it not been for the president's known friendship for him.

Von Hindenburg is also credited with having held down the reins of some of Hitler's speeches on foreign politics and with having advised him against approving sorties by radical elements within the Nazi party that might have embarrassed the Reich in his foreign relations.

Hitler To Be President?

Theoretically the chief justice of the Reich, Dr. Erwin Bumke, would become acting president upon Hindenburg's death, pending the election of a new president. But it is believed he would immediately delegate the presidential duties to Hitler.

The Reichstag recently fully empowered the government to change and adjust existing laws applying to the succession to the presidency. In case Hitler took over the presidency it is believed that he would call elections though he might later order some sort of a referendum to endorse his move in taking over the office as Reich's leader, thus elevating himself to a position something similar to that of an American president.

machine gun and some revolvers have been taken along the line from Maribor to Dravograd. They were immediately dispersed and interned. All the refugees were young men.

"Although the attitude is taken that events in Austria are of a purely internal character, and although every measure is being taken to preserve good neighborly relations with Austria, the Yugoslav government is of the opinion that, in the case of special complications, the League of Nations is the only competent authority to decide the Austrian question as an international problem. Every other one-sided measure or intervention would be a violation of peace treaties and could lead to further consequences."

"Any misrepresentation of the attitude of the Yugoslav authorities toward Austria will be most vigorously repudiated."

The average daily water consumption per capita for six German cities having a total population of 1,000,000 is 35 to 40 gallons. In six cities in the United States of comparable size, the average daily use is about 130 gallons.

PA NEW OBSERVES

A terrific bolt, which seemed to strike the North Hill let loose. The stroke of lightning seemed to flash from sky to earth and back to sky again, several times.

Many an auto driver discovered during the terrific storm of yesterday that an auto will not perform in the role of a submarine. Many cars were disabled while attempting to plow through a foot or so of water that came down many of the street.

Corn fields all over the country are showing the effects of the storm of last night practically all of the corn having a decided leaning tendency this morning.

"Twas a great night for campers, especially those living in tents, along the streams, or who chanced to be in the lowlands, such a volume of water has not fallen for many months."

Residents of the North Hill who travel North Mercer street, above Sheridan, complaining last week about the Sahara desert nature of the strip not paved between Sheridan and Euclid, this morning decided the newly-scraped surface resembled the Atlantic ocean, instead, for it was covered with water last night and today the furrows are a foot deep.

One needn't have been blind to run into things around town last night, especially during the deluge about supper time, and this morning, it was noted that the water plug at the corner of Mercer and Grant street had gotten into someone's way and that a workman was digging it up in an effort to straighten it out.

Pa New's statement last night to the effect that rain was badly needed, seemed to get results—the big rain of last evening came down about the time that most folks were reading of the need for rain in this district.

The Y. M. C. A. swimming instructor can be proud of some of his pupils for while camping at Conestoga Lake last week, Walter Thomas, the 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, 765 County Line street, swam across the lake and he proudly says he took his swimming instruction at the Y.

That rain of last night was a real test to the drainage systems on a lot of roofs, no doubt, but the drains on the roof of the new post office on the public square received their first heavy load with that downpour. Construction Engineer Miles E. Myers said the drains served well.

While the talk of the storm continued there were references in more than one instance to "these mean drivers." Parties discussing them were describing those drivers when they said drove at full speed through deep pools of water last night, splashing everything and everybody.

Well, the street car company and the taxi firms will tell you that during the storm they did a whooping business!

Just when the government is trying to reduce crops by planting less, and paying farmers for curtailing their acreage, mother nature seems to resent the idea by being unusually prolific. John Jones of Slippery Rock township, in commenting on the corn crop today, says that he never saw so many stalks bearing two ears, as can be found in the fields this year. In some fields he estimates that seven out of ten stalks bear two ears.

NEWS BRIEFS

International News Service

FACES MURDER CHARGE UNIONTOWN, Pa., July 31.—A murder charge faced Joseph Hernandez, brotherhood unionist, today as he walked away from the shooting to death at footlock of Joseph Shultz, 24, Uniontown miner.

The charge followed a coroner's inquest at which county Detective Jack Hann testified that Hernandez admitted he fired one shot.

HOLD REQUIEM MASS PARIS, July 31.—Three thousand persons attended a requiem mass in the historic Notre Dame cathedral for the late Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, of Austria. Among them were foreign Minister Louis Barthou and other members of the French cabinet. The Mass was celebrated by the United States ambassador and virtually the entire diplomatic corps.

TERRIFIC DELUGE IN STORM CAUSES DAMAGE IN CITY

mobiles were marooned there, unable to start because of flooded ignitions.

All the way down Washington street to the Public Square one could have floated a boat and Mercer and South streets were in similar condition. Lightning added to the fun and in some districts electric lights were out for half an hour. Some telephone lines were hit and put out of order.

Trains east and west on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad were delayed for half an hour when the connecting bus from New Castle to the junction was stalled at the Lawrence school on Atlantic avenue. Passengers had to be transferred by taxicabs.

Church Gets Water The boiler rooms of the Lawrence Ice and Storage were flooded almost to the point of extinction of the fires. The boiler room of the Epworth M. E. church was flooded, and part of the dining room was under water.

Atlantic Avenue was blocked on the west side due to the tons of debris that came rushing down from the side streets. At several points, particularly Crawford Ridge, the debris was heavy enough to block traffic on that side, but the Highway Department was on the job before the rain quit falling, getting the debris off and getting traffic started.

South Hill street also received tons of dirt from hill street. At Taylor and Mill the debris was piled high. The west end of Mahoning avenue received several tons of brick bats and clinder that were washed out of higher spots. Butler avenue and an area of dirt a foot thick for fifty yards.

Many Trees Broken Off Trees were broken off, although the wind was not heavy enough to uproot any in the city. Many beautiful shade trees were disfigured when huge branches came crashing down around. One tree was snapped off on Grant street and fell across the cartway.

Scores of citizens were marooned on Washington street in their automobiles and the taxicabs did a rush business taking a common sight to citizens climbing out of their cars into taxicabs with the water rushing beneath them.

By five o'clock the storm had spent itself but until the city had been swept with the heaviest rainfall in years.

Lightning Strikes Home Lightning struck the home of Henry Jackson, 104 Nesheon Boulevard, a few minutes after 5 o'clock this evening, during the height of the storm. Firemen were called to the scene by a telephoned alarm, but on arriving, were unable to find any fire and no damage to the home, according to their report.

Several cellars located near the corner of East Long avenue and Hamilton street were nearly filled with water, following the torrential storm. Several chimneys in the South Side district were torn off.

No serious damage was done, although there were many washouts on the roads of the Pennsylvania State Highway system in the county, there was no serious damage done by last evening's storm. Superintendent of Highways, H. W. Lightner stated this morning.

There was lots of debris on the state roads this morning, and a large force of men was put to work cleaning away the dirt. In some cases, cast iron drain pipes were washed out of the ground as they were unable to carry off the water, and they had to be cleared away.

Rail Trouble Not Serious At the Pennsylvania railroad's division office here officials reported "no serious damage" from the violent storm. They said that emergency crews speedily took care of the minor breaks which occurred in communication lines. These breaks were few.

While the storm raged here, Superintendent E. S. Reed and Trainmaster B. E. Myers were at the far end of the Erie and Ashtabula division territory, at Ashtabula, O., and they reported no storm broke there. It was not until they reached Youngstown on their return that they became aware of a rainstorm.

Carmel Glover, commissioner of streets, stated today that a force of six trucks and about 30 men is at work clearing away the debris. He declared no complaints had been received concerning owners although they were inadequate to assimilate yesterday's sudden storm.

The water at the corner of East Washington street and Croton avenue was the highest since 1913, according to Charles O'Brien, clerk of the streets department. It was at least two feet deep. It rushed across the Kurtz property and reached a height level with the New Castle Dry Goods Co. store step.

The department of streets removed several trees which were blown down or undermined by water. One of them was in Liberty street and another at Grant street and Norris way. Limbs which were broken from trees in the vicinity of Blaine street and Boyles avenue were hauled away.

The section near Crawford Oak Ridge home was particularly affected. Tons of dirt and debris were washed into the cartway and another seriously affected district was Butler avenue and East Washington street.

Plate Glass Broken The storm is held responsible for several automobile accidents. Wet brakes on the auto of Sandy Muse, 209 Green street, caused the car to run over the curb in South Jefferson street. The machine plunged into and broke the big plate glass at the Emergency Relief headquarters.

Walter Fagnall, 1407 Francis Place, reported there were cars parked during the storm on both sides of Croton avenue near the city toolhouse and a car which had been parked on the wrong side of the street pulled from the curb. Fagnall could not drive between them and hit an auto parked near a gasoline station.

Light Service Affected Today one could see the havoc caused by the storm. Seven truckloads of dirt had been removed from Croton and Washington street. Piles remained yet to be removed. Four truckloads were removed from Butler avenue and Washington street and these were only two of the affected zones.

A highland avenue primary electric line was down. This affected light service for some time. Police department sergeants received calls about outages and in turn notified the electric company. Lights were out in some sections of Croton avenue, in the Memo-Grove street district and also in the Delaware-Leasure and Winter avenue sector.

Harry Hoskins, city engineer, said the storm caused damage in Mahoning avenue. Some amnesia had been placed there preparatory to reurfacing between the railroad crossing and Liberty street. It was washed away. However, the storm did not affect the Sampson street job, he added.

PRESIDENT TO REACH PORTLAND THURSDAY

Vacation Trip Is Nearing End

Roosevelt To Visit Federal Projects On Trip Across United States

MRS. ROOSEVELT TO GREET HER HUSBAND

(International News Service)
ABOARD U. S. S. HOUSTON, July 31.—President Roosevelt was nearing the end of his long vacation cruise today aboard the U. S. S. Houston.

Three days out of Honolulu, after a five-day stop in the "paradise of the Pacific," the cruiser swung into the north Pacific ocean steamer lane today, approximately 1,000 off the mainland.

To Inspect Projects

The president has temporarily turned his thoughts from a vast amount of first hand information regarding the economic, military and naval needs of the Hawaiian Islands to the inspection tour of federal projects which he will make during the overland journey from Portland to Washington.

The Houston is expected to reach the mouth of the Columbia river Thursday and then proceed up the river to Portland where Mrs. Roosevelt will greet her distinguished husband and two of their sons who accompanied the president on the long cruise down the Atlantic, through the Panama Canal, half way across the Pacific to the Hawaiian group and thence back to the mainland.

rest of the world, was waiting to learn whether death also would be the fate of these other rebels.

Holzweber was the first to die on the gallows. His death sentence was pronounced last week.

Neither of the condemned men made any statement as they went to the gallows. Each had been permitted to see his wife for a brief moment of farewell.

Only officials were admitted to the courtyard where the death sentences were carried out.

The death sentence was imposed by the court within a few minutes after attorneys for the state and for the defense had completed their summations of the evidence.

Planetta had confessed that he fired the shots which killed Austria's "martyred chancellor." Before the military court, presided over by Gen. Albert Oberberger, he claimed he had merely fired at a figure that "rushed past in the dark" as he was confronted by a "tall man" after the raiding Nazis had stormed the chancellery on July 25.

VON HINDENBURG SLOWLY SINKING; FEAR DEATH NEAR

The event of Von Hindenburg's death was under discussion.

The effect on Hindenburg's death in the present international crisis centering around the events in Vienna is bound to be tremendous. Despite his advanced years the hero of Tannenberg and the Mazurian Lake battles with the Russians in the early war days has played a very important role in Germany's political affairs, foreign as well as domestic.

Check Upon Hitler

Though he has publicly approved many acts of the Hitler regime, including the June 30 "purging" of the Nazis and the mass executions of the chancellor's foes, the impression has prevailed that he has exercised a decided check upon Hitler. Vice Chancellor von Papen was Hindenburg's political protege and there are many who believe von Papen might have suffered a worse fate than being detained under "protective arrest" in the stirring days of the "purging" had it not been for the president's known friendship for him.

Von Hindenburg is also credited with having toned down the tenor of some of Hitler's speeches on foreign politics and with having advised him against approving sorties by radical elements within the Nazi party that might have embarrassed the Reich in his foreign relations.

Hitler To Be President?

Theoretically the chief justice of the Reich, Dr. Erwin Bumke, would become acting president upon Hindenburg's death, pending the election of a new president but it is believed he would immediately delegate the presidential duties to Hitler.

The Reichstag recently fully empowered the government to change to the succession to the presidency in case Hitler took over the presidency it is not believed likely that he would call elections though he might later order some sort of referendum.

Dr. Bumke is 60 years old, a Conservative and prominent jurist with no party inclinations.

machine gun and some revolvers have been taken along the line from Maribor to Dravograd. They were immediately disarmed and interned. All the refugees were young men.

"Although the attitude is taken that events in Austria are of a purely internal character, and although every measure is being taken to preserve good neighborly relations with Austria, the Yugoslav government is of the opinion that, in the case of special complications, the League of Nations is the only competent authority to decide the national problem. Every other one-sided measure or intervention would be a violation of peace treaties and could lead to further consequences."

"Any misrepresentative of the attitude of the Yugoslav authorities toward Austria will be most vigorously repudiated."

PA NEW OBSERVES

a terrific bolt, which seemed to strike on the North Hill last night. The streak of lightning seemed to flash from sky to earth and back to sky again, several times.

Many an auto driver discovered during the terrific storm of yesterday that an auto will not perform the role of a submarine. Many cars were disabled while attempting to plow through a foot or so of water that came down many of the street.

Corn fields all over the country are showing the effects of the storm. The night practically all of the corn having a decided leaning tendency this morning.

"Twas a great night for campers, especially those living in tents, along the streams, or who happened to be in the lowlands. Such a volume of water has not fallen for many months."

Residents of the North Hill who travel North Mercer street, above Sheridan, complaining last night about the Sahara desert nature of the strip not paved between Sheridan and Euclid, this morning decided the newly scraped surface resembled the Atlantic ocean, instead, for it was covered with water last night and today the furrows are a foot deep.

One needn't have been blind to run into things around town last night, especially during the deluge. It was noted that the water plug at the corner of Mercer and Grant street had gotten into some of the one's way and that a workman was digging it up in an effort to straighten it out.

One of Pa New's family took no chances on wetting his shoes Monday afternoon while wading about downtown to get his car during the rain storm. He took off his shoes and socks, rolled his trousers about his knees and bravely went forth to ford the rivers formed about Mercer and North streets.

Pa New's statement last night to the effect that rain was badly needed, seemed to get results—the big rain of five years came down about the time that most folks were reading of the need for rain in this district.

The Y. M. C. A. swimming instructor can be proud of some of his pupils for while camping at Conasaugus Lake last week Wilbur Thomas, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas, 705 County Line street, swam across the lake and he proudly says he took his swimming instruction at the Y.

That rain storm last night was a real test to the drainage systems on a lot of roofs, no doubt, but the drains on the roof of the new post office on the public square received their first heavy load with that downpour. Construction Engineer Miles E. Myers said the drains served well.

While the talk of the storm continued there were references to more than one instance to "these mean drivers." Parties discussing them were describing those drivers whom they said drove at full speed through deep pools of water last night, splashing everything and everybody.

Well, the street car company and the taxi firms will tell you that during the storm they did a whooping business!

Just when the government is trying to reduce crops by planting less, and paying farmers for curtailing their acreage, mother nature seems to resent the idea by being unusually prolific. John Jones, of Slippery Rock township, in commenting on the corn crop today, says that he never saw so many stalks bearing two ears as can be found in the estimates that seven out of ten stalks bear two ears.

mobiles were marooned there, unable to start because of flooded ignitions.

All the way down Washington street to the Public Square one could see a boat and Mercer and South streets were in similar condition. Lightning added to the fury and in some districts electric lights were out for half an hour. Some telephone lines were hit and put out of order.

Trains east and west on the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad were delayed for half an hour when the connecting bus from New Castle to the junction was stalled at the Lawrence school on Atlantic avenue. Passengers had to be transferred by taxicabs.

Church Gets Water The broiler rooms of the Lawrence Ice and Storage were flooded during the storm to the point of extinction of the fire.

The boiler room of the Epworth M. E. church was flooded, and part of the dining room was under water.

Atlantic Avenue was blocked on the west side due to the tons of debris that came rushing down from the side streets. At several points, debris was heavy enough to block traffic on that side, but the high water kept the rain quit falling, getting the debris off and getting traffic started.

South Hill street also received tons of dirt from hill streets. At Taylor and Mill the debris was piled high. The west end of Mahoning avenue received several tons of brick bats and clinder that were washed down from the roof of a building.

Many Trees Broken Off Trees were broken off, although the wind was not heavy enough to uproot any in the city. Many beautiful shade trees were disfigured when huge branches were laid on the ground. One tree was snapped off on Grant street and fell across the carten-way.

Scores of citizens were marooned on Washington street in their automobiles and the taxicabs did a rush business. It was a common sight to see citizens climbing out of their cars into taxicabs with the water rushing beneath them.

By five o'clock the storm had spent itself but not until the city had been swept with the heaviest rainfall in years.

Lightning Strikes Home Henry Jackson, 704 Neshaunook boulevard, was minutes after 5 o'clock this evening, during the height of the storm. Fireworks were called to the scene by the alarm, but on arriving, were unable to find any fire and no damage to the home, according to their report.

Several cellars located near the corner of East Long avenue and Hamilton street were nearly filled with water, following the torrential storm. Several chimneys in the South Side district were torn off.

Although there were many washouts on the roads of the Pennsylvania State Highway system in the county, there was no serious damage done by last evening's storm. Superintendent of Highways, H. W. Lightner stated this morning.

There was lots of debris on the state roads this morning, and a large force of men was put to work cleaning away the dirt. In some cases, cast iron drain pipes were washed out of the ground as they were unable to carry off the tremendous flow of water which descended in a short period of time. These will have to be replaced.

There were no serious land slides or bad washes reported. Mr. Lightner will have to be cleared away which will have to be cleared away.

Rail Trouble Not Serious At the Pennsylvania railroad's division office here officials reported "no serious damage" from the violent storm. They said that emergency crews speedily took care of the minor breaks which occurred in communication lines. These breaks were few.

While the storm raged here, Superintendent E. S. Reed and Trainmaster B. E. Myers were at the far end of the Erie and Ashtabula division territory, at Ashtabula, O. They report no storm broke there. It was not until they reached Youngstown that they returned that they became aware of a rainstorm.

Carmel Glover, commissioner of streets, stated today that a force of six trucks and about 30 men is at work clearing away the debris. He declared no complaints had been received concerning sewers although they were inadequate to assimilate yesterday's sudden storm.

The water at the corner of East Washington street and Croton avenue was the highest since 1913, according to Charles O'Brien, clerk in the street department. It was at least two feet deep. It rushed across the Kurtz property and reached a height level with the New Castle Dry Goods Co. store step.

The department of streets removed several trees which were blown down or undermined by water. One of them was in Liberty street and another at Grant street and Norris way. Limbs which were broken from trees in the vicinity of Blaine street and Boyles avenue were hauled away.

One of the thoroughfares seriously affected was Atlantic avenue. The section near Crawford Oak ed. Tons of dirt and debris were washed into the cartway and were seriously affected district was Butler avenue and East Washington street.

Plate Glass Broken The storm is held responsible for several automobile accidents. Wet brakes on the auto of Sandy Muse, 209 Green street, caused the car to run over the curb in South Jefferson street. The machine plunged into and broke the big plate glass at the Emergency Relief headquarters.

Walter Fagnall, 1407 Francis Place, reported there were cars parked during the storm on both sides of Croton avenue near the city house and a car which had been parked on the wrong side of the street pulled from the curb.

Today one could see the havoc caused by the storm. Seven truckloads of dirt had been removed from Washington street. Piles of debris were being removed from Butler avenue and Washington street and these were only two of the affected zones.

A Highland avenue primary electric line was down. This affected light service for some time. Police department sergeants received calls about outages and in turn notified out in some sections of Croton avenue, in the Nemo-Grove street district and also in the Delaware-Leasur and Winter avenue sector.

Henry Hoskins, city engineer, said the storm caused damage in Mahoning avenue. Some amies had been placed there preparatory to resurfacing the railroad crossing and Liberty street. It was washed away. However, the storm did not affect the Sampson street job, he added.

Service Interrupted Pennsylvania Power system today issued a statement in which it was stated that a large high tension transformer at New Wilmington substations was burned out which caused an interruption of service in that vicinity.

Voltage regulators at East New Castle station were hit by lightning and also were burned out. This resulted in an interruption of service along the Harlansburg and East Brook highways.

Tree and large limbs were blown out in various localities here. The service in the Highland avenue section was out for about an hour and about 40 transformer fuses in the city at large were burned out but replaced quickly.

A distribution transformer burned out at Hillsville. When the storm struck this city yesterday afternoon street lights were turned on but turned off later because it made repairsmen's work too hazardous.

In spite of the fury of last evening's storm, there was surprisingly small damage to the lines of the Telephone Company. Manager William J. Toner stated today. A few phones were put out of order by the lightning and rain, but these were all cleared up this morning, and service was resumed as usual in a comparatively short time.

Asks Divorce On Desertion Grounds

"I noticed my face covered with patches of pimples. They turned into sore eruptions which burned and itched so badly that I could not lay my face against a pillow. I could not keep from scratching which made the face scatter all over my face and disfigure it for the time being."

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. After using, I noticed the itching and burning seemed easier so I purchased more, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment my face was healed." # WITHHOLD TROUT (International News Service)

DENVER—The Colorado fish and game commission has halted the planting of fingerling trout in the streams of the state until another season. Because of low waters, Roland G. Farvin, commissioner, explained, thousands of fish were being lost. This year's "crop" will be held over until next spring, when they will be much larger than if planted now.

BIGGEST CATCH (International News Service)

TURNERS FALLS, Mass.—It didn't get away from Walter Waldeich, so he had proof that he had landed the season's biggest catch, a giant northern pike, weighing 11½ pounds and measuring 33 inches from tip to tip. He caught the fish in the Connecticut river, near Sunderland, and broke his own record, for a week before he had caught a 10-pound pike.

ALLEN-MILLER ENGAGEMENT NEWS

Mrs. W. A. McNally entertained at her home on Fairfield avenue, Monday evening, to announce the engagement of her niece, Miss Martha L. Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Allen of Meyer avenue, to Earl L. Miller of Court street, son of Roy Miller.

Three tables were provided for the bride and groom, which lovely favors were awarded Miss Lillian Moran, Miss Blodwen Davis and Miss Allen, the honoree.

Invited to the dining room for a late supper, the guests found their places marked with dainty name cards attached to which were miniature wedding bells and concealed in these were tiny cards bearing the words "Martha and Earl—soon."

Pink and white tones predominated in appointments with a low bowl of sweet peas as a centerpiece.

Aides were Mrs. G. S. Allen, Mrs. Percy Laverack, Miss Rebecca Garvin and Miss Lillian Moran.

Both the bride-elect and groom-to-be are graduates of the local high school and the prospective groom is identified with the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

Wiener Roast

Miss Josephine and Stella Czuba held a wiener and marshmallow roast at their home in Edinburg July 29.

Musical entertainment was furnished by Ribello Aquia Viva accompanied by James Fidor, Joseph Dudas and Esq. Howard Shoaff. Samuel Albert was instrumental in obtaining the excellent program which was highly pleasing.

The committee in charge of refreshments was composed of Misses Clara and Helen Tabish and Anna Bober. Guests present from Edinburg, New Castle and Wampum, numbered about thirty couple. Solo dancing was furnished by Miss Frances Kacimarczyk and Samuel Albert.

Luther League Picnic

Annual picnic of Branch No. 2 of the Pittsburgh District Luther League will be held at Cascade Park Wednesday evening August 1, at 6:00.

Members and friends of the League of this Branch are invited to attend. Coffee and lemonade will be furnished free. President W. J. Gregor is making plans for a large attendance.

A varied sports program will be carried out in the grove after supper.

NEW CASTLEITES AT MADISON-ON-LAKE

Lake resorts are drawing more than their usual quota of summer visitors this year since it's been so hot, but handy for New Castleites is Lake Erie and many local folks have vacationed there lately, Madison-on-the-Lake being most popular.

Among those there at the present time are Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Rowland, daughter Natalie, son Roger W. Jr., of Highland avenue; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde M. Whittaker, son Dickey of Englewood avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Stadelhofer of Highland avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith McAfee, son Bobbie of East street; Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Preston, sons Bobbie and Piper of Sheridan avenue. They will probably return about the latter part of the week.

Honor Birthday

Honoring the birthday of Charles McFarland, his sons and daughters gathered at his home in Rose Point Sunday evening, July 29, to help celebrate the affair.

A sumptuous supper was served at 6 o'clock to about twenty-five. A luscious birthday cake decorated with 48 candles was the centerpiece.

Among the guests were Mrs. Adeline McFarland and son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Houlette and daughter Alberta, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McFarland and son James, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Twentier and daughter Erma.

Mr. and Mrs. E. I. Armstrong and daughters Janet and Joan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McFarland, Ethel, George, Robert, Elizabeth, Eira McFarland. Very special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Homer MacFadden of Youngstown.

The guest of honor received many useful gifts.

Kelly Reunion

A very pleasant gathering of relatives was held Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly on Huron avenue. Supper was served to 34 with table decorations carried out in pink and white.

Those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Platt and sons Billy and Earl of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Powell and children, Glenola, Jeanette and Royce of Beaver Falls, Robert Buko, Ellwood City, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly, Poland, Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Balsler and daughter Winifred, Petersburg, Ohio.

Evening hours were very much enjoyed with music furnished by Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, Myrna and Mildred Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelly.

The reunion this year also commemorated two birthdays and a wedding anniversary.

Birthday Dinner

A birthday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Robinson on Monday evening honored their grand-daughter Ethel Mae Schell, it being the third anniversary of her birth.

At 6:30 dinner was served in the spacious dining room covers being arranged for 18. Snapdragons, combined with other summer flowers were used in connection with a birthday cake in the table decorations.

Special guests were Mrs. R. D. Patterson, and children, Reed and Helen, of New York City. She received some lovely gifts of remembrances.

Informal Event

Delightfully informal was a small evening party recently in the East Wallace avenue home of Mrs. Minerva M. Watson.

Three tables were used for the card games concluding which a delicious luncheon was served, the hostess' daughter, Mrs. Esther W. Anderson, aiding.

Among the guests was Mrs. J. Q. Stewart, of Harrisburg.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD AT LAWRENCE REUNION

Plans are being completed for the annual reunion of Lawrence school members set for Thursday evening, August 2 at Cascade Park.

It is expected that in the neighborhood of 300 will attend and for their entertainment a fine program of sports has been arranged. Races and games will be run, beginning at 5 o'clock, after which supper will be served, in the grove. Supper will be of a basket picnic nature but coffee will be furnished. It is desired that each family or group bring their own containers, however.

Bingo will afford the evening's amusement, and there will be an incentive to play as two grand prizes will be given, one having been donated by Harry Bailey, president in addition to other smaller ones.

On the committee are Harry Bailey, president, Mrs. Maude Swager, vice president, Mrs. Carrie Stokes and Miss Molly Komarc. Mrs. Sam Ross will have charge of the coffee, Jack Grittle of the boy's sports, and Miss Melvina Davis of the girl's sports.

Many former pupils from out of town are expected.

NORTH BEAVER GARDEN CLUB ACTIVITIES

North Beaver Garden Club is sustaining its reputation of being one of the most active affiliates in the Lawrence county Garden Club organization.

Plans are announced today for a big cornroast which will be held Wednesday evening, August 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fullerton at Cove's Station, instead of at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William McCombs. Everybody in the club is expected to be there and needless to say, where's there's to be corn on the cob, they will be.

Maturing are arrangements for a flower show to be held in the North Beaver High school auditorium August 31 and September 1. Mrs. J. W. Fullerton and Howard Gilmore are heading the committee on detail and they expect one of the best shows ever held in this section.

Visiting Parents.

Mrs. Carl von Bercholdt and small daughter, Carol Ann, of College Hill, Cincinnati, are spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Garwig of Moody avenue.

In Mrs. Bercholdt's home, a small family picnic was held Saturday evening at Cascade park and it is planned to have other informal affairs for her while here. Mrs. von Bercholdt, who was formerly Shirley Garwig has won pronounced success in her career which is a musical one.

BOY SCOUT Activities

TROOP 9 BREAKS CAMP.

Troop 9 of Sunny avenue school in Union township broke camp late last week after a most enjoyable camping season which lasted two weeks. It was the first camp for the troop since it organized under the sponsorship of the Union Parent-Teacher association.

During the middle of last week the regular opening exercises were used for the troop meeting which was held around a brilliant campfire. The evening speaker was Albert Fredericks, a former soldier affiliated with the 28 Division under General Shannon. Mr. Fredericks also played flute selections. One of the several flutes used was played in the Civil War under General Lee.

A wiener roast followed the talk and musical numbers.

At the close of the week an interesting hunting trip was staged.

Scribe, Harry Williams.

DIRTY CITY STREETS

AN honest little Dutch girl, one of a group of young Hollanders who have been on a good-will visit to New York City, asked her American guide the rather tactless question, "Why is your fine city so dirty?" To her, the awesome height of the Empire State Building and the satisfactions of a jaunt on top of a Fifth Avenue bus were not in any way justification for sidewalks littered with paper or gutters full of rubbish.

No one in the great region west of the Hudson River need laugh scornfully at New York. American cities are almost all suffering from the same lack of order and cleanliness. The situation has been worse in recent years, as city funds have diminished and city officials have cut down such services as street-cleaning.

A great deal could be done to clean up American cities, without spending any money, simply by an educational campaign arousing public spirit from its apathy in this matter. A New York judge the other day sentenced several persons found guilty of tossing litter in a city park to spend a certain amount of time cleaning up rubbish in the same park. It was a good idea and might well be followed in other communities.

But the most important method still remains the cultivation of individual pride in the appearance of the city and a sense of individual responsibility toward it.

ACTUAL EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Sitting in the office of a little country weekly newspaper, far removed from all the big time stuff at Washington, we observe different committees and commissions set up for the curing of the ailments of the nation. And as we study these committees and commissions we sometimes wonder if the whole United States can be centered in Washington, a dozen of the larger cities and a few colleges, more or less, and if all the rest of us are just invisible atoms floating about in the swirl of dust that is being raised in the proposed house setting.

Now take the banking situation which is so closely related to economic progress as a whole. Banking in New York and banking in LeRoy are as different as a modern automobile and a one-horse shay. Both provide commercial transportation but in ways vastly different. Rules, regulations and practices that may be highly helpful to a metropolitan bank serve quite the opposite purpose in a country bank. These rules and regulations are formulated in Washington and are presumed to be generally helpful, but has anyone ever heard of a country banker being named on the committee that sets up the formula for banking under the recovery program? Or of any endeavor to get the true picture of the problems of the rural banks?

The same applies to farming, small industry, rural town merchandising and a hundred and one other component parts that go to make up the very life blood of this country, and all of them are quite removed from the metropolitan centers and the chairs of the college professors.

Perhaps some day, instead of functioning in terms of graphs and reports from field agents, those in power in Washington, both Republicans and Democrats, will utilize the knowledge of those who know from actual experience the formulation of plans and policies to fit emergencies, acute or otherwise.—Gazette-News, LeRoy, N. Y.

GRAND OLD WOMAN OF THE SCREEN

Marie Dressler, through sheer force of merit, made herself one of the outstanding stars of the screen. She had a tremendous advantage over the hordes who went to Hollywood to seek easy money simply because they had pretty faces or "screened well." She mastered the art of acting, partly from natural talent and largely by hard work and experience, explains the Philadelphia Inquirer. All were surprised at the ease with which she took her place in moving pictures. The secret was not a profound one—she knew how to act. Few, until her time, had ever thought of that as one of the requisites of a moving picture star.

Miss Dressler belonged to the old school of troupers. She sang in opera, played in farce and starred in comedy and drama. Sometimes the shows were a success and sometimes they were "a flop." But she loved the theatre and finally her ship came in when she appeared in the riot of laughter known as "Tillie's Nightmare."

The grand surprise came when she first went to Hollywood. She had been off the stage for years, and it seemed presumptuous for her to attempt to compete with twentieth century wit and beauty. The result is screen history. She staged one of the most successful "comebacks" in the history of the stage. When she appeared with Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie" she played the subordinate part of a tipsy old crone. Yet she stole the picture from the Swedish actress.

It is noteworthy that Miss Dressler won success with clean, high-spirited comedy in film plays free from salacious characteristics. As a tribute to her fine art, she twice was awarded the highest honors of the screen. A dinner in her honor was attended by governors and senators. She was a White House guest. Marie Dressler will be missed.

AN EFFECT ON REPEAL?

Detroit city authorities are reported to be vastly perturbed by a sharp rise in automobile traffic accidents this year. Between January 1, and July 9, 1934, Detroit's traffic killed 215 people—the highest traffic death rate in Detroit's history—while 6,684 persons have been injured.

As a result, the traffic patrol force is being doubled and a campaign is on to enforce the traffic code very strictly.

Detroit is not the only city that has had a rise in the traffic toll this year; and it is hard to keep from wondering if repeal does not have some connection with this rise.

Is the legal sale of intoxicating liquors putting more drunken drivers on the highways, to menace themselves and others? It is time that a detailed and unprejudiced survey was made, on a nation-wide scale.

Still, you can't expect Europe to do better now. The early settlers moved over here.

Blessed are the poor. The more things you can afford, the more things you have to dust.

New Orleans protests at a moving picture, supposedly of the spicy kind, being called "Belle of New Orleans," yet its voters helped send Huey Long to the senate.

New Yorkers like to take their leisure on the go, a committee in the use of leisure reported. If that's the case they'll spend it that way, committee recommendations to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE QUARREL

Two who love each other quarrel bitterly. Two men, two women, or a man and woman.

They quarrel over some little thing, some slight offense, some plume of pride, some bit of nonsense that ordinarily would mean nothing at all. But they are tired, unhappy, irritated by the north wind, or the temporary dullness of their lives, and they leap upon this poor excuse, leap as ferociously as the lion leaps upon its prey in the African veldt, and glare at each other and slash with sharp words—and a great fissure opens between these two and divides them, snarling and defiant.

So they go their separated ways, flushed and sullen, hating the one they loved. Defending themselves, abusing that other, most misunderstanding one, bitter. And a cloud comes over their hearts and spreads to every cell, to all the tissues of their lives. This quarrel stands between them and all life. Touches all intercourse with strangers, colors all their thoughts and dreams, wherever they walk this quarrel follows after, like a dark shadow within themselves. Their feet drag, their shoulders droop, their eyes are dull and the blessed elasticity of living goes out of them. They speak of their "pride" and their "honor"; and they create a wall of steel and stone on either side of the fissure and shut the beloved away, they think, forever. And neither has the good wisdom to go to the other and say:

"Why are we quarreling? We two, who love each other. We who are bound closely together in love or in enmity and have understood each other so intimately and are a part of one another?"

Neither does that. Neither will move. Neither will be so sanely wise. Or perhaps they do. Suddenly, on an instant, the cloud lifts, the fissure is closed, the walls fade into nothingness, they look and see the other's face and each takes a step toward the other—and they are friends again. Dear fools who quarreled for no good reason and whose lacerated wounds can never heal until these two are friends once more. And life is good again!

U. S. Fighting European Propaganda Editors Take Up Pens Against It

"Let's Not Be Fools Again," One Says

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 31.—Determined effort is being made in the United States to deflect propaganda from Europe.

As during the World War, propaganda this time is largely from the countries opposing Germany.

No effort is made to condone Nazi-ism, nor is any attempt being made to side with Germany.

The sole effort of those trying to "debunk" the propaganda is to keep the United States out of the European situation.

The United States listened once before—and was drawn in for the loss of thousands of lives and billions of dollars.

SEEING CLEARLY
In the present European imbroglio, the United States is evidently determined to see clearly. Scores of editors have written editorials urging the United States to keep clear. The trouble lies in discerning the truth.

The Fascist government of Austria, for example, is pictured as fighting a battle for democracy—to use the old term that snared us previously.

As a matter of plain fact, the Fascist government of Austria is fighting a battle for Fascism, the very opposite of liberty and democracy.

The late Chancellor Dollfuss, aided by Prince von Starhemberg, Helmswehr commander, killed off virtually all the leaders of their own countrymen who fought to retain liberty and democracy.

Nor, when Chancellor Dollfuss ordered their deaths, did he give them benefit of priest or trial, either, for that matter.

By CLARK KINNAIRD

TUESDAY, JULY 31

The World War 20 Years Ago Today—July 31, 1914—The German government sends a threat to St. Petersburg: it will mobilize its army.

If Russia does not put a stop within 12 hours to the military measures that threaten Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Kaiser tells Czar: "No one threatens the honor and might of Russia, which might have awaited the result of my mediation."

The Czar dodges the issue, as might be expected.

A true story told by Princess Kropotkin illustrates his statecraft. Nicholas was receiving ministers, who were submitting their opinions on important matters.

"I quite agree with you," he said to one minister, who was then ushered out. Another entered. He discussed the same matters, but his opinions were entirely different.

DIRTY CITY STREETS

An honest little Dutch girl, one of a group of young Hollanders who have been on a good-will visit to New York City, asked her American guide the rather tactless question, "Why is your fine city so dirty?" To her, the awesome height of the Empire State Building and the satisfactions of a jaunt on top of a Fifth Avenue bus were not in any way justification for sidewalks littered with paper or gutters full of rubbish.

No one in the great region west of the Hudson River need laugh scornfully at New York. American cities are almost all suffering from the same lack of order and cleanliness. The situation has been worse in recent years; as city funds have diminished and city officials have cut down such services as street-cleaning.

A great deal could be done to clean up American cities, without spending any money, simply by an educational campaign arousing public spirit from its apathy in this matter. A New York judge the other day sentenced several persons found guilty of tossing litter in a city park to spend a certain amount of time cleaning up rubbish in the same park. It was a good idea and might well be followed in other communities.

But the most important method still remains the cultivation of individual pride in the appearance of the city and a sense of individual responsibility toward it.

ACTUAL EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Sitting in the office of a little country weekly newspaper, far removed from all the big time stuff at Washington, we observe different committees and commissions set up for the curing of the ailments of the nation. And as we study these committees and commissions we sometimes wonder if the whole United States can be centered in Washington, a dozen of the larger cities and a few colleges, more or less, and if all the rest of us are just invisible atoms floating about in the swirl of dust that is being raised in the proposed house settling.

Now take the banking situation which is so closely related to economic progress as a whole. Banking in New York and banking in LeRoy are as different as a modern automobile and a one-horse shay. Rules provide commercial transportation but in ways vastly different. Rules, regulations and practices that may be highly helpful to a metropolitan bank serve quite the opposite purpose in a country bank. These rules and regulations are formulated in Washington and are presumed to be generally helpful, but has anyone ever heard of a country banker being named on the committee that sets up the formula for banking under the recovery program? Or of any endeavor to get the true picture of the problems of the rural banks?

The same applies to farming, small industry, rural town merchandising and a hundred and one other component parts that go to make up the very life blood of this country, and all of them are quite removed from the metropolitan centers and the chairs of the college professors. Perhaps some day, instead of functioning in terms of graphs and reports from field agents, those in power in Washington, both Republicans and Democrats, will utilize the knowledge of those who know from actual experience the formulation of plans and policies to fit emergencies, acute or otherwise.—Gazette-News, LeRoy, N. Y.

GRAND OLD WOMAN OF THE SCREEN

Marie Dressler, through sheer force of merit, made herself one of the outstanding stars of the screen. She had a tremendous advantage over the hordes who went to Hollywood to seek easy money simply because they had pretty faces or "screened well." She mastered the art of acting, partly from natural talent and largely by hard work and experience, explains the Philadelphia Inquirer. All were surprised at the ease with which she took her place in moving pictures. The secret was not a profound one—she knew how to act. Few, until her time, had ever thought of that as one of the requisites of a moving picture star.

Miss Dressler belonged to the old school of troupers. She sang in opera, played in farce and starred in comedy and drama. Sometimes the shows were a success and sometimes they were "a flop." But she loved the theatre and finally her ship came in when she appeared in the riot of laughter known as "Tillie's Nightmare."

The grand surprise came when she first went to Hollywood. She had been off the stage for years, and it seemed presumptuous for her to attempt to compete with twentieth century wit and beauty. The result is screen history. She staged one of the most successful "come-backs" in the history of the stage. When she appeared with Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie" she played the subordinate part of a tipsy old crone. Yet she stole the picture from the Swedish actress.

It is noteworthy that Miss Dressler won success with clean, high-spirited comedy in film plays free from salacious characteristics. As a tribute to her fine art, she twice was awarded the highest honors of the screen. A dinner in her honor was attended by governors and senators. She was a White House guest. Marie Dressler will be missed.

AN EFFECT ON REPEAL?

Detroit city authorities are reported to be vastly perturbed by a sharp rise in automobile traffic accidents this year. Between January 1, and July 9, 1934, Detroit's traffic killed 215 people—the highest traffic death rate in Detroit's history—while 6,684 persons have been injured.

As a result, the traffic patrol force is being doubled and a campaign is on to enforce the traffic code very strictly.

Detroit is not the only city that has had a rise in the traffic toll this year; and it is hard to keep from wondering if repeal does not have some connection with this rise.

Is the legal sale of intoxicating liquors putting more drunken drivers on the highways, to menace themselves and others? It is time that a detailed and unprejudiced survey was made, on a nation-wide scale.

Still, you can't expect Europe to do better now. The early settlers moved over here.

Blessed are the poor. The more things you can afford, the more things you have to dust.

New Orleans protests at a moving picture, supposedly of the spicy kind, being called "Belle of New Orleans," yet its voters helped send Huey Long to the senate.

New Yorkers like to take their leisure on the go, a committee on the use of leisure reported. If that's the case they'll spend it that way, committee recommendations to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE QUARREL

Two who love each other quarrel bitterly. Two men, two women, or a man and woman.

They quarrel over some little thing, some slight offense, some pique of pride, some bit of nonsense that ordinarily would mean nothing at all—but they are tired, unhappy, irritated by the north wind, or the temporary dullness of their lives, and they leap upon this poor excuse, leap as ferociously as the lion leaps upon its prey in the African veldt, and glare at each other and slash with sharp words—and a great fissure opens between these two and divides them, snarling and defiant.

So they go their separated ways, flushed and sullen, hating the one they loved. Defending themselves, abusing that other, most misunderstanding one, bitter . . . And a cloud comes over their hearts and spreads to every cell, to all the tissues of their lives. This quarrel stands between them and all life. Touches all intercourse with strangers, colors all their thoughts and dreams, wherever they walk this quarrel follows after, like a darker shadow within themselves. Their feet drag, their shoulders droop, their eyes are dull and the blessed elasticity of wing goes out of them . . . They speak of their "quarrel" and their "honor," and they create a wall of steel and stone on either side of the fissure and shut the beloved away, they think, forever . . . And neither has the good wisdom to go to the other and say:

Neither does that. Neither will move. Neither will be so sanely wise . . . Or perhaps they do. Suddenly, on an instant, the cloud lifts, the fissure is closed, the walls fade into nothingness, they look and see the other's face and each takes a step toward the other—and they are friends again. Dear fools who quarreled for no good reason and whose lacerated wounds can never heal until these two are friends once more . . . And life is good again!

U. S. Fighting European Propaganda Editors Take Up Pens Against It "Let's Not Be Fools Again," One Says

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 31.—A determined effort is being made in the United States to deflect propaganda from Europe.

As during the World War, propaganda this time is largely from the countries opposing Germany.

No effort is made to condone Naziism, nor is any attempt being made to side with Germany.

The sole effort of those trying to "debunk" the propaganda is to keep the United States out of the European situation.

The United States listened once before—and was drawn in for the loss of thousands of lives and billions of dollars.

SEEING CLEARLY In the present European imbroglio, the United States is evidently determined to see clearly. Scores of editors have written editorials urging the United States to keep clear.

The trouble lies in discerning the truth.

The Fascist government of Austria, for example, is pictured as fighting a battle for democracy—to use the old term that snared us previously.

As a matter of plain fact, the Fascist government of Austria is fighting a battle for Fascism, the very opposite of liberty and democracy.

The late Chancellor Dollfuss, aided by Prince von Starhemberg, Heimwehr commander, killed off virtually all the leaders of their own countrymen who fought to retain liberty and democracy.

Nor, when Chancellor Dollfuss ordered their deaths, did he give them the benefit of priest or trial, either, for that matter.

And when Italy, France and Great Britain shout "The integrity of Austria must be maintained" that, too, isn't exactly what they mean.

They mean that their dominance of Austria must not be interfered with, that they must be the rulers of central Europe as well as all the remainder of Europe.

That would not be so bad if 65 million Germans and six and a half million Austrians, evidently seeking freedom from the tyranny of their own governments, were not virtually enslaved anew by this turn of events.

European governments refuse to leave their hands off one another. People have no chance to express free determination.

That is the mess into which there now are subtle efforts to intrigue Uncle Sam, with all sorts of catch phrases concerning democracy.

ONE EDITOR'S WORDS Under the caption "Propaganda Begins Again," the New York Daily News says what it thinks.

Here are a few of its words: "It cannot be too often repeated that this European fight is none of our business. It is another round in the age-long Gaul-Teuton fight, which won't be over in our time. The French are probably to blame this time, since they have not been content with the (revanche) (revenge) the World War victory gave them, but have gone on wanting more and more 'revanche' against Germany, without end. With Mussolini, they insist on keeping Austria a head without a body, as it has been called; insist on allowing Austria to decay. . . .

"If we want to let ourselves be propagandized and hypnotized into hating Germany and Austria, and wanting to go over there and do something to them, O. K. But let's count up the cost beforehand. 'We let propaganda pull us into the World War. We listened to the atrocity stories and let hate mount in our hearts. At last the Germans sunk the Lusitania, a British ship carrying a few Americans, many of them in war business for the Allies, and we decided to get our revenge. 'Our revenge cost us 35,000 men killed in France, 200,000 wounded, more than 20 billion dollars for war expenses, more than four billions paid out since then in veteran benefits, the worst depression in our history—and the bill hasn't been paid—or the Lusitania raised—yet. 'Let's not be such fools again.'"

The publisher of the News, who wrote those words, enlisted in the World War and fought valiantly overseas. He knows the European situation firsthand.

TUESDAY, JULY 31

The World War 20 Years Ago Today—July 31, 1914—The German government sends a threat to St. Petersburg: it will mobilize its army if Russia does not put a stop within 12 hours to the military measures that threaten Germany and Austria-Hungary.

Kaiser tells Czar: "No one threatens the honor and might of Russia, which might have awaited the result of my mediation."

The Czar dodges the issue, as might be expected.

A true story told by Princess Kropotkin illustrates his statecraft. Nicholas was receiving ministers, who were submitting their opinions on important matters.

"I quite agree with you," he said to one minister, who was then ushered out. Another entered. He discussed the same matters, but his opinions were entirely different.

"I quite agree with you," said Nicholas again.

The German-born Czarina, who had been listening, told the Czar: "How can you possibly agree with both these men? Their ideas are as far apart as the poles."

"My dear, I quite agree with you," the Czar will not halt the mobilization, but he pledges his word his troops will not undertake any challenging action—long as the negotiations continue with Austria concerning Serbia.

The Czar will get his country into war because he dodges issues, the Kaiser will plunge his country into war because he DOESN'T. Wilhelm knows Germany is prepared to fight, he believes Russia isn't. He forces action. Consequently, war is told by the German ambassador at London when the war began, Prince Karl Lichnowsky) Germany in replying to Russia's mere mobilization.

By sending an ultimatum to Petersburg, although the Czar had pledged his word—deliberately destroyed the possibility of a peaceful settlement.

Since Wilhelm already has rejected the British proposals of 4-power mediation

DIRTY CITY STREETS

AN honest little Dutch girl, one of a group of young Hollanders who have been on a good-will visit to New York City, asked her American guide the rather tactless question, "Why is your fine city so dirty?" To her, the awesome height of the Empire State Building and the satisfactions of a jaunt on top of a Fifth Avenue bus were not in any way justification for sidewalks littered with paper or gutters full of rubbish.

No one in the great region west of the Hudson River need laugh scornfully at New York. American cities are almost all suffering from the same lack of order and cleanliness. The situation has been worse in recent years, as city funds have diminished and city officials have cut down such services as street-cleaning.

A great deal could be done to clean up American cities, without spending any money, simply by an educational campaign arousing public spirit from its apathy in this matter. A New York judge the other day sentenced several persons found guilty of tossing litter in a city park to spend a certain amount of time cleaning up rubbish in the same park. It was a good idea and might well be followed in other communities.

But the most important method still remains the cultivation of individual pride in the appearance of the city and a sense of individual responsibility toward it.

ACTUAL EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Sitting in the office of a little country weekly newspaper, far removed from all the big time stuff at Washington, we observe different committees and commissions set up for the curing of the ailments of the nation. And as we study these committees and commissions we sometimes wonder if the whole United States can be centered in Washington, a dozen of the larger cities and a few colleges, more or less, and if all the rest of us are just invisible atoms floating about in the swirl of dust that is being raised in the proposed house setting.

Now take the banking situation which is so closely related to economic progress as a whole. Banking in New York and banking in LeRoy are as different as a modern automobile and a one-horse shay. Both provide commercial transportation but in ways vastly different. Rules, regulations and practices that may be highly helpful to a metropolitan bank serve quite the opposite purpose in a country bank. These rules and regulations are formulated in Washington and are presumed to be generally helpful, but has anyone ever heard of a country banker being named on the committee that sets up the formula for banking under the recovery program? Or of any endeavor to get the true picture of the problems of the rural banks?

The same applies to farming, small industry, rural town merchandising and a hundred and one other component parts that go to make up the very life blood of this country, and all of them are quite removed from the metropolitan centers and the chairs of the college professors.

Perhaps some day, instead of functioning in terms of graphs and reports from field agents, those in power in Washington, both Republicans and Democrats, will utilize the knowledge of those who know from actual experience the formulation of plans and policies to fit emergencies, acute or otherwise.—Gazette-News, LeRoy, N. Y.

GRAND OLD WOMAN OF THE SCREEN

Marie Dressler, through sheer force of merit, made herself one of the outstanding stars of the screen. She had a tremendous advantage over the hordes who went to Hollywood to seek easy money simply because they had pretty faces or "screened well." She mastered the art of acting, partly from natural talent and largely by hard work and experience, explains the Philadelphia Inquirer. All were surprised at the ease with which she took her place in moving pictures. The secret was not a profound one—she knew how to act. Few, until her time, had ever thought of that as one of the requisites of a moving picture star.

Miss Dressler belonged to the old school of troupers. She sang in opera, played in farce and starred in comedy and drama. Sometimes the shows were a success and sometimes they were "a flop." But she loved the theatre and finally her ship came in when she appeared in the riot of laughter known as "Tillie's Nightmare."

The grand surprise came when she first went to Hollywood. She had been off the stage for years, and it seemed presumptuous for her to attempt to compete with twentieth century wit and beauty. The result is screen history. She staged one of the most successful "comebacks" in the history of the stage. When she appeared with Greta Garbo in "Anna Christie" she played the subordinate part of a tipsy old crone. Yet she stole the picture from the Swedish actress.

It is noteworthy that Miss Dressler won success with clean, high-spirited comedy in film plays free from salacious characteristics. As a tribute to her fine art, she twice was awarded the highest honors of the screen. A dinner in her honor was attended by governors and senators. She was a White House guest. Marie Dressler will be missed.

AN EFFECT ON REPEAL?

Detroit city authorities are reported to be vastly perturbed by a sharp rise in automobile traffic accidents this year. Between January 1 and July 9, 1934, Detroit's traffic killed 215 people—the highest traffic death rate in Detroit's history—while 6,684 persons have been injured.

As a result, the traffic patrol force is being doubled and a campaign is on to enforce the traffic code very strictly.

Detroit is not the only city that has had a rise in the traffic toll this year; and it is hard to keep from wondering if repeal does not have some connection with this rise.

Is the legal sale of intoxicating liquors putting more drunken drivers on the highways, to menace themselves and others? It is time that a detailed and unprejudiced survey was made, on a nation-wide scale.

Still, you can't expect Europe to do better now. The early settlers moved over here.

Blessed are the poor. The more things you can afford, the more things you have to dust.

New Orleans protests at a moving picture, supposedly of the spicy kind, being called "Belle of New Orleans," yet its voters helped send Huey Long to the senate.

New Yorkers like to take their leisure on the go, a committee on the use of leisure reported. If that's the case they'll spend it that way, committee recommendations to the contrary notwithstanding.

THE QUARREL
Two who love each other quarrel bitterly. Two men, two women, or a man and woman.
They quarrel over some little thing, some slight offense, some pique of pride, some bit of nonsense that ordinarily would mean nothing at all—but they are tired, unhappy, irritated by the north wind, or the temporary dullness of their lives, and they leap upon this poor excuse, leap as ferociously as the lion leaps upon its prey in the African veldt, and glare at each other and slash with sharp words—and a great fissure opens between these two and divides them, snarling and defiant.

So they go their separated ways, flushed and sullen, hating the one they loved. Defending themselves, abusing that other, most misunderstanding one, bitter . . . And a cloud comes over their hearts and spreads to every cell, to all the tissues of their lives. This quarrel stands between them and all life. Touches all intercourse with strangers, colors all their thoughts and dreams, wherever they walk this quarrel follows after, like a darker shadow within themselves. Their feet drag, their shoulders droop, their eyes are dull and the blessed elasticity of living goes out of them. They speak of their "pride" and their "honor"; and they create a wall of steel and stone on either side of the fissure and shut the beloved away, they think, forever. . . . And neither has the good wisdom to go to the other and say:

"Why are we quarreling? We two, who love each other. We who are bound closely together in love or in enmity and have understood each other so intimately and are a part of one another?"

Neither does that. Neither will move. Neither will be so sanely wise. . . . Or perhaps they do. Suddenly, on an instant, the cloud lifts, the fissure is closed, the walls fade into nothingness, they look and see the other's face and each takes a step toward the other—and they are friends again. Dear fools who quarrel for no good reason and whose lacerated wounds can never heal until these two are friends once more. . . . And life is good again!

KEEP YOUR SECRETS TO YOURSELF

You're inclined to be too confidential with those you claim as friends.

Your friends have a right to know more about you than mere acquaintances.

And you should not be deceitful, but there are probably home and family matters that you should never divulge.

Even your most intimate friends have no right to know certain things about yourself and your family.

Some of these facts may be detrimental to your reputation should they become known.

Other facts are so intimate to discuss outside.

Your closest friends today may become your worst enemies tomorrow, and because of what they know about you they might do you great harm.

If you cannot keep to yourself things which you should consider your secrets, why should you expect other persons to keep these intimate matters to themselves?

The reason you might have for keeping silent on personal matters does not work with the same force upon those who come into possession of the facts.

They are likely to circulate the things you tell about yourself.

The German-born Czarina who had been listening, told the Czar: "How can you possibly agree with both these men? Their ideas are as far apart as the poles."

"My dear, I quite agree with you." The Czar will not undertake any challenging action" as long as the negotiations continue with Austria concerning Serbia.

The Czar will get his country into war because he dodges issues, the Kaiser will plunge his country into war because he DOESN'T. Wilhelm knows Germany isn't. He forces action.

"The German ambassador at London when the war began, Prince Karl Lichnowsky" Germany in replying to Russia's mere mobilization

by sending an ultimatum to Petersburg, although the Czar had pledged his word—deliberately destroyed the possibility of a peaceful settlement.

Since Wilhelm already has rejected the British proposals of 4-power mediation, (quoting Lichnowsky) "It is not surprising that the outside German attributes to us the sole guilt for the world war."

Is the Kaiser a madman? No, he is trying to be a strong man. He is (Continued On Page Six)

OTHER NEWS NOTES OF KOPPEL BORO

(Special To The News)
KOPPEL, July 31.—Philip Ross, aged two, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ross, First avenue, it is reported narrowly escaped death from drowning while picnicking with his mother and a group of friends at Darlington Lake.
The boy was playing near the lake and accidentally toppled into the water. For several minutes he was unnoticed, the persons believing that it was a swimmer who had just jumped into the pool. The cries of a youth that a baby had fallen into the water attracted several persons nearby and the tot was rescued by Jerry Cranz of Koppel who after pulling him from the water applied artificial respiration.
He was revived in a short time, but had he not been rescued when he was, he would have drowned.

Students Studying Harder, Penn State Librarian Reports

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 31.—Students at the Pennsylvania State College did more studying last year than the year before if the figures for the last fiscal year made public by the college librarian today provide an indication.
More than fourteen per cent more books were borrowed for home use during the last fiscal year than the year previous, Librarian Willard P. Lewis reported today to President Ralph T. Hetzel. And, in addition, there was an increase of 3.7 per cent in the call for books on reserve.
The Penn State library added more than fourteen per cent more books last year than the previous year. Twenty-five per cent more books were catalogued and nearly thirty-two per cent more cards were filed, the librarian reported.
The increase in accessions was very largely caused by the demand for more periodical sets needed in connection with the extended research program of the College, Mr. Lewis said.

Modern Girl Is Better Than Her Sister Of Yore

Nurse Says There's No Reason To Believe All Stories

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, July 31.—The modern girl is just as good or even better than her predecessor.
That is the opinion of Sister Laureline, director of nurses in St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, expressed here recently at the convention of the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada.
And Sister Laureline ought to know, for she has had direct supervision over more than 100 girls graduated from the nurses' training school at St. Francis' Hospital for the last ten years.
"Modern girls make excellent trained nurses," said the nun. "They are just as kind and sympathetic and just as competent to do all the things that a nurse must do as any girl in past generations," added Sister Laureline.
There is no reason to believe all the things that are said about the modern girl. Some of them may have the voices they are claimed to have but they are no worse and more often better than the girls of other generations," declared the sister.

Telescope Disc Is Largest In World

(International News Service)
CORNING, N. Y., July 31.—The 200 inch telescope disc, largest glass of its kind in the world, will undergo further processing for possible future use and a second 200 inch disc will be cast, it was announced today.
The telescope disc, when finally installed will be twice as large as the largest one now in operation. It will have a light collecting area four times as great and will be able to photograph distant stars ten times faster than is now possible. It is expected to open new fields in astronomy and in chemistry and physics.
Investigations by research workers of the Corning Glass Works and the California Institute of Technology showed the course of completely conditioning the present giant disc was of the same order of magnitude as casting a second one, but that it was desirable partially to process the present disc and hold it in reserve.

Liquid Gasoline won't burn... why Engines need OXYGEN to Breathe!

S-T-R-O-K-E—AND BREATHE! This skilled swimmer knows that there's no power in her stroke unless her breathing is right. So she "comes up for air" on every second stroke.

ONE TEST FOLLOWS ANOTHER in Socony-Vacuum Research Laboratories where engineers are constantly checking Mobilgas, and the way it mixes with all kinds of air.

FIRE AND RECHARGE! Fire—and recharge! Your engine has a "beat," too. Each cylinder draws in a fresh supply of "gas" with every alternate down stroke of the pistons.

SUN BRIGHT AND TRAFFIC HEAVY—this engine is running on air that is hot and dry. A few miles farther on, it may meet a sudden shower that alters the "gas" mixture.

YOUR CAR CAN'T BURN liquid gasoline. It must first turn gasoline into "gas" by mixing it with large quantities of air.
Think what that means. The condition of the air is constantly changing with the weather. It's hot or cold, damp or dry, according to what the weather man says. Naturally, your "gas" mixture changes, too.
That's why Mobilgas has Climatic Control. This makes Mobilgas mix better with air. Sudden weather changes no longer affect the "gas" mixture.
Try Mobilgas—and see what this means in performance. It's sold at all stations and dealers where you see the Flying Red Horse.

SEE THAT WORD "MOBILGAS"—there on the gas pump? The gasoline you buy here will give you top-notch performance. It's the only gasoline with Climatic Control.

Pointing out that farmers in the lake Erie grape belt, extending through Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, are growing Concord grapes for which there is a limited market at present, Crossman said Ohio farmers were anxious to extend the wine market into Pennsylvania. Fruit juice organizations provide the sole sale possibility for the growers of Concord grapes at the present time, Crossman said. Farmers would benefit in that they would receive better prices for their grapes from wineries than they would under normal marketing conditions for other purposes, he added.

Koppel Tot Falls In Lake, Rescued

Young Lad Falls In Lake While Picnicking With Mother

OTHER NEWS NOTES OF KOPPEL BORO

(Special To The News)
KOPPEL, July 31.—Phillip Ross, aged two, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Ross, First avenue, it is reported narrowly escaped death from drowning while picnicking with his mother and a group of friends at Darlington Lake.
The boy was playing near the lake and accidentally tumbled into the water. For several minutes he was unnoticed, the persons believing that it was a swimmer who had just jumped into the pool. The cries of a youth that a baby had fallen into the water attracted several persons nearby and the tot was rescued by Jerry Czanz of Koppel who after pulling him from the water applied artificial respiration.
He was revived in a short time, but had he not been rescued when he was, he would have drowned.

KOPPEL NOTES

Students Studying Harder, Penn State Librarian Reports

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 31.—Students at the Pennsylvania State College did more studying last year than the year before if the figures for the last fiscal year made public by the College Librarian today provide an indication.

More than fourteen per cent more books were borrowed for home use during the last fiscal year than the year previous, Librarian Willard P. Lewis reported today to President Ralph D. Hetzel. And, in addition, there was an increase of 3.7 per cent in the call for books on reserve.

The Penn State library added more than fourteen per cent more books last year than the previous year. Twenty-five per cent more books were catalogued and nearly thirty-two per cent more cards were filed, the librarian reported.

The increase in accessions was very largely caused by the demand for more periodical sets needed in connection with the extended research program of the College, Mr. Lewis said.

Home Loans Granted In 6 Counties Shown

SHARON, Pa., July 31.—In an attempt to speed up Home Loan Corporation mortgages in Mercer county, the Chamber of Commerce has secured figures in three Pennsylvania counties and three Ohio counties, bordering on the state line. The figures show that Ohio counties have far outstripped Pennsylvania counties, and that Mercer county is at the bottom of the list. The figures secured are as follows:

Modern Girl Is Better Than Her Sister Of Yore

Nurse Says There's No Reason To Believe All Stories

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, July 31.—The modern girl is just as good or even better than her predecessor!
That is the opinion of Sister Laureline, director of nurses in St. Francis Hospital, Pittsburgh, expressed here recently at the convention of the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada.

And Sister Laureline ought to know, for she has had direct supervision over more than 800 girls graduated from the nurses' training school at St. Francis Hospital for the last ten years.

"Modern girls make excellent trained nurses," said the nun. "They are just as kind and sympathetic and just as competent to do all the things that a nurse must do as any girl in past generations," added Sister Laureline.

There is no reason to believe all the things that are said about the modern girls. Some of them may have the voices they are claimed to have but they are no worse and more often better than the girls of other generations," declared the sister.

Telescope Disc Is Largest In World

(International News Service)
CORNING, N. Y., July 31.—The 200 inch telescope disc, largest glass of its kind in the world, will undergo further processing for possible future use and a second 200 inch disc will be cast, it was announced today.

The telescope disc, when finally installed will be twice as large as the largest one now in operation. It will have a light collecting area four times as great and will be able to photograph distant stars ten times faster than is now possible. It is expected to open new fields in astronomy and in chemistry and physics.

Investigations by research workers of the Corning Glass Works and the California Institute of Technology showed the course of completely conditioning the present giant disc was of the same order of magnitude as casting a second one, but that it was desirable partially to process the present disc and hold it in reserve.

MUST BE THE TRUTH AS FARMER SAYS SO

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., July 31.—Here's one for Ripley!
Bill Lukic, a local farmer, was inspecting his apple orchard during one of those "hundred in the shade days" when upon reaching up for an apple he was surprised to find the side of the apple facing the sun had been baked through to the center.

Lukic said he was trying to devise a turntable tree so that he could enjoy full baked apples right off the tree.

YOUR CAR can't Run WITHOUT AIR!

Liquid Gasoline won't burn..why Engines need OXYGEN to Breathe!

S-T-R-O-K-E—AND BREATHE! This skilled swimmer knows that there's no power in her stroke unless her breathing is right. So she "comes up for air" on every second stroke.

HOW YOUR ENGINE "BREATHES"

SUN BRIGHT AND TRAFFIC HEAVY—this engine is running on air that is hot and dry. A few miles farther on, it may meet a sudden shower that alters the "gas" mixture.

YOUR CAR CAN'T BURN liquid gasoline. It must first turn gasoline into "gas" by mixing it with large quantities of air.

Think what that means. The condition of the air is constantly changing with the weather. It's hot or cold, damp or dry, according to what the weather man says. Naturally, your "gas" mixture changes, too.

That's why Mobilgas has Climatic Control. This makes Mobilgas mix better with air. Sudden weather changes no longer affect the "gas" mixture.

Seek More Autos For Butler Trip

Meermans Needs Seven More To Haul County's CCC Boys On Thursday

Automobile donations were still being sought today by R. L. Meermans, supervisor of the local Federal-State Employment office and the man responsible for transporting about 75 Civilian Conservation Corps recruits to Butler on Thursday, August 2.

Seven individuals and firms had donated cars for the trip today, Mr. Meermans reported. About seven more are needed.

The county will have 60 of its 75 applicants chosen for duty in the forest camps at Butler, where quotas of 10 northwestern Pennsylvania counties will be subjected to medical examinations.

At 9 o'clock Thursday the group will meet in the Y gymnasium for final instructions and at 9:30 the caravan will depart for Butler. Drivers who offer machines may return home upon reaching Butler.

Should a car owner find it possible to donate his machine, he should call Bell 215 and report the fact.

Seek More Autos For Butler Trip

Meermans Needs Seven More
To Haul County's CCC
Boys On Thursday

Automobile donations were still being sought today by R. L. Meermans, supervisor of the local Federal-State Employment office and the man responsible for transporting about 75 Civilian Conservation Corps recruits to Butler on Thursday, August 7.

Seven individuals and firms had donated cars for the trip today, Mr. Meermans reported. About seven more are needed.

The county will have 60 of its 75 applicants chosen for duty in the forest camps at Butler, where quotas of northwestern Pennsylvania's counties will be subjected to medical examinations.

At 9 o'clock Thursday the group will meet in the Y gymnasium for final instructions and at 9:30 the caravan will depart for Butler. Drivers who offer machines may return home upon reaching Butler.

Should a car owner find it possible to donate his machine, he should call Bell 215 and report the fact.

seeking to alone for the bitter disappointment felt by the most ambitious people on earth when Britain's bluff induced him to forego carving a German possession out of Morocco—the Agadir incident, a humiliating surrender that threatened to dethrone him.

After Agadir there could be no peace. In Berlin, in Paris, in Petrograd, in London, the question became—When? When the Austrian ultimatum was sent to Serbia, men in all four capitals simply said, "So it has come at last!"

Nor is there any doubt elsewhere that this is Der Tag. On this date every stock exchange in the world closes.

Great Days—146 B. C.—Carthage was captured; and a city of 700,000 was completely destroyed to wreak revenge upon one man: Hannibal.

When the Roman senate learned Carthage had fallen, after a war that was to set back the development of Africa a thousand years, it ordered Gen. Scipio Aemilianus to wipe it off the earth. He did so literally!

Head Is Confirmed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 31.—Superintendent of Public Instruction James N. Rule today confirmed the election of Dr. Charles S. Miller, Lansdowne, as president of the Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

Dr. Miller was elected by the board of trustees of the college to succeed Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg. He will take over his duties on August 1.

One of the youngest college presidents in the state, Dr. Miller, at 44, has been teaching since 1913 when he graduated from Allegheny College. He has been superintendent of schools at Lansdowne for four years.

seeking to atone for the bitter disappointment felt by the most ambitious people on earth when Britain's bluff induced him to forego carving a German possession out of Morocco—the Agadir incident, a humiliating surrender that threatened to dethrone him.

After Agadir there could be no peace. In Berlin, in Paris, in Petrograd, in London, the question became—When? When the Austrian ultimatum was sent to Serbia, men in all four capitals simply said, "So it has come at last!"

Nor is there any doubt elsewhere that this is Der Tag. On this date every stock exchange in the world closes.

Great Days—146 B. C.—Carthage was captured; and a city of 700,000 was completely destroyed to wreak revenge upon one man, Hannibal. When the Roman senate learned Carthage had fallen, after, after a war that was to set back the development of Africa a thousand years, it ordered Gen. Scipio Aemilianus to wipe it off the earth. He did so literally!

Roman troops plundered and burned; temples, houses and fortifications were razed and the materials scattered; the ground ploughed and sowed in it.

July 31, 1790—The secretary of state granted the first United States patent—to the wrong person! It was given to Samuel Hopkins for a process of making pot and pearl ash. Actually, the process was the invention of his wife.

(Second patent was granted James Sampson, for making candles; third to Oliver Erane, for making flour and meal. These were the only patents the first year.)

Notable Nativities—Frederick Crouch, b. 1808, Confederate soldier who composed the immortal Kathleen Mavourneen. ** Helen P. Blatavsky, b. 1831, founder of Theosophy. It holds that the essential divinity is in man, evolution taking place by successive reincarnations or re-embodiments. ** John Ericsson, b. 1803, Swedish-American whose inventions revolutionized navigation. Among them: the screw-propeller. W. Warren Barbour, b. 1888, senator from New Jersey. ** Sebastian S. Kresge, b. 1867, merchant.

First Of All—Not New York or Washington but Cleveland was the first city in the United States to have electric street-lamps. They were installed by Charles F. Brush, Cleveland who invented the arc lamp.

Rule Approves Of Dr. Charles Miller For Slippery Rock

Election Of Lansdowne, Pa., Man As Slippery Rock
Head Is Confirmed

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, July 31.—Superintendent of Public Instruction James N. Rule today confirmed the election of Dr. Charles S. Miller, Lansdowne, as president of the Slippery Rock State Teachers College.

Dr. Miller was elected by the board of trustees of the college to succeed Dr. J. Linwood Eisenberg. He will take over his duties on August 1.

One of the youngest college presidents in the state, Dr. Miller, at 44, has been teaching since 1913 when he graduated from Allegheny College. He has been superintendent of schools at Lansdowne for four years.

Rainstorm Floods Camp Rentz Ground

Report No Damage Suffered; Underprivileged Boys Go
There August 7

The rainstorm which struck the county with torrential force Monday afternoon flooded the grounds at Camp Fred L. Rentz but did no damage to buildings, the Y. M. C. A. reported today. It was believed the storm which occurred there was not as severe as the one in New Castle.

Underprivileged boys of New Castle, selected by several service club here, will go to Camp Rentz on Tuesday, August 7 for a week's vacation. General Secretary R. L. Meermans said. The Y. M. C. A. camp staff directs the activities of the underprivileged group during its stay.

The Mohammedan world employs a lunar year of 354 days, divided into 12 lunar months which have alternately 30 and 29 days.

But if college men haven't sense enough to manage the country, how did so many sixth-graders get by?

Seek Protection Of Market Basket

Fear Exists That Cattle And Crop Shortage Will Cause Higher
Prices

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Peanut the shortage of cattle and crops caused by the drought may lead to profiteering this winter. Department of Agriculture and other government officials today were studying measures to protect the nation's market-basket.

A special committee, under Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is already dealing with this problem. Officials admit the danger and hope to prevent price-gouging through manipulation of surplus stocks.

Last winter the government
eased the market situation for dairy cattle, and hog shippers and distributors by huge purchases from accumulated stocks. These purchases were processed from the unemployed.

The government is now buying for slaughter cattle, sheep and other stock which eventually may reach 7-8,000,000 head, in an effort to salvage something from the ravages of the drought.

If profiteering is attempted, as scarcity of supplies is felt, the government is prepared to utilize reserves of drought-territory cattle
now being shipped to more fertile states, and if necessary, will have
at hand the accumulated stocks of canned meat now being processed
for the needy.

Schoolmen Meet At Penn State For Conference

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 31.—
School superintendents throughout
the state were headed for the Pennsylvania State college today for the annual conference of superintendents and principals. The conference opens at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Today's program deals with sources of revenue for public schools; tomorrow's with changing social and economic conditions, and their implications for education,
and Thursday's with school finance and professional organizations for teachers.

Opening the program on school revenue, D. E. Croesley of the state department of public instruction
speaks this afternoon on "The School Recovery," and Dr. E. E.
Lewis, Ohio State university, of
"National Sources of Revenue for School Support." Dr. George W.

How clever Ruth learned to prevent Choked Pores
... to guard against COSMETIC SKIN

"FRANKLY, I do use quite a lot of cosmetics and I used to think I removed them thoroughly.
"But of course I don't want to run the risk of getting unattractive Cosmetic Skin. I don't want my pores choked up with stale cosmetics—making my skin coarse and dull, maybe causing little blemishes and even blackheads.

"Better not take chances! So I'm removing cosmetics thoroughly the Hollywood way—with Lux Toilet Soap. Every night, and before I put on fresh make-up during the day, I use this soap. You'd think me conceited if I told you the compliments I'm getting."

Cosmetics Harmless if removed this way

Use cosmetics, of course, but remove them thoroughly with Lux Toilet Soap!
Its gentle lather is ACTIVE! Sinking deeply into tiny pores, it frees them from every trace of stale make-up, dust and dirt. Refreshes the skin—keeps it utterly lovely!

Seek Protection Of Market Basket

Fear Exists That Cattle And Crop Shortage Will Cause Higher
Prices

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Fearing that the shortage of cattle and crops caused by the drought may lead to profiteering this winter, Department of Agriculture and other government officials today were studying measures to protect the nation's market-basket.

A special committee, under Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is already dealing with this problem, officials admit the danger and hope to prevent price-gouging through manipulation of surplus stocks.

Last winter the government eased the market situation for dairy cattle, and hog shippers and distributors by huge purchases from accumulated stocks. These purchases were processed from the unemployed.

The government is now buying for slaughter cattle, sheep and other stock which eventually may reach 7,000,000 head, in an effort to salvage something from the ravages of the drought.

If profiteering is attempted, as scarcity of supplies is felt, the government is prepared to utilize reserves of drought-territory cattle now being shipped to more fertile states, and, if necessary, will have at hand the accumulated stocks of canned meat now being processed for the needy.

Seek Protection Of Market Basket

Fear Exists That Cattle And Crop Shortage Will Cause Higher
Prices

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Fearing that the shortage of cattle and crops caused by the drought may lead to profiteering this winter, Department of Agriculture and other government officials today were studying measures to protect the nation's market-basket.

A special committee, under Secretary of Agriculture Wallace is already dealing with this problem, officials admit the danger and hope
to prevent price-gouging through manipulation of surplus stocks.

Last winter the government
eased the market situation for dairy cattle, and hog shippers and distributors by huge purchases from accumulated stocks. These purchases were processed from the unemployed.

The government is now buying
for slaughter cattle, sheep and other
stock which eventually may reach 7-8,000,000 head, in an effort to salvage something from the ravages of the drought.

If profiteering is attempted, as
scarcity of supplies is felt, the government is prepared to utilize reserves of drought-territory cattle
now being shipped to more fertile
states, and if necessary, will have
at hand the accumulated stocks of canned meat now being processed
for the needy.

Schoolmen Meet At Penn State For Conference

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 31.—
School superintendents throughout
the state were headed for the Pennsylvania State college today for
the annual conference of superintendents and principals. The conference opens at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Today's program deals with
sources of revenue for public schools; tomorrow's with changing social and economic conditions, and
their implications for education,
and Thursday's with school finance
and professional organizations for teachers.

Opening the program on school revenue, D. E. Crooley of the state department of public instruction
School Recovery" and Dr. E. E.
Lewis, Ohio State university, of
"National Sources of Revenue for School Support." Dr. George W.
Hartmann, Penn. State, will present an estimate of "Financing Education in a New Social-Economic Order," and Dr. F. P. Weaver, head of agricultural economics at Penn.
State, will give data on "Cost of Government and Its Relation to School Support."

Urge Revision Of Constitution

Campaign For New State Constitution Gains Impetus In Philadelphia

SUGGESTS BRIEF MEASURE NOW

By WILLIAM G. WEART
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—The campaign for revision of Pennsylvania's antiquated constitution, framed in 1873 and now 61 years old, gained added impetus with the release of a report by the Pennsylvania Elections Association, in co-operation with the Philadelphia conference of government.

Boasting its statements with statistics, the association declares the average life of state constitutions in this country is less than a generation, usually about 20 to 25 years, and that "revision of the constitution of Pennsylvania is a problem of vital concern to every man, woman, and child in the commonwealth."

Changes that have taken place in the last two generations, such as the development of the telegraph and the cable, the telephone and the radio, the automobile and the airplane, have created new duties and responsibilities for government, which make revision imperative, according to the association.

New Needs
"We are living in a day with new needs, new and unprecedented," the report states. It adds: "We have a right to ask that we shall have as large a freedom as our forefathers enjoyed to deal with them in our fundamental law, and by appropriate legislation."

Although it admits there may be some justification for the election of the auditor general, the association suggests that the state treasurer and the secretary of internal affairs be appointed by the governor instead of elected.

The Pennsylvania Elections Association is headed by Franklin N.
Brewer, Delaware county, president;

Benjamin H. Luldiow, Montgomery county, chairman finance committee, and Thomas J. Walker, Philadelphia, secretary-treasurer.

Should Be Brief
In its outline for a revision of the present constitution, the body asserts the new constitution "should be brief, covering only essential matters."

"It would insist upon the principle of responsibility in government, giving to each branch of government extensive responsibilities and the power necessary to discharge them."

"It would add to the existing bill of rights a statement of some of the newer social and economic rights which have come to be vital."
Other recommendations for the framing of the "overdue new constitution," as made in the report, included:

"A smaller legislative body;
"A court system established by a clause similar to that in our federal constitution, which would give the legislature freedom to enact such statutes as might be necessary to establish and maintain a satisfactory and adequate court system."

"Improvements in the conduct of elections, with the secretary of the Commonwealth having definite administrative control over elections, in which the principle of the short ballot would be introduced;

"Centralization of tax collection under the state government, with collection of local taxes on a fee basis eliminated and with equalization of assessments assured by a state tax commission;

"An enlargement and revision of the units of local government, which would make possible city-county consolidation in Philadelphia, drastic reduction of the number of school districts and unification of police and fire protection and of health and welfare services;

"Authorization of old age pensions, direct state relief, unemployment insurance and social security legislation generally, and finally,

"An amendment permitting adoption of amendments by one legislative action with approval by a majority of the electors voting thereon at the next election with no restrictions as to the type, number or time at which proposals might be submitted."

party for state senate in the Mercer-Crawford county district necessitates the selection of a party candidate. Party rules provide for the selection by the executive committee of the party organization. As two counties are involved it is expected a joint meeting of the two executive committees will be held. In view of the fact that Mercer county was the home of the successful candidate it is expected that party selection will come from here. The deceased nominee was opposed by Glenn Lav, Sharpsville attorney.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. July 30, two arrests on charges as follows: drunk-ness 1 and suspicion 1.

An East Side businessman Monday caught a young lad rifling cars on the East Side and after the boy had been taken to police station, the chief of detectives, W. G. McMullen, asked point-blank: "What did you do with the golf clubs you stole?"
The youngster did not dream the police suspected him. He told them, he told McMullen, to a man he did not know in East Washington street;
then told of having sold a fishing rod, reel and flashlight to another man. While making an investigation at the home of the purchaser of the latter articles the police discovered a numbers book in which notations had been made. The police booked him under the name of John Frank. He has been ordered into police headquarters.

Nineteen hundred tons of amiesite have been spread on Cedar and Sampson streets, according to City Engineer Hoskins. The former project was completed yesterday. Sampson street is approximately half finished. The amiesite was laid on top of the street car rails in Sampson street, and the work was abandoned years ago when operations between New Castle and Sharon ceased. The city got started on Mahoning avenue resurfacing this morning. Ten thousand tons of amiesite were purchased for the projects here.

Police yesterday received a report that recently gasoline had been drained several times from automobiles in Moody avenue near Edison avenue. If the perpetrators are smart they will either cease draining gasoline or shift the scene of operations. Several youths who essayed to get a full tank of gasoline at the carnival grounds received the surprise of their young lives, when after robbing a car were surprised to see Corporal L. J. Lawton of the state highway patrol standing alongside of them and were much more surprised when he said: "Pour it back." They received a 10 days' stay in jail for tampering with a motor vehicle.

Today is the last opportunity for taxpayers to pay their 1934 school taxes and receive one per cent discount. The taxes will be paid at face value August 1. At the same time another one per cent penalty will be added to the 1934 city tax.
Yesterday a large number of persons availed themselves of the one per cent discount on school taxes.

More than 1,000 fingerprints have been made by Chief of Detectives
W. G. McMullen since a year ago December 1, last. A copy of every fingerprint was sent to the department of justice and also to the state police. So far McMullen has not received from private firms requests for information concerning persons whom he fingerprinted. It is doubtful if he would essay any information to any persons, outside of law enforcement agencies. According to McMullen, persons accused of every crime imaginable have been finger-printed here. The list includes murder, burglary and attempted poisoning of mothers-in-law. One man fingerprinted here had gone through the process 32 times, another 12 times and a week ago Sunday a man who gave police a struggle before they landed him in jail had been fingerprinted a dozen times. He was fingerprinted in another city after having been taken into custody on the charge of having attempted to poison his mother-in-law.

Enthusiastic Letters from Car Dealers New G-3 ALL-WEATHER!

Warning!
Look at the NON-SKID in the center of this tread—the spot that counts, because that's where the tread contacts the ground. When it comes to safety, insurance figures show that 5 1/2 times as many accidents are due to skidding as to blowouts and punctures combined. Remember this when others try to duplicate what the "G-3" gives you: You have to have "NON-SKID MILEAGE" and safety—and you have to have Goodyear Superstret beneath this type of tread to make it a real success.

gentlemen, your advertising of 13% more non-skid mileage is all wrong. You can safely say, in my opinion, that you have 75% more than ever before. Chevrolet Dealer, Wilkesboro, N.C.

Last November, we had two Ford V-8s, hard drivers who had considerable tire trouble. Upon recent investigation we find that these tires showed little or no wear and have covered 13,000 and 15,000 miles. And the only reason that can account for this exceptional "G-3" tires—Ford Dealer, Minn.

We believe that this tire is far superior as to traction and ease of steering than any tire that we have ever driven. After several thousand miles of demon- stration service the new "G-3" Goodyear tires show no notice- able tread wear whatsoever. Hupmobile Dealer, Mankato, Minn.

Our tire has caused no end of comment from our customers. They tell us that their tires have given from 50% to 75% more non-skid tire mileage than any other tire they have ever used. Plymouth Dealer, Or- lando, Fla.

We have several customers that have been using "G-3's" for some time over all kinds of roads, and they have in every instance come through with fly- ing colors. We are sure they are going to out-perform any type of tire that we have sold our customers in the past. Chevrolet Dealer, Shelton, Wash.

Sensational new Goodyear Tires that defy fast tread-wear prove their success as original equipment

First released on lower-priced cars—"G-3" rolls up remarkable non-skid mileage records

Why "G-3" can "take it"

What the public is discovering about this wonder tire today, we learned on the Goodyear test fleet months ago.

To prove it would stand up on today's fast-starting, quick-stopping, mile-a-minute cars, we gave it the works. Ordered test drivers to "speed up to 50—jam on the brakes"—night and day.

Then, to be doubly sure, we quietly shipped a few of these amazing tires, mainly in smaller sizes—and waited for the public's verdict. It came—a deluge of praise, as you can read.

And no wonder! The tread is broader—flatter—has more non-skid blocks—averages 2 pounds more rubber per tire. It has patented Goodyear Superstret beneath that mighty tread—the only ply material that could sustain its heavier load.

Naturally, such a tire costs extra to build—but it costs you nothing extra to buy.

THE GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER COMPANY, INC., AKRON, OHIO

May we congratulate you on a 1934 automobile tire for 1934 automobiles. Mileage reports have been very satisfactory—the new "G-3's" should exceed your 43% statement—Chrysler Plymouth Dealer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

We have one customer who has driven his Terraplane 27,000 miles since last fall and the treads show very little wear and no other tire in the new "G-3's".
Terraplane Dealer, St. Joe, Ind.

We have had many customers to whom we have sold these cars tell us that they are getting a much better tire than they ever had on any kind of tire they have used.—Dodge and Plymouth Dealer, Hartford, Conn.

WHAT OWNERS SAY:

CHEVROLET: "We looked up the record on the set of "G-3" tires placed on our Chevrolet in September as the performance was so outstanding. Our accurate records show 16,226 miles. These tires show practically no wear."—W. S. J., Montgomery, Ala.

FORD: "Have driven about 20,000 miles with absolutely no tire trouble. All of these tires still have good non-skid patterns on them, and I am confident of getting 27,000 to 28,000 miles before they become bald. I drive a Ford V-8, purchased last year."—G. C.

TERRAPLANE: "I put an Essex Terraplane last fall equipped with the Goodyear "G-3" A.W.T. tires. To date these tires have run 28,000 miles and the treads show very little wear. Am more than pleased with them."—R. L., St. Johnsbury, Vt.

PLYMOUTH: "Have driven about 20,000 miles and tires show practically no wear."

On Court House Hill

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has received an invitation to attend a reunion of the 32nd Infantry Association at Canton, O., on September 1-2. Sheriff Pritchard was a member of the 32nd during the World War.

County Treasurer Wm. O. Pitts reports collections on last Saturday amounted to $14,018.29, distributed as follows: County, $8,976.08, state, $544.21, poor, $4,488. Today is the last one on which the five per cent discount can be obtained. Taxes are payable at their face during August.

In the case of the Credit Service of Pennsylvania, Incorporated, against Elizabeth Gray, surviving obligator on a note, Mrs. Gray has presented a petition to court asking that an issue be framed. Mrs. Gray signed a note with her husband, the late William P. Gray. She claims that she was an accommodation maker and received none of the proceeds, and therefore is not liable. The petition was granted.

Connie Wardman has issued an execution against W. W. Smeal, of 201 Ashland avenue, as the result of a controversy over the payment for a truck, the case being one that has been in court for some time, and in which judgement was awarded the plaintiff. A levy has been made on busses and other paraphernalia of Smeal, but it is believed that the case will be settled.

There was no sale of the H. B.
Russell property at Rock Springs which was scheduled for yesterday.
Personal property was levied on by the sheriff, but a settlement was made, and the writ stayed.

Mrs. Charlotte Burt has asked court that an issue be framed in a case brought by the People's National Bank of Ellwood City in which she is defendant. The suit is based upon notes which she alleges that she signed with her husband, as an accommodation maker only and that she received none of the proceeds.

In the case of William J. Allen against W. Walter Duff, receiver of the Consumers Sand and Gravel Company, a petition has been filed in court, asking that the same standing as a creditor be given to A. Leshon and Sons Rope Company, as has been given to L. B. Foster and Company.

Records at the register and recorder's office last week show that 63 instruments of all kinds were recorded, of which 31 were deeds. The list of deeds was larger than usual owing to the recording of deeds issued by Sheriff Pritchard for properties sold. There were 22 mortgages recorded. Seven were to the Home Owners Loan Corporation and totaled $28,705.99. Nine to Building and Loan Association totaled $15,150. Four to the Federal and bank and the land bank commissioner totaled $9,000. There was one to a trust company for $1-500 and one to an individual for $1-200.

SEEK TO SALVAGE DATA FROM BALLOON WRECK

Frail Hope Is Held Of Result

Spectograph May Have Been Saved, Barograph May Not Be Broken

NEW FLIGHT IS NOT CONSIDERED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Officials of the War Department, Bureau of Standards and the National Geographic Society today clung to the frail hope that science still may salvage worthwhile data from the ill-fated stratosphere balloon, which came to grief Saturday in Nebraska.

"It is known," the society announced "that the spectograph was saved, and there is a strong possibility the barograph, which was sealed in a box which did not break when the gondola crashed, may be uninjured."

Spectograph Saved
The spectograph, which hung outside the balloon attached to a parachute and thus was saved from destruction, automatically studied the spectrum, or light-rays, during progress of the venture. The barograph was to record the variations of atmospheric pressure, concerning which science knows little at great altitude.

A joint informal inquiry into possible causes of the crash will be held by the war department and the society, sponsors of the flight, and the bureau of standards, which was to have made an official inspection and report on the sealed instruments, had a successful descent been achieved.

The society definitely stated that possibility of another flight, this year or at any future time, had been precluded by Saturday's failure.

The Peaceful Catskills.
Automobiles Pass Trains.
Dollfuss Farewell.
Marie Dressler's Last Call.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THIS IS WRITTEN in the Catskill Mountains, one hundred and sixty miles from New York by road. Here old Rip Van Winkle took his long nap, and heard the rumble of bowling by small mountain gnomes.

There could be no more beautiful country. Hundreds of square miles of sloping mountain tops bright green, close by, pale blue in the distance, offering homes worthy of intelligent human beings.

AT PRESENT the few that come from cities, live in the valleys, for climbing high mountains is hard, horses could not help, and there are no automobile roads to mountain tops.

But the flying machines will supply inhabitants for all these mountains, in generations not far away. Men and their families will fly from work in cities, or on level farm or factory land, to mountains and high hills where the air is always pure and cool.

Eagles and other superior birds fly to the high places to roost. A superior race of men will do the same, living on the earth's high places, flying down to work, and back to live, where men should live.

RAILROAD TRAINS come lumbering, puffing, groaning up these mountain regions, two locomotives hooked in front, painfully making fifteen miles an hour, while hundreds of small automobiles, on roads steeper than the tracks, speed along at fifty to sixty miles.

The train weighs more than one million pounds, carries about forty thousand pounds of passengers, if well loaded. The automobile, weighing thirty-five hundred pounds, carries one thousand pounds of passenger weight, plus baggage.

RAILROAD MEN, worried by automobile competition should think about that. Their rails are smoother than any highway, and free of crossroads.

A light automobile carries five persons to these regions and back for five dollars. The railroad return tickets cost more than thirty dollars. The only thing that can meet such competition is brains.

NRA cannot do it. Even Uncle Sam's pocketbook cannot do it, for more than a little while.

DOLLFUSS is buried, pleasantly, on a hill looking over Vienna, which he will not see again. Men often choose high places for graves when they can no longer enjoy the view.

Many killers have followed the Dollfuss murder, of which the full story will probably never be told. Unimportant little men are stood up to be shot or led out to be hanged. More clever men that led them know when to leave.

LATER, A NEW public opinion may dig up Dollfuss' bones and scatter or otherwise disgrace them. That happened to Cromwell, after he rid England of a worthless king and made England's fleet "triumphant on every sea."

It happened to Voltaire, after he laid the foundations of the French revolution and of the freedom and greatness of France.

Fortunately, what you do to a man's bones makes little difference, if you do not interfere with his thought while he lives.

DOLLFUSS AND Hitler, both "of the lower class," prove, as did Voltaire and Cromwell, also of the lower class, that there is no question of class, or birth, where innate power is concerned.

The aristocratic Duke de Saint-Simon condescendingly mentions, in his memoirs, a certain young man named Aroniet, who calls himself de Voltaire, adding:

"I mention him only because his father served my father and myself faithfully as notary."

De Saint Simon had other unsuspected reasons for mentioning that young man, whose work was destined to drive many dukes and other "nobles" into useful labor.

MARIE DRESSLER is dead, after a brave fight against death. The world learns from her that success depends on brains and courage. She lost the good looks of youth shortly after forty, so Mr. Ziegfeld decided that he could not give her work, as he had hoped to do.

She struggled, unsuccessfully, for fourteen years, lost all her savings, never lost her courage. And when she died, at sixty-two, she was one of the greatest successes in moving pictures, mostly highly paid, respected and admired, with no help from any beauty parlor.

Moving picture men should notice that Miss Dressler was able to earn great profits for her producers, in plays NOT immoral, clean plays dealing with the normal interests of normal human beings.

SOVIET RUSSIA finds herself in possession of a great treasure, thanks to the Greek Church, which she has treated so harshly. The churches and cathedrals, now government property, are said to contain hundreds of millions' worth of precious objects, sacred images "Ikon" framed in solid gold, and huge doors of massive silver. One image of the Virgin is said to have been ornamented with more than two thousand diamonds, of which many had hoped to do.

CHARLES L. FLICK, correspondent of Universal Service, reports anti-religious outbreaks in Austria as savage as any in Russia. Because Dollfuss was a devout Roman Catholic his Nazi enemies have assumed that Austrian priests were all his allies, and a number of priests are reported killed. Universal Service described Nazis firing on priests in Carinthia because the priests refused permission to establish Nazi machine gun nests in church bell-towers.

"At Leoben," says Universal Service, "Nazis broke into a church and wounded a priest. Even the church belfry they then poured a withering fire on advancing Fascist Heimwehren. The Heimwehr troops, mostly all devout Catholics, hesitated before bringing artillery to bear on the church."

Make Plans For Canal Petitions

BOY SCOUTS TO CARRY PETITIONS

Meeting in the Youngstown Club on Monday night, representatives from Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Columbiana, Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver Counties discussed the work of circulating a huge canal petition in the counties on August 6 and completed plans for the work.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Canal Committee of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, the representatives being for the most part newspaper publishers and Boy Scout Executives. The work of circulating the petition will be handled by the Boy Scouts headed by Robert Manchester, Scout Commissioner and Harry H. Hunter, Scout Executive.

At the meeting Ralph P. White, head of the Youngstown Chamber outlined the plans to be followed.

Tonight in the Youngstown Y. M. C. A., C. F. Hammond, chairman Citizens Committee on Waterways Petitions will meet with scout executives and commissioners of the seven counties for the purpose of completing the final details of the petition drive. Speaking of the work Mr. Hunter said, "The mission of the Boy Scouts is to render service. All Scouts and Troops served by the Mahoning Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America are planning to participate in Canal Day, August 6."

Scout officials estimate there will be more than 200 scouts and scouters taking part in the campaign. The actual area to be covered approximates that of New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia and in population exceeds that of each of thirteen individual states of the Union.

At the meeting Monday night it was explained that the purpose of the Canal Day petition drive on August 6 was to secure 200,000 names on a giant petition which will be sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, urging him to include the Lake Erie-Ohio canal project in the coming PWA program.

The sponsoring body of the drive is the Canal Committee of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, comprised of J. C. Argetsinger, C. C. Brainard, B. F. Fairless, J. J. Farrell, Frank Farnell and Henry A. Roemer.

An interesting exhibit of fire-fighting apparatus and equipment will be one of the features of the gathering.

The outstanding social event will be a banquet and dance in the main dining room of the Crystal ball room of the Hotel Conneaut on Saturday evening, August 11.

There will also be a series of water battles between the departments of the various cities.

In addition to President Robinson, other local officers include Perry McFarland, corresponding secretary, and Harry Colley and George Harper, as directors.

There are almost perfect husbands and almost perfect wives, but alas! they aren't married to one another.

Members will be present from the seven counties comprising the association in Erie, Warren, Venango, Crawford, Mercer, Forest and Lawrence counties.

Prisoners Combat Sterilization Order

To Carry Contest To Supreme Court In Oklahoma After Reverse

(International News Service)
MCALISTER, Okla., July 31.—In an effort to forestall sterilization of prison and insane asylum inmates of Oklahoma, convicts at the state penitentiary today threatened to carry the issue to the state supreme court if necessary.

Losers in the first contest when the state board of affairs ordered the sterilization of George Winkler, classed as a habitual criminal, penitentiary inmates served notice of an appeal to the district court.

To Carry On Fight
In giving notice of the appeal attorneys for the inmates said the fight will be carried to the Oklahoma supreme court should the district court return an unfavorable decision.

The decision concerning Winkler was regarded as a test case. He was serving a term for burglary and was scheduled to be released in April, 1935.

Frail Hope Is Held Of Result

Spectograph May Have Been Saved; Barograph May Not Be Broken

NEW FLIGHT IS NOT CONSIDERED

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Officials of the War Department, Bureau of Standards and the National Geographic Society today clung to the frail hope that science still may salvage worthwhile data from the ill-fated stratosphere balloon, which came to grief Saturday in Nebraska.

"It is known," the society announced "that the spectograph was saved, and there is a strong possibility the barograph, which was sealed in a box which did not break when the gondola crashed, may be uninjured."

The spectograph, which hung outside the balloon attached to a parachute and thus was saved from destruction, automatically studied the spectrum, or light-rays, during progress of the venture. The barograph was to record the variations of atmospheric pressure, concerning which science knows little at great altitude.

A joint informal inquiry into possible causes of the crash will be held by the war department and the society, sponsors of the flight, and the bureau of standards, which was to have made an official inspection and report on the sealed instruments, had a successful descent been achieved.

The society definitely stated that possibility of another flight, this year or at any future time, had been precluded by Saturday's failure.

The Peaceful Catskills. Automobiles Pass Trains. Dollfuss Farewell. Marie Dressler's Last Call. By ARTHUR BRISBANE

THIS IS WRITTEN in the Catskill Mountains, one hundred and sixty miles from New York by road. Here old Rip Van Winkle took his long nap, and heard the rumble of bowling by small mountain gnomes. There could be no more beautiful country. Hundreds of square miles of sloping mountain tops bright green, close by, pale blue in the distance, offering homes worthy of intelligent human beings.

AT PRESENT the few that come from cities, live in the valleys, for climbing high mountains is hard, horses could not help, and there are no automobile roads to mountain tops.

But the flying machines will supply inhabitants for all these mountains, in generations to come. Men and their families will fly from work in cities, or on level farm or factory land, to mountains and high hills where the air is always pure and cool.

Eagles and other superior birds fly to the high places to roost. A superior race of men will do the same, living on the earth's high places, flying down to work, and back to live, where men should live.

RAILROAD TRAINS come lumbering, puffing, groaning up these mountain regions, two locomotives hooked in front, peacefully making fifteen miles an hour, while hundreds of small automobiles, on roads steeper than the tracks, speed along at fifty to sixty miles.

The train weights more than one million pounds, carries about forty thousand pounds of passengers, if well loaded. The automobile, weighing thirty-five hundred pounds, carries one thousand pounds of passenger weight, plus baggage.

RAILROAD MEN, worried by automobile competition should think about that. Their rails are smoother than any highway, and free of crossroads.

Light automobile carries five persons to these regions and back for five dollars. Five railroad return tickets cost more than thirty dollars. The only thing that can meet such competition is brains. NRA cannot do it. Even Uncle Sam's pocketbook cannot do it, for more than a little while.

DOLLFUSS is buried, pleasantly, on a hill looking over Vienna, which he will not see again. Men often choose high places for graves when they can no longer enjoy the view. Many killers have followed the Dollfuss murder, of which the full story will probably never be told. Unimportant little men are stood up to be shot or led out to be hanged. More clever men that led them know when to leave.

HALF A MILLION Austrians lined the roads as Dollfuss passed, mourning for him, and the farewell speeches expressed true feeling and affection. The last words at his grave were: "Farewell! I call one word to you that ever was on your lips and in your heart—Austria."

LATER, A NEW public opinion may dig up Dollfuss' bones and scatter or otherwise disgrace them. That happened to Cromwell, after he rid England of a worthless king and made England's fleet "triumphant on every sea."

It happened to Voltaire, after he said the foundations of the French revolution and paved the way for greatness of France.

Fortunately, what you do to a

man's bones makes little difference, if you do not interfere with his thought while he lives.

DOLLFUSS AND Hitler, both "of the lower class," prove, as did Voltaire and Cromwell, also of the lower class, that there is no question of class, or birth, where innate power is concerned.

The aristocratic Duke de Saint-Simon condescendingly mentions, in his memoirs, a certain young man named Arouet, who calls himself de Voltaire, adding:

"I mention him only because his father served my father and myself faithfully as notary."

De Saint-Simon had other unsuspected reasons for mentioning that young man, whose work was destined to drive many dukes and other "nobles" into useful labor.

MARIE DRESSLER is dead, after a brave fight against death. The world learns from her that success depends on brains and courage. She lost the good looks of youth shortly after forty, so Mr. Ziegfeld decided that he could not give her work, as he had hoped to do.

She struggled, unsuccessfully, for fourteen years, lost all her savings, never lost her courage. And when she died, at sixty-two, she was one of the greatest successes in moving pictures, mostly highly paid, respected and admired, with no help from any beauty parlor.

Moving picture men should notice that Miss Dressler was able to earn great profits for her producers, in plays NOT immoral, clean plays dealing with the normal interests of normal human beings.

SOVIET RUSSIA finds herself in possession of a great treasure, thanks to the Greek Church, which she has treated so harshly. The churches and cathedrals, now government property, are said to contain hundreds of millions' worth of precious objects, sacred images "Ikons" framed in solid gold, and huge doors of massive silver. One image of the Virgin is said to have been ornamented with more than two thousand diamonds, of which many had been stolen.

CHARLES L. FLICK, correspondent of Universal Service, reports anti-religious outbreaks in Austria as savage as any in Russia. Because Dollfuss was a devout Roman Catholic his Nazi enemies have assumed that Austrian priests were all his allies, and a number of priests are reported killed. Universal Service described Nazis firing on priests in Carinthia because the priests refused permission to establish Nazi machine gun nests in church bell-towers.

"At Leoben," says Universal Service, "Nazis broke into a church and wounded a priest. From the church belfry they then poured a withering fire on advancing Fascist Hitler wehrens. The Heimwehr troopers, mostly all devout Catholics, hesitated before bringing artillery to bear on the church."

Make Plans For Canal Petitions

BOY SCOUTS TO CARRY PETITIONS

Meeting in the Youngstown Club on Monday night, representatives from Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Columbiana, Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver Counties discussed the work of circulating a huge canal petition in the counties on August 6 and completed plans for the work.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Canal Committee of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, the representatives being for the most part newspaper publishers and Boy Scout Executives. The work of circulating the petition will be handled by the Boy Scouts headed by Robert Manchester, Scout Commissioner and Harry H. Hunter, Scout Executive.

At the meeting, Mr. White, head of the Youngstown Chamber outlined the plans to be followed.

Tonight in the Youngstown Y. M. C. A., C. F. Hammond, chairman Citizens Committee on Waterways Petitions will meet with scout executives and commissioners of the seven counties for the purpose of completing the final details of the petition drive.

Speaking of the work Mr. Hunter said, "the mission of the Boy Scouts is to render service. All Scouts and Troops served by the Mahoning Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America are planning to participate in Canal Day, August 6."

Scout officials estimate there will be more than 2000 scouts and scouters taking part in the campaign. The actual area to be covered approximates that of New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia and in population exceeds that of each of thirteen individual states of the Union.

At the meeting Monday night it was explained that the purpose of the Canal Day petition drive on August 6 was to secure 200,000 names on a giant petition which will be sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, urging him to include the Lake Erie-Ohio canal project in the coming PWA program.

The sponsoring body of the drive is the Canal Committee of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, comprised of J. C. Argetsinger, C. C. Brainard, B. F. Fairless, J. J. Farrell, Frank Funnell and Henry A. Roemer.

Frank H. Robinson Of This City President Of Northwestern Association

PLAN SESSIONS AT CONNEAUT LAKE

More than 300 firemen from the northwestern section of Pennsylvania will attend the annual convention at Conneaut Lake, August 10, 11, and 12. President Frank H. Robinson of this city stated today, when members of the Northern Pennsylvania Firemen's Association will gather.

Members will be present from the seven counties comprising the association in Erie, Warren, Venango, Crawford, Mercer, Forest and Lawrence counties.

An interesting exhibit of fire-fighting apparatus and equipment will be one of the features of the gathering.

The outstanding social event will be a banquet and dance in the dining room of the Crystal ball room of the Hotel Conneaut on Saturday evening, August 11.

There will also be a series of water battles between the departments of the various cities.

In addition to President Robinson, other local officers include Perry McFarland, corresponding secretary, and Harry Colley and George Harper, as directors.

There are almost perfect husbands and almost perfect wives, but Alas! they aren't married to one another.

BOY SCOUTS TO CARRY PETITIONS

Meeting in the Youngstown Club on Monday night, representatives from Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Columbiana, Mercer, Lawrence and Beaver Counties discussed the work of circulating a huge canal petition in the counties on August 6 and completed plans for the work.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Canal Committee of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, the representatives being for the most part newspaper publishers and Boy Scout Executives. The work of circulating the petition will be handled by the Boy Scouts headed by Robert Manchester, Scout Commissioner and Harry H. Hunter, Scout Executive.

Ralph P. White, head of the Youngstown Chamber outlined the plan to be followed.

Tonight in the Youngstown Y. M. C. A. C. F. Hammond, chairman Citizens Committee on Waterways Petitions will meet with scout executives and commissioners of the seven counties for the purpose of completing the final details of the petition drive. Speaking of the work Mr. Hunter said, "the mission of the Boy Scouts is to render service. All Scouts and Troops served by the Mahoning Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America are planning to participate in Canal Day, August 6."

Scout officials estimate there will be more than 2000 scouts and scouters taking part in the campaign. The actual area to be covered approximates that of New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia and in population exceeds that of each of thirteen individual states of the Union.

At the meeting Monday night it was explained that the purpose of the Canal Day petition drive on August 6 was to secure 200,000 names on a giant petition which will be sent to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, urging him to include the Lake Erie-Ohio canal project in the coming PWA program.

The sponsoring body of the drive is the Canal Committee of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, comprised of J. C. Arglesinger, C. C. Brainard, B. F. Fairless, J. J. Farrell, Frank Funnell and Henry A. Roemer.

An interesting exhibit of fire-fighting apparatus and equipment will be one of the features of the gathering.

The outstanding social event will be a banquet and dance in the main dining room of the Crystal ball room of the Hotel Conneaut on Saturday evening, August 11.

There will also be a series of water battles between the departments of the various cities.

In addition to President Robinson, other local officers include Perry McFarland, corresponding secretary, and Harry Colley and George Harper, as directors.

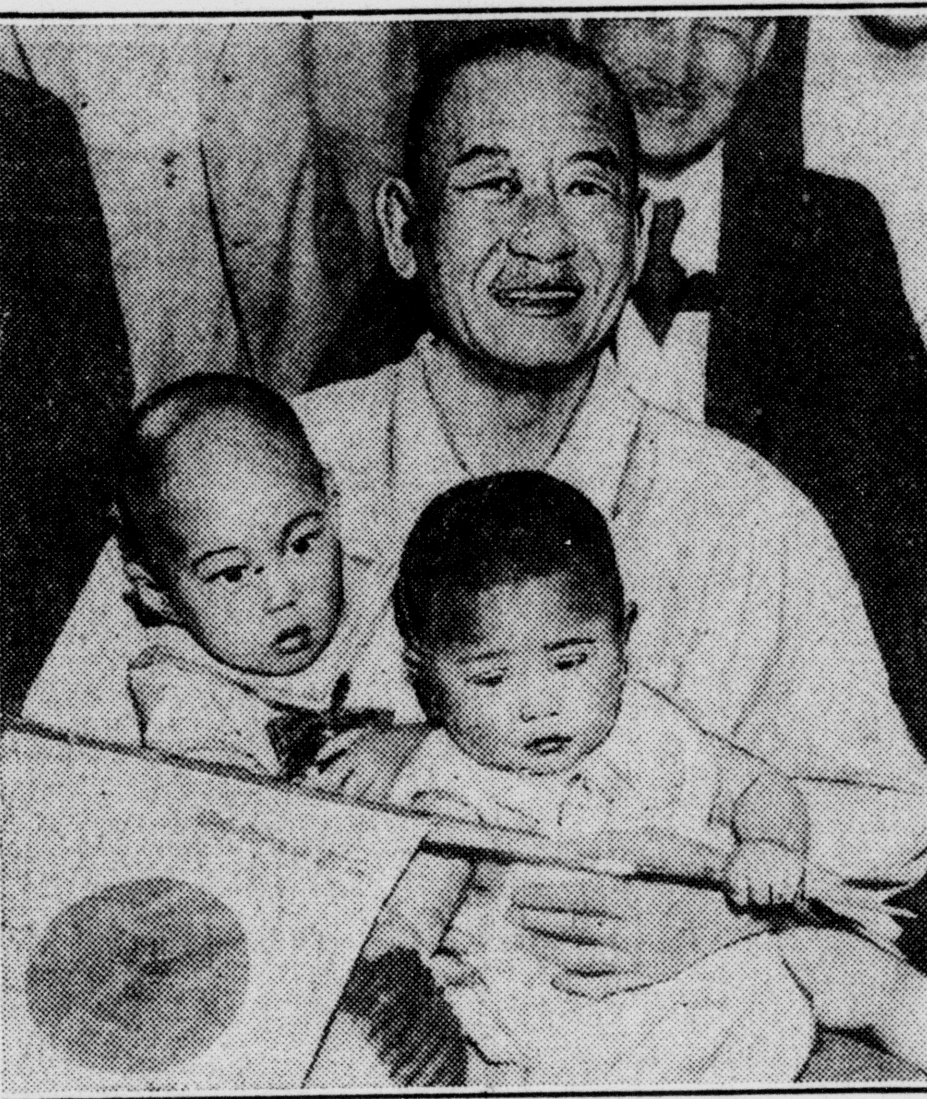

There are almost perfect husbands and almost perfect wives, but alas! they aren't married to one another.

MEADVILLE, Pa., July 31.—Frank Huss, 42, of Summit township died in a local hospital today from injuries sustained in a fall from a load of hay. Huss suffered a broken neck. He had been unconscious up to the time of his death, hospital attendants said.

Prisoners Combat Sterilization Order

To Carry Contest To Supreme Court In Oklahoma After Reverse

(International News Service)

McALESTER, Okla., July 31.—In an effort to forestall sterilization of prison and insane asylum inmates of Oklahoma, convicts at the state penitentiary today threatened to carry the issue to the state supreme court if necessary.

Losers in the first contest when the state board of affairs ordered the sterilization of George Winkler, classed as an habitual criminal, penitentiary inmates served notice of an appeal to the district court.

To Carry On Fight
In giving notice of the appeal attorneys for the inmates said the fight will be carried to the Oklahoma supreme court should the district court return an unfavorable decision.

The decision concerning Winkler was regarded as a test case. He was serving a term for burglary and was scheduled to be released in April, 1935.

MEADVILLE, Pa., July 31.—Frank Huss, 42, of Summit township died in a local hospital today from injuries sustained in a fall from a load of hay. Huss suffered a broken neck. He had been unconscious up to the time of his death, hospital attendants said.

Local Marine Assigned To Century Of Progress

Selected as one of the 125 U. S. Marines, who presence adds another touch of color to the Century of Progress being held in Chicago, Private Marion Morosky, of New Castle, arrived there recently with the group of sea soldiers and their band, scheduled to remain for the duration of the exposition.

The Marines form a part of the military and naval complement chosen to represent their respective branches of the service at the fair. They are stationed at Camp Franklin D. Roosevelt, and make a smart appearance when they turn out for the various official ceremonies, or for "sunset parades," which are held four times a week. Picked men from the Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va., make up the detachment. Popularly known as the Marine Contingent, the unit's official name is Company "A," Second Battalion, Fleet Marine Force.

with shotguns and under the command of chief of police Rankin brought down 1200 of the birds.

The "casualties" were given to charitable institutions with the prospect that blackbird pie would appear on their tables for some time to come.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Damage Wrought
Here By Storm

Wall Of Pitzer Brothers Garage Blown In; Traffic Brought To Standstill

Practically all vehicles were brought to a standstill and a path of destruction which will total into the hundreds of dollars was spread throughout Mahoningtown by the violent rainstorm of Monday afternoon.

Today city and state workmen are engaged in clearing away the debris covering the streets and highways of the ward and vicinity. Tons of gravel and boulders were washed down on North Liberty street. Atlantic avenue and North Cedar street from the unpaved Swansea and Wilder avenue in seventh ward and Maple street in Oakland. A considerable amount of fill work will be necessary to put these unpaved streets back into shape. It means that all work of ashing and scraping done this summer goes to naught.

For more than an hour and a half no street car transportation was available in seventh ward. Automobiles venturing to make the trip either came to a standstill with water in their distributors or had to make detours from their regular routes.

A tie-up occurred at the intersection of Mahoning avenue with North Liberty street and traffic came to a forced standstill.

The P. & L. E. bus, operated by one of William Smeal's driver's was unable to get through, along with the other machines. A telephone call to Mr. Smeal brought another bus and two cars to the scene. One of the cars became stranded but the passengers were transferred successfully to the others and the train connection was made with only a short delay.

Perhaps the greatest damage was wrought at the Pitzer Brothers garage, 17 Lacock street. Part of the front wall of the huge cement block structure was blown in by the violence of the wind and rain. Heavy blocks crashed down on a practically new V8 truck inside, reducing the body to shambles. The owners estimate that the damage to the truck cannot be repaired for less than $150. The repairs to the building will likely cost a similar sum. In other parts of the ward windows and street lamps were broken, trees and limbs were felled, gardens were washed out and baby chicks drowned.

Bus transportation to Bessemer and Eron Valley was uninterrupted although North Beaver township and surrounding townships received full brunt of the storm.

GOING TO CAMP
Mahoningtown Girl Scout Troop will be represented at Camp John M. Phillips next week by eight and possibly nine girls. Those expecting to go to camp are undergoing physical examinations this afternoon.

For those not attending regular camp a "day camp" will be conducted August 6 to 11 at Cascade Park and it is probable that the rest of the local troop will take part in that.

CORN FLAT, FRUIT DOWN
An inventory of the garden damage here reveals that it amounts to considerable. Corn was blown flat, breaking off many stalks, fruit was blown from trees, limbs split off, and flower gardens ruined. The tops of two umbrella trees in front of the E. W. Guy home, West Madison avenue, were blown off. Many garden vegetables were carried many yards from their vines and plants.

SOAKED, WE BET
When the Mahoningtown Boy Scouts send in their report of Monday afternoon's storm it should be the most authentic description of any. The boys, at their camp along the Hickory Creek, went through the storm with only a tent between them and the elements. With them is Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Dungan.

Seventy Attend
Trainmen Picnic

Outing At Cascade Park Last Evening Is Highly Successful

A little thing like a rain storm can't hurt a big thing like the annual picnic of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen No. 955 and its Mabel Wilson Auxiliary No. 567.

A crowd of 70 men, women and children gathered for the picnic at Cascade Park Monday evening and sat down to a delicious supper at 6:30 o'clock. The heavy rainstorm of a short time previous did not keep the crowd away, only served to whet appetites.

Bingo was an interesting after supper diversion and prizes were won by Ruth Collingwood, Mrs. Geo. Fisher, E. M. Johnston, Dorothy Metzler, Mrs. W. G. Campbell, Teddy Metzler, O. R. McConnell, Bernard Doone, Clarence Collingwood, Junior Fisher, Ruth Metzler and Ruth Taylor.

In addition to the members of the two lodges, their husbands, wives and children, several special guests were present.

Credit for the perfect planning of menu and program goes to Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. Viola Evans, Mrs. O. A. Harper, R. J. Metzler, C. R. McConnell and G. G. Erickson.

MEETING CALLED

A meeting of the Co-operative Workers of America is called for Wednesday night, 8:00 o'clock, at 201 South Liberty street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
John McConahey, of Pittsburgh, is spending a few days here.

Mrs. Grace Fox and Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, of Baltimore, Md., spent part of Monday in this ward visiting several friends.

Former New Castle residents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McConahey and little sons of McConahey, were recent callers in seventh ward.

Robert Wilson, of West Madison avenue, has returned home after attending the summer sessions at Thiel College, Greenville.

Former Cashier Of
Bank Is Arrested

Claimed He Took $2500 In Liberty Bonds From Vault

BUTLER, Pa., July 31.—Charged with theft of $2,500 in Liberty bonds from the vault of the closed First National Bank of Bruin, James N. Long, 33, former cashier and major conservator, is being held here following a United States secret service probe.

John L. Kettle, secret service operator from the Pittsburgh Federal treasurer's office, claimed that Long, who lived in an apartment above the bank, entered the vault, opened safe deposit boxes, stole $1,500 in bonds owned by Mrs. Laura Fletcher, Bruin, and $1,000 in bonds owned by E. L. Hawk, Petrolia, and disposed of them.

Long denied his guilt when he was arraigned before Alderman E. P. Pepper on larceny charges filed by District Attorney Edgar H. Negley. Alderman Pepper scheduled a hearing for August 8.

Indoor Picnic
Is Held By Vets

Transfer Scene To Legion Home Following Downpour Monday Evening

Although rain washed out the outdoor picnic which had been planned by Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their Ladies Auxiliary at Cascade Park last evening, it did not result in the picnic being cancelled.

The Vets and their families merely adjourned to the Legion Home where they ate the picnic supper which had been arranged by the ladies, after which they spent the evening in playing 500 and Bingo.

Of course there were no races which the kiddies had been looking forward to with great expectancy, but they had a good time anyhow with other games and amusements.

Naturalization
Court Being Held

Thirty-Six Applicants Are Examined For Final Citizenship Papers

Thirty-six applicants for naturalization are being examined at the court house to-day by W. C. McDougall of the Naturalization department at Pittsburgh. This is the second, or final examination. The applicants are examined as to their knowledge of the different branches of national, state, county and city government.

One of the questions which practically all are asked is how many stars and stripes are on the United States flag, and what they represent. Nearly all appear to have been drilled on this question and answer readily. Applicants must also assert that they are not communists.

They are also asked whether or not they have ever been arrested. If so, what for, and what disposition was made of their case. Indications are that the most of those examined to-day will pass.

Home Made Pool
Is Washed Away

Facing the facts like good trouper, a group of youngsters, ranging in ages from 7 to 15, early this morning, were diligently at work repairing their home made swimming hole, located in Big Run creek, on the south side, which was washed away by Monday's storm.

Although the pool is a simple one, it serves the purpose. During the sweltering heat, dozens of youngsters cool off by enjoying a swim. A dam, composed of sacks filled with stones and dirt, holds back the water which fills the hole. Yesterday's storm washed away the center of the dam.

It is just a matter of time until the youngsters will complete their work of repairing the dam and swimming will again be enjoyed, the youngster stated this morning.

"The quality of mercy is not strained." Footnote for funny men: Humor is like that, too.

Mahoningtown School
Reunion On Wednesday

A bigger and better reunion than in any of the eight previous years is planned by the Mahoningtown school alumni committee for Wednesday.

"We have learned that some of our former classmates from Chicago and from Detroit, classmates who have never been to any of the past reunions, will be here tomorrow, one of the committee members states. All arrangements have been completed. A peppy meeting will be held at the Mahoning school building, North Cedar street, at 2:00 p. m. at which time there will be "business, a program, speeches, yarns and tall stories," followed by dinner at Cascade Park at 6:30 p. m. Dinner in turn, will be followed by another program of "doins'."

A special feature of the afternoon will be a "school time scene" to be enacted by several of the alumni.

The general committee, Frank Barnes, John Louer, Mrs. Robert Magill, Bessie Coates Pitzer and Robert Sheely, will act as reception committee at the schoolhouse and will take care of the registration of all former students.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Damage Wrought
Here By Storm

Wall Of Pitzer Brothers Garage Blown In; Traffic Brought To Standstill

Practically all vehicles were brought to a standstill and a path of destruction which will total into the hundreds of dollars was spread throughout Mahoningtown by the violent rainstorm of Monday afternoon.

Today city and state workmen are engaged in clearing away the debris covering the streets and highways of the ward and vicinity. Tons of gravel and boulders were washed down on North Liberty street. Atlantic avenue and North Cedar street from the unpaved Swans and Wilder avenue in seventh ward and Maple street in Oakland. A considerable amount of fill work will be necessary to put these unpaved streets back into shape. It means that all work of ashing and scraping done this summer goes to naught.

For more than an hour and a half no street car transportation was available in seventh ward. Automobiles venturing to make the trip either came to a standstill with water in their distributors or had to make detours from their regular routes.

A tie-up occurred at the intersection of Mahoning avenue with North Liberty street and traffic came to a forced standstill.

The P. & L. E. bus, operated by one of William Smeal's drivers, was unable to get through, along with the other machines. A telephone call to Mr. Smeal brought another bus and two cars to the scene. One of the cars became stranded but the passengers were transferred successfully to the others and the train connection was made with only a short delay.

Perhaps the greatest damage was wrought at the Pitzer Brothers garage, 17 Lacock street. Part of the front wall of the huge cement block structure was blown in by the violence of the wind and rain. The heavy blocks crashed down on a practically new '38 truck inside, reducing the body to shambles. The owners estimate that the damage to the truck cannot be repaired for less than $150. The repairs to the building will likely cost a similar sum.

In other parts of the ward windows and street lamps were broken, trees and limbs were felled, gardens were washed out and baby chicks drowned.

Bus transportation to Bessemer and Enon Valley was uninterrupted although North Beaver township and surrounding townships received full brunt of the storm.

GOING TO CAMP
Mahoningtown Girl Scout Troop will be represented at Camp John M. Phillips next week by eight and possibly nine girls. Those expecting to go to camp are undergoing physical examinations this afternoon.

For those not attending regular camp a "day camp" will be conducted August 8 to 11 at Cascade Park and it is probable that the rest of the local troop will take part in that.

CORN FLAT, FRUIT DOWN
An inventory of the garden damage here reveals that it amounts to considerable. Corn was blown flat, breaking off many stalks, fruit was blown from trees, limbs split off, and flower gardens ruined. The tops of two umbrella trees in front of the E. W. Guy home, West Madison avenue, were blown off. Many garden vegetables were carried many yards from their vines and plants.

SOAKED, WE BET
When the Mahoningtown Boy Scouts send in their report of Monday afternoon's storm it should be the most authentic description of any. The boys, at their camp along the Hickory Creek, went through the storm with only a tent between them and the elements. With them is Assistant Scoutmaster Charles Dungan.

Seventy Attend
Trainmen Picnic

Outing At Cascade Park Last Evening Is Highly Successful

A little thing like a rain storm can't hurt a big thing like the annual picnic of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen No. 955 and its Mabel Wilson Auxiliary No. 567.

A crowd of 70 men, women and children gathered for the picnic at Cascade Park Monday evening and sat down to a delicious supper at 6:30 o'clock. The heavy rainstorm of a short time previous did not keep the crowd away, only served to whet appetites.

Bingo was an interesting after supper diversion and prizes were won by Ruth Collingwood, Mrs. Geo. Fisher, E. M. Johnston, Dorothy Metzler, Mrs. W. G. Campbell, Teddy Metzler, O. R. McConnell, Bernard Doone, Clarence Collingwood, Junior Fisher, Ruth Metzler and Ruth Taylor.

In addition to the members of the two lodges, their husbands, wives and children, several special guests were present. Credit for the perfect planning of menu and program goes to Mrs. George Fisher, Mrs. Viola Evans, Mrs. O. A. Harper, R. J. Metzler, C. R. McConnell and G. G. Emerick.

MEETING CALLED

A meeting of the Co-operative Workers of America is called for Wednesday night, 8:00 o'clock, at 201 South Liberty street.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS
John McConahey, of Pittsburgh, is spending a few days here.

Mrs. Grace Fox and Mrs. Elizabeth Fox, of Baltimore, Md., spent part of Monday in this ward visiting several friends.

Former New Castle residents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McConahey and little sons of McKeesport, were recent callers in seventh ward.

Robert Wilson, of West Madison avenue, has returned home after attending the summer sessions at Thiel College, Greenville.

Former Cashier Of

Claimed He Took $2500 In Liberty Bonds From Vault

BUTLER, Pa., July 31.—Charged with theft of $2,500 in Liberty bonds from the vault of the closed First National Bank of Butler, James N. Long, 33, former cashier and major conservator, is being held here following a United States secret service probe.

John L. Kettle, secret service operator from the Pittsburgh Federal treasurer's office, claimed that Long, who lived in an apartment above the bank entrance, had vault, opened safe deposit boxes, stole $1,500 in bonds owned by Mrs. Laura Fletcher, Bruin, and $1,000 in bonds owned by F. L. Hawk, Petrolia, and disposed of them.

Long denied his guilt when he was arraigned before Alderman E. P. Pfeffer on larceny charges filed by District Attorney Edgar H. Negley. Alderman Pfeffer scheduled a hearing for August 8.

Indoor Picnic
Is Held By Vets

Transfer Scene To Legion Home Following Downpour
Monday Evening

Although rain washed out the outdoor picnic which had been planned by Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their Ladies Auxiliary at Cascade Park last evening, it did not result in the picnic being cancelled.

The Vets and their families merely adjourned to the Legion Home, where they ate the picnic supper which had been arranged by the ladies, after which they spent the evening in playing 500 and Bingo.

Of course there were no races which the kiddies had been looking forward to with great expectancy, but they had a good time anyhow with other games and amusements.

One of the questions which practically all are asked is how many stars and stripes are on the United States flag, and what they represent. Nearly all appear to have been drilled on this question and answer readily. Applicants must also assert that they are not communists.

They are also asked whether or not they have ever been arrested. If so, what for, and what disposition was made of their case. Indications are that the most of those examined to-day will pass.

Home Made Pool
Is Washed Away

Facing the facts like good trouper, a group of youngsters, ranging in ages from 7 to 15, early this morning, were diligently at work repairing their home made swimming hole, located in Big Run creek, on the south side, which was washed away by Monday's storm.

Although the pool is a simple one, it serves the purpose. During the sweltering heat, dozens of youngsters cool off by enjoying a swim. A dam, composed of sacks filled with stones and dirt, holds back the water which fills the hole. Yesterday's storm washed away the center of the dam.

It is just a matter of time until the youngsters will complete their work of repairing the dam and swimming will again be enjoyed, the youngster stated this morning.

Mahoningtown School
Reunion On Wednesday

A bigger and better reunion than in any of the eight previous years is planned by the Mahoningtown school alumni committee for Wednesday.

"We have learned that some of our former classmates from Chicago and from Detroit, classmates who have never been to any of the past reunions, will be here tomorrow," one of the committee members states. All arrangements have been completed. A peppy meeting will be held at the Mahoning school building, North Cedar street, at 2:00 p. m. at which time there will be "business, a program, speeches, yarns and tall stories," followed by dinner at Cascade Park at 6:30 p. m. Dinner in turn, will be followed by another program of "doins."

A special feature of the afternoon will be a "school time scene" to be enacted by several of the alumni.

The general committee, Frank Barnes, John Louer, Mrs. Robert Magill, Bessie Coates Pitzer and Robert Sheehy, will act as reception committee at the schoolhouse and will take care of the registration of all former students.

Mancine Only Local Golfer Apt To Qualify

Shoots An 80 In Opening Round Of National Public Links Tourney

PLAY SECOND ROUND TODAY

Emil Mancine, former caddy-master at the Municipal Course seems likely to be the only New Castle entrant in the finals of the National Public Links tournament being played at Pittsburgh, who will be among the low 64 to battle it out for the title, starting Wednesday. Scott Campbell, of Seattle, Wash., Canadian amateur champion who is favored to win turned in a card of 39-32, 71 one under par.

Mancine shot an 80, 41 going out and 39 coming in, which was rather disappointing to him after his sparkling round of 71 in practice Saturday. He must do equally as good or a little better today to stay in the running.

Roger Moleworth was second for the New Castle golfers with 42-41, 83. James Pagley and Willie Grommes were off their usual game and practically shot themselves out of the running. Pagley's score was 45-40-85, while Grommes' score was 44-42-86.

Neither of the latter two boys have been on their game of late, while Mancine has been coming along in splendid fashion. In the recent match against the New Castle Field Club, Mancine scored five birdies on the first nine at the Munv which is a difficult feat for any golfer and which has never been matched before.

If he can maintain his touch and hold up under the strain of competition, he is likely to be right in there among the leaders.

Andy Justine and A. H. Smith, of Ellwood City, also failed to get in the running on the opening round. Justine had a 48 and 45 for 93, while Smith's score was 47-43-90.

Johnny Lucas of Sharon, who is well known to local golfers, hitchhiked his way to Pittsburgh yesterday and entered at the last minute, coming through with 39-38-77 to be among the leaders.

Bessemer Has Not Lost Game

Has Won 12 And Lost None In Second Half Of County League

Bessemer has a clean slate in the Lawrence County Baseball League having not lost a game since the second half started. To date they have won 12 games. Polish Nationals are in second place and trailed closely by West Pittsburg, first half winners. The standing of the league:

Bessemer	12	0	1.000
Polish Nats	7	6	.539
West Pittsburg	6	6	.500
Hillsville	5	6	.455
Mahoning	3	8	.265

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 31.—Final arrangements for the Steve Hamas-Lasky bout to be held for Madison Square Garden at the Garden Bowl in Long Island City, on Sept. 27, will be settled this afternoon. James J. Johnson, garden director of boxing, relations announced all financial matters surrounding the fight have been settled after he made a silent trip by airplane to Minneapolis where he signed Lasky.

Legion Of Honor Match Rained Out

Rain Interferes With Weekly Battle At Municipal Course —To Meet Wednesday

Rain washed out the weekly match of the Legion of Honor golfers, which was scheduled for the Municipal Course last evening, and forced a postponement until next week.

However, a golf match and stag party is planned for Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Tarr O'Shanter Course in Sharon, when the locals will be joined by Legion of Honor members from the Mercer county district in an afternoon and evening of pleasure.

This match is in the nature of a stag party and is expected to attract close to a hundred golfers from Lawrence and Mercer counties. Play will start at 1 o'clock continuing through until dark.

The Sharon course is just beyond West Middlesex on Route 18.

Campbell Tops Public Linkers In First Round

Canadian Amateur Champion Hangs Up 71 Card, One Under Par At Pittsburgh

CHARLEY FERRERA IS OFF COLOR

By J. WILLIAM THEIS International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, July 31.—Shattered only once in the opening round, old man par 72 for the South Park course appeared for his final battle today with qualifiers in the National Public Links Golf championship.

Those golfers who found him easy in practice sessions last week were surprised no little when they discovered that in real competition the battle was more difficult. Perhaps it was because of a strong wind, but, nevertheless, only one of the 184 starters in the first qualifying round of 18 holes came through under the mark.

Campbell Leads.

That honor was achieved by Albert (Scotty) Campbell, Canadian amateur champion, who combined scores of 39 and 33 for a total of 72. Next came Gordon Denny, Louisville, who stroked perfect figures, 38 and 34, on each nine for a 72. Lorraine Bradford, St. Joseph, Mo., pushed into third position with a 39, one over par, and a 34, for a 73. His teammate, W. P. Rieper, took one over par on each nine to go into a tie for fourth position with three others.

Frank Brincoli, New York, Don Erickson, Los Angeles, and Wilbur Kokes, Chicago, also hit the 74 mark. Far off from his usual game, Charley Ferrera, the defending titleholder from San Francisco, found himself hopelessly outclassed and far in the rear with an 82. Unless his game improves considerably today, he may fall to be among the first 64 players that will qualify for match play beginning tomorrow.

Ferrera Off Form.

Thoroughly discouraged with his play which fell far short of that exhibited in practice rounds, Ferrera, blamed his way over the course, taking five over par for each nine.

Despite his failure to come through in expected style, the west coast monopolized the majority of the first 20 positions, the majority of eastern representatives no little anxiety. Sixty-three players broke 80 which means that another score under that figure probably will be necessary to join the select group today.

Cubs And Cards In Protest Game

(International News Service) CHICAGO, July 31.—The Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals began a baseball game this afternoon at Wrigley Field in the seventh inning with the Cubs at bat and leading 1 to 0, and with two men out and two on base.

It will be a playoff of that part of the game played on July 2, 1934 after Umpire Bill Klem made his interpretation of the infield fly rule which caused the Cardinals to protest.

Klem had never been known to make a mistake before in his many years of umpiring, but President John A. Heydler honored the Cardinal protest and ordered the game replayed from the seventh inning on.

AN EXPERIMENTER By Jack Sorda

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

THE BABE For the past two seasons rumors have insisted that Babe Ruth was slated to manage almost every club in the American and National leagues. The latest of these reports came from Cleveland where Ruth was supposed to depose Walter Johnson.

Four or five of the clubs probably will have new managers next season, but Babe Ruth will remain a member of the New York Yankees. Ruth is still the outstanding figure in baseball even though his playing days are just about over. As a manager he would keep his team in the spotlight as he has done as the home run king for the Yanks. Owner Ruppert hasn't paid Ruth's high salary all these years without receiving a good return, and he will not fail to recognize the value of Ruth as a manager.

New York is the logical spot for the Bambino to carry on. It has been his home and it has been the Metropolitan fans who have cheered him during his career as the home run idol. Besides, New York can supply more fans than any other city, a matter of primary importance to the club that pays a "Babe Ruth" salary.

But what about Joe McCarthy? In New York they say Joe is through if he doesn't win the pennant. This looks more like an excuse to allow Babe to become the manager than a condemnation of McCarthy's work.

You can't blame a manager for his team's showing when he has had the misfortunes that have befallen McCarthy. Tony Lazzeri, regular third baseman, injured his knee and had to be supplanted. Three of his best hurlers, Allen, Van Atta and MacFayden, have failed. Injuries to Combs, Ruth and Walker have wrecked the outfield. And the young keystone combination of Rolfe and Heffner has fallen below par.

In fact, McCarthy has performed a baseball miracle by keeping the Yanks in the race. He has found capable replacements in Saltzaver, Broaca, Murphy and Deshong who have taken the places of the older stars.

This doesn't mean that the Yankees should keep McCarthy and get rid of Ruth, but it does point out that Joe isn't the kind of a manager that is fired because he doesn't win pennants when he should. He has had remarkable success as a manager both at New York and Chicago, being the only pilot who has ever won pennants in both leagues.

McCarthy and Ruth, however, can't both remain on the same club. Babe's baseball future will be as a manager. He may eventually become a club owner, but that removes him too far from the diamond to cash in on his popularity.

So it is likely that he will supplant McCarthy as the Yankee manager. Not because Joe has failed but because Ruth as a manager will be an invaluable drawing card.

And there is no reason why Ruth can't be a good manager as well as an outstanding pucker inner. His actions, both on and off the field, have been commendable in recent years and he has a wide range of baseball knowledge and experience.

If McCarthy wins the pennant Ruth will probably become the manager anyhow, but the change will be made more hazardous. With no excuse to supplant McCarthy, many fans will find a lot to howl about.

Johnny O'Hara On Police Card

RINGSIDE SEATS ARE IN DEMAND

Johnny O'Hara, fascinating bantamweight from Kent, O., who not long ago defeated Troy Bellini, A. A. U. 118 pound champ in a non-title bout has been scheduled to take Bellini's place on the police show card it was announced today. He will fight Mickey Jarzey of Cleveland.

After Bellini had accepted the bout with Ted Hara here, he received orders from the sponsor of a Cleveland show not to box any place previous to the Cleveland show, August 10.

Immediately upon learning this Ed. Fritz, matchmaker for the police show here communicated with O'Hara and the latter has been scheduled to box another flashy bantam, the said Yarzey of Cleveland.

Nine bouts have been arranged so far and indications are that perhaps a tenth will be added to the card. Each of the bouts, under A. A. U. rules, must be arranged for at least three rounds.

Owing to the demand for ringside tickets, all of which were sold a week ago, Police Chief Haven has arranged to increase the ringside section and more hingside seats will be available today.

Not since the professional Wollast-Davies and Perotia-Firpo bout has interest been so deep as in the coming battles. In fact if one judges accurately the interest now is greater.

With the advent of next week the ring will be placed and a special lighting plan above the ring will be arranged by the Pennsylvania Power company.

Wesley Ferrell Trims Senators

Ninth Victory Hung Up By Pitcher That Cleveland Didn't Want

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 31.—Last year he was through; so through in fact that he attempted to make himself into an outfielder. This year however, Wesley Ferrell decided to attempt a comeback on the pitching mound and if you have any doubt as to how well he has succeeded read today's account of yesterday's game between the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators in the capital.

Ferrell blanked the hapless Senators 8 to 0, and as a result Boston gained a 2-1 lead in the series between the two clubs.

In the only other game played in the big leagues yesterday the St. Louis Browns staged a last minute rally to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Sammy West was the batting hero of the day for the Browns, collecting three hits, one of which was a home run.

St. Andrews And Radiators Ready For Series Game

First Game Of Championship Series At Centennial Field Wednesday Night

St. Andrews church softball team will return to the wars Wednesday night at Centennial field for their series battle for the first-half championship in the National Softball League, with the strong Radiators. The game, weather permitting, will start at 6 o'clock.

The umpires for the game will not be known until game time. None of the National League umpires however will be selected to handle the series games.

Saints Are Fighters. Both teams have eleven and lost three in the first half of the season. The teams have battled four times and the Radiators hold three victories and the Saints one. The St. Andrews team is fighting mad and will be out there to try and take the measure of the Reds.

Included in the St. Andrews lineup will be such well known stars as Greco, Shires, Hangst and Hines of Ellwood City, together with Johnny Uram, Art Owens, Tommy Evans, Pascarella and others.

The lineup that the Saints will use will be as follows—Greco, back of plate; Bob Pascarella or Hines in the box. The infield will be made up of Russell at third, Bender at short, Tommy Evans at second, Owens at right short and Hangst at first.

The outfield will have J. Uram, Shires, Kneram, B. Augustine and Piccarli. The Saints have won 26 games and lost 10 this year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Helen Jacobs will not compete in the Maidstone club invitation tennis tournament, which will get under way today at East Hampton, N. Y. She lost to Caroline Babcock of Los Angeles, at Seabright, N. J., Saturday.

Dave Fleming, president of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific league has announced the sale of W. Gilthorpe Campbell, catcher to the Cincinnati Reds. He will report at the end of the season.

Wilbur Hess of Houston, Texas, succeeded John McDaniel as men's singles champion of North Carolina by defeating Doc Barr of Dallas in straight sets in the finals of the annual state open net tourney at Asheville, N. C., 6-2, 6-0, 8-6.

The return welterweight bout between Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin will be held at Madison Square Garden bowl in Long Island city, September 6. It was announced today in New York.

Radiators And Merchants Will Battle Tonight

Game Is Postponed From Monday Night On Account Of Downpour Of Rain

With perhaps 2,000 softball fans anxiously scanning the skies today for a break in the weather, the National Radiators and East Side Merchants teams are straining at the reins today anxious to get under way in the important second half battle. The game last night had to be postponed by the downpour of rain. The two teams have eagerly awaited it tonight if possible at Centennial field.

The setup for the game last night was perhaps the biggest of any softball game in the history of New Castle. The entire East Side of the city is steamed up over this impending contest. Both teams are eagerly awaiting the old familiar "play ball."

Centennial field is proving a boon to softball here, inasmuch as the fans can sit in the grandstand and enjoy the game. There will not be any crowding on the field. No one not connected with the league will be allowed on the playing field.

The umpires for the game tonight will be Earl Riley back of the plate, Babovsky at first base, and Dennis at third base.

All-Stars Win From Ohioans

The New Castle All-Stars softball team handed the strong Youngstown Sheet and Tube champions a 11 to 4 upset at the B. & O. Field Sunday afternoon, with Bob Pascarella hurling a great game. The St. Andrews star allowed the Ohioans but six hits.

The All-Stars had the following in their lineup—Fornataro, Nickie Ross, Mazzari, Ambrosia, Tex Richards, N. Gennock, Tip Richards, Kneram, Piccarri and Bob Pascarella.

Next Sunday the All-Stars will play the Struthers, Ohio, All-Stars at the B. & O. Field.

Score by innings— R. H. E.
Youngstown . . . 000 100 251—4 6
All-Stars . . . 120 404 008—11 16 1
Batteries: Youngstown—Moran and Bastista.
All-Stars—Bob Pascarella and Fornataro.

Two games will be played tonight in the American softball league with the Unions-Saks game at Canyon field called off until Thursday night of this week at Canyon field.

The games tonight will find the Tolans battling the Punt Stations at the Franklin field, and the Scazzos vs. the Hannons at the B. & O. field.

NONSENSE

Babe Ruth Seeks Job As Manager

Last Year For Babe Ruth As Player; Opinions Divided On Managerial Ability

MAY NOT MANAGE YANKEE TEAM

By PAT ROBINSON International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 31.—Babe Ruth today is causing more secret headaches among the powers that be in baseball than ever he did in those fuzzy, younger years when he was the Puck's bad boy of baseball.

The Babe has definitely announced that this year will be his last as an active player. He has just as emphatically stated that he has no intention of quitting the game and he makes no secret of the fact that he has managerial ambitions.

Opinions Divided

The Babe could solve the problem if he would agree to take over the Yankee farm at Newark until Joe McCarthy's contract runs out and then step in as leader of the Yanks. But the Babe says he wants no part of a minor league and owner Jake Ruppert's every action indicated he wants no part of the Babe as a manager.

There are four National league towns which could use the Babe's prestige to advantage and which would undoubtedly take a chance on him if the American league were foolish enough to let him get away. These four are the town teams of the Cubs, Braves, Pirates and Reds.

There are only two spots in his own league where the Babe might possibly fit in. Boston and Chicago, and the Red Sox seem to be ruled out because Eddie Collins does not think Babe will ever be one of the game's outstanding managers.

Would Like Chance

Some of the baseball people think Babe would be a bust as a manager. They say he has known too little discipline himself to discipline others. They forget that the Babe is 40 is not the wild lad he was at 20 or even at 30 and that authority either makes or breaks a man and it might very well make the Bambino.

Nobody doubts his ability to lead a team on the ball field. They admit he would be tops as a coach and agree that he knows a diamond in the rough as well as anybody. It is only the off-field situation that worries them.

However, the Babe himself has no doubts on that score. He thinks he'd be a howling success on or off the field and, as he himself remarks, "how can they tell until I try it? I think they owe me at least one trial."

Legion Of Honor Match Rained Out

Rain Interferes With Weekly Battle At Municipal Course —To Meet Wednesday

Rain washed out the weekly match of the Legion of Honor golfers, which was scheduled for the Municipal Course last evening, and forced a postponement until next week.

However, a golf match and stag party is planned for Wednesday afternoon and evening at the Tarr O'Shanter Course in Sharon, when the locals will be joined by Legion of Honor members from the Mercer county district in an afternoon and evening of pleasure.

This match is in the nature of a stag party and is expected to attract close to a hundred golfers from Lawrence and Mercer counties. Play will start at 1 o'clock continuing through until dark.

The Sharon course is just beyond West Middlesex on Route 18.

Colonials Will Battle Wampum

Colonial A. C. baseball team will play the Wampum team at the Colonial field tonight in an American League baseball game. The game will start at 6 o'clock, weather permitting. The Colonials have been going strong this year and hope to take the measure of the Wampums.

Campbell Tops Public Linkers In First Round

Canadian Amateur Champion Hangs Up 71 Card, One Under Par At Pittsburgh

CHARLEY FERRERA IS OFF COLOR

By J. WILLIAM THEIS International News Service Staff Correspondent

PITTSBURGH, July 31.—Shattered only once in the opening round, old man par 72 for the South Park course appeared for his final battle today with qualifiers in the National Public Links Golf championship.

Those golfers who found him easy in practice sessions last week were surprised no little when they discovered that in real competition the battle was more difficult. Perhaps it was because of a strong wind, but, nevertheless, only one of the 184 starters in the first qualifying round of 18 holes came through under the mark.

Campbell Leads. That honor was achieved by Albert (Scotty) Campbell, Canadian amateur champion, who combined scores of 39 and 32 for a total of 71.

Next came Gordon Denny, Louisville, who stroked perfect figures, 32 and 34, on each nine for a 72. Lorraine Bradford, St. Joseph, Mo., pushed into third position with a 39, one over par, and a 34, for a 73, his teammate, W. P. Rieper, took one over par on each nine to go into a tie for fourth position with three others.

Frank Bringoli, New York, Don Erickson, Los Angeles, and Wilbur Kokes, Chicago, also hit the 74 mark. Far off from his usual game, Charles Ferrera, the defending titlist from San Francisco, found himself hopelessly outclassed and far in the rear with an 82. Unless his game improves considerably today, he may fail to be among the first 64 players that will qualify for match play beginning tomorrow.

Ferrera Off Form. Thoroughly discouraged with his play which fell far short of that exhibited in practice rounds, Ferrera, blasted his way over the course, taking five over par for each nine.

Despite his failure to come thru in expected style, the west dominated the play. The Midwest and west coast monopolized the majority of the first 20 positions, causing eastern representatives no little anxiety. Sixty-three players broke 80 which means that another score under that figure probably will be necessary to join the select group today.

New York is the logical spot for the Bambino to carry on. It has been his home and it has been the Metropolitan fans who have cheered him during his career as the home run idol. Besides, New York can supply more fans than any other city, a matter of primary importance to the club that pays a "Babe Ruth" salary.

But what about Joe McCarthy? In New York they say Joe is through if he doesn't win the pennant. This looks more like an excuse to allow Babe to become the manager than a condemnation of McCarthy's work.

You can't blame a manager for his team's showing when he has had the misfortunes that have befallen McCarthy. Tony Lazzeri, regular third baseman, injured his knee and had to be supplanted. Three of his best hurlers, Allen, Van Atta and MacFayden, have failed. Injuries to Combs, Ruth and Walker have wrecked the outfield. And the young keystone combination of Roife and Heffner has fallen below par.

In fact, McCarthy has performed a baseball miracle by keeping the Yanks in the race. He has found capable replacements in Saltzgaver, Broaca, Murphy and Deshong who have taken the places of the older stars.

This doesn't mean that the Yankees should keep McCarthy and get rid of Ruth, but it does point out that Joe isn't the kind of a manager that is fired because he doesn't win pennants when he should. He has had remarkable success as a manager both at New York and Chicago, being the only pilot who has ever won pennants in both leagues.

McCarthy and Ruth, however, can't both remain on the same club. Babe's baseball future will be as a manager. He may eventually become a club owner, but that removes him too far from the diamond to cash in on his popularity.

So it is likely that he will supplant McCarthy as the Yankee manager. Not because Joe has failed but because Ruth as a manager will be an invaluable driving card.

And there is no reason why Ruth can't be a good manager as well as an outstanding pucker inner. His actions, both on and off the field, have been commendable in recent years and he has a wide range of baseball knowledge and experience.

If McCarthy wins the pennant Ruth will probably become the manager anyway, but the change will be made more hazardous. With no excuse to supplant McCarthy, many fans will find a lot to howl about.

AN EXPERIMENTER - By Jack Sords

THE SPORT PATROL

By JOHN J. MAHER, JR.

For the past two seasons rumors have insisted that Babe Ruth was hated to manage almost every club in the American and National leagues. The latest of these reports came from Cleveland where Ruth was supposed to depose Walter Johnson.

Four or five of the clubs probably will have new managers next season, but Babe Ruth will remain a member of the New York Yankees. Ruth is still the outstanding figure in baseball even though his playing days are just about over. As a manager he would keep his team in the spotlight as he has done as the home run king for the Yanks.

Owner Ruppert hasn't paid Ruth's high salary all these years without receiving a good return, and he will not fail to recognize the value of Ruth as a manager.

New York is the logical spot for the Bambino to carry on. It has been his home and it has been the Metropolitan fans who have cheered him during his career as the home run idol. Besides, New York can supply more fans than any other city, a matter of primary importance to the club that pays a "Babe Ruth" salary.

EARL COMBS NEW YORK YANKEE OUTFIELDER WHO IS OUT OF BASEBALL AT LEAST FOR THE SEASON AS A RESULT OF HIS COLLISION WITH THE WALL IN FIELDING A FLY BALL

Johnny O'Hara On Police Card

RINGSIDE SEATS ARE IN DEMAND

Johnny O'Hara, fascinating bantamweight from Kent, O., who not long ago defeated Troy Bellini, A. U. 118 pound champ in a non-title bout has been scheduled to take Bellini's place on the police show card it was announced today. He will fight Mickey Jarzey of Cleveland.

After Bellini had accepted the bout with Ted Hara here, he received orders from the sponsor of a Cleveland show not to box any place previous to the Cleveland show, August 10.

Immediately upon learning this Ed Fritz, matchmaker for the police show here communicated with O'Hara and the latter has been scheduled to box another flashy bantam, the said Jarzey of Cleveland.

Nine bouts have been arranged so far and indications are that perhaps a tenth will be added to the card. Each of the bouts, under A. U. rules, must be arranged for at least three rounds.

Owing to the demand for ringside tickets, all of which were sold a week ago, Police Chief Haven has arranged to increase the ringside sections and more hingside seats will be available today.

Not since the professional Wolgast-Davies and Perotta-Tirpo bout has interest been so deep as in the coming battles. In fact if one judges accurately the interest now is greater.

With the advent of next week the ring will be placed and a special lighting plan above the ring will be arranged by the Pennsylvania Power company.

Wesley Ferrell Trims Senators

Ninth Victory Hung Up By Pitcher That Cleveland Didn't Want

(International News Service) NEW YORK, July 31.—Last year he was through: so through in fact that he attempted to make himself into an outfielder. This year however, Wesley Ferrell decided to attempt a comeback on the pitching mound and if you have any doubts as to how well he has succeeded read today's account of yesterday's game between the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators in the capital.

Ferrell blanked the hapless Senators 8 to 0, and as a result Boston gained a 2-1 lead in the series between the two clubs.

In the only other game played in the big leagues yesterday the St. Louis Browns staged a last minute rally to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Sammy West was the batting hero of the day for the Browns, collecting three hits, one of which was a home run.

The game, weather permitting, will start at 6 o'clock.

The umpires for the game will not be known until game time. None of the National League umpires however will be selected to handle the series games.

Saints Are Fighters. Both teams won eleven and lost three in the first half of the season. The teams have battled four times and the Radiators hold three victories and the Saints one. The St. Andrews team is fighting mad and will be out there to try and take the measure of the Reds.

Included in the St. Andrews lineup will be such well known stars as Greco, Shires, Hangst and Hines of Ellwood City, together with Johnny Uram, Art Owens, Tommy Evans, Pascarella and others.

The lineup that the Saints will use will be as follows—Greco, back of plate; Bob Pascarella or Hines in the box. The infield will be made up of Russell at third, Bender at short, Tommy Evans at second, Owens at right short and Hangst at first.

The outfield will have J. Uram, Shires, Kneram, B. Augustine and Piccart. The Saints have won 26 games and lost 10 this year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Helen Jacobs will not compete in the Maldstone club invitation tennis tournament which will get under way today at East Hampton, N. Y. She lost to Caroline Babcock, Los Angeles, at Seabright, N. J., Saturday.

Dave Fleming, president of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific league has announced the sale of W. Gilthorpe, Campbell, catcher, to the Cincinnati Reds. He will report at the end of the season.

Wilbur Hess of Houston, Texas, succeeded John McDiarmid as men's singles champion of North Carolina by defeating Don Barr of Dallas in straight sets in the finals of the annual state open net tourney at Asheville, N. C., 6-2, 6-0, 8-6.

The return welterweight bout between Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin will be held at Madison Square Garden bowl in Long Island city, September 6, it was announced today in New York.

Radiators And Merchants Will Battle Tonight

Game Is Postponed From Monday Night On Account Of Downpour Of Rain

With perhaps 2,000 softball fans anxiously scanning the skies today for a break in the weather, the National Radiators and East Side Merchant teams are straining at the leash today anxious to get under way in the important second half battle. The game last night had to be postponed by the downpour of rain. The two teams have agreed to battle it out tonight if possible at Centennial Field.

The setup for the game last night was perhaps the biggest of any softball game in the history of New Castle. The entire East Side of the city is steamed up over this impending contest. Both teams are eagerly awaiting the old familiar "play ball."

Centennial Field is proving a boon to softball here, inasmuch as the fans can sit in the grandstand and enjoy the game. There will not be any crowding on the field. No one not connected with the league will be allowed on the playing field.

The umpires for the game tonight will be Earl Riley back of the plate, Babovsky at first base, and Dennis at third base.

All-Stars Win From Ohioans

The New Castle All-Stars softball team handed the strong Youngstown Sheet and Tube champions a 11 to 4 upset at the B. & O. Field Sunday afternoon, with Bob Pascarella hurling a great game. The St. Andrews star allowed the Ohioans but six hits.

The All-Stars had the following in their lineup—Fornataro, Nickie Ross, Mazzeri, Ambrosia, Tex Richards, N. Gennoch, Tip Richards, Kneram, Piccarti and Bob Pascarella.

Next Sunday the All-Stars will play the Struthers, Ohio, All-Stars at the B. & O. Field.

Score by Innings: R. H. E. Youngstown . . . 000 10 201—4 6 4 All-Stars . . . 120 404 00—11 16 1 Batteries: Youngstown—Moran and Pascarella. All-Stars—Bob Pascarella and Fornataro.

Two Games In American Loop

Two games will be played tonight in the American softball league with the Union-Saks game at Canyon field called off until Thursday night of this week at Canyon field.

The games tonight will find the Tolans battling the Pump Stations at the Franklin field, and the Scarazzos vs. the Hannons at the B. & O. field.

Ferry won the toss and started with a fault. He knocked a soft return over the baseline but soon steadied and the game went to deuce before Fred could pull it out after a long-sustained baseline duel.

Perry broke through Shields' service to take the second game.

Three Lawrence Games Wednesday

Teams Play Bang-up Ball And Hope To Trip Up League Leaders

Polish Nationals will play Hillsville at Hillsville, Bessemer will oppose Wampum on the latter's field and Mahoning will tackle West Pittsburg at West Pittsburg. Large crowds are attending the Lawrence county league games. The teams are striving hard and Wampum would like to upset Bessemer, league leaders. The first half was won by West Pittsburg.

Legion Team To Meet Wednesday

Members of the American Legion team of this city have been instructed to report at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Legion home as the local baseball club will play Butler Legion team at Butler at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

At 6 p. m. Thursday on the Washington field here, the Legion teams of Sharon and this city will clash.

Babe Ruth Seeks Job As Manager

Last Year For Babe Ruth A Player; Opinions Divided On Managerial Ability

MAY NOT MANAGE YANKEE TEAM

By PAT ROBINSON International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 31.—Babe Ruth today is causing more secret headaches among the powers that be in baseball than ever before. In those gay, younger years when he was the Peck's bad boy of baseball.

The Babe has definitely announced that this year will be his last as an active player. He has just as emphatically stated that he has no intention of quitting the game and he makes no secret of the fact that he has managerial ambitions.

Therefore, what's to become of him?

Opinions Divided. The Babe could solve the problem if he would agree to take over the Yankee farm at Newark until Joe McCarthy's contract runs out, and then step in as manager of the Yanks. But the Babe says he wants no part of a minor league and owner Judge Ruppert's every action indicated he wants no part of the Babe as a manager.

There are four National league towns which could use the Babe's prestige as advantage, and which would undoubtedly take a chance on him if the American league were foolish enough to let him get away. These four are the home towns of the Cubs, Braves, Pirates and Reds.

There are only two spots in his own league where the Babe might possibly fit in. Boston and Chicago, and the Red Sox seem to be ruled out because Eddie Collins does not think Babe will ever be one of the game's outstanding managers.

Would Like Chance. Some of the baseball people think Babe would be a bust as a manager. They say he has known too little discipline himself to discipline others. They forget that the Babe is 40 is not the wild lad he was at 20 or even at 30 and that authority either makes or breaks a manager.

Nobody doubts his ability to lead a team on the ball field. They admit he would be tops as a coach and agree that he knows a diamond in the rough as well as anybody. It is only the off-field situation that worries them.

However, the Babe himself has no doubts on that score. He thinks he'd be a howling success on or off the field and, as he himself remarks, "how can they tell until I try me and I think they owe me at least one trial?"

Perry-Shields Battle Today

Seventeen Thousand Witness Davis Cup Match At Wimbledon, England

(International News Service) WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 31.—Fred Perry of England and Frank Shields of New York met today in the first of two singles matches which were expected to result in a victory for Perry and retention of the Davis cup by England.

Seventeen thousand were on hand when the two tennis stars took the court under a blistering sun.

Perry won the toss and started with a fault. He knocked a soft return over the baseline but soon steadied and the game went to deuce before Fred could pull it out after a long-sustained baseline duel.

Perry broke through Shields' service to take the second game.

Mancine Only Local Golfer Apt To Qualify

Shoots An 80 In Opening Round Of National Public Links Tourney

PLAY SECOND ROUND TODAY

Emil Mancine, former caddy-master at the Municipal Course seems likely to be the only New Castle entrant in the finals of the National Public Links tournament being played at Pittsburgh, who will be among the low 64 to battle it out for the title, starting Wednesday. Scott Campbell, of Seattle, Wash., Canadian amateur champion who is favored to win turned in a card of 39-32, 71 one under par.

Mancine shot an 80, 41 going out and 39 coming in, which was rather disappointing to him after his sparkling round of 71 in practice Saturday. He must do equally as good or a little better today to stay in the running.

Roger Moleworth was second for the New Castle golfers with 42-41, 83. James Pagley and Willie Grommes were off their usual game and practically shot themselves out of the running. Pagley's score was 45-40-85, while Grommes' score was 44-40-86.

Neither of the latter two boys have been on their game of late, while Mancine has been coming along in splendid fashion. In the recent match against the New Castle Field Club, Mancine scored five birdies on the first nine at the Muny which is a difficult feat for any golfer and which has never been matched before.

If he can regain his touch and hold up under the strain of completion, he is likely to be right in there among the leaders.

Andy Justine and A. H. Smith, of Ellwood City, also failed to get in the running on the opening round. Justine had a 48 and 45 for 93, while Smith's score was 47-43-90.

Johnny Lucas of Sharon, who is well known to local golfers hitchhiked his way to Pittsburgh yesterday and entered at the last minute, coming through with 39-38-77 to be among the leaders.

He has had remarkable success as a manager both at New York and Chicago, being the only pilot who has ever won pennants in both leagues.

McCarthy and Ruth, however, can't both remain on the same club. Babe's baseball future will be as a manager. He may eventually become a club owner, but that removes him too far from the diamond to cash in on his popularity.

So it is likely that he will supplant McCarthy as the Yankee manager. Not because Joe has failed but because Ruth as a manager will be an invaluable drawing card.

And there is no reason why Ruth can't be a good manager as well as a outstanding pucker inner. His actions, both on and off the field, have been commendable in recent years and he has a wide range of baseball knowledge and experience.

If McCarthy wins the pennant Ruth will probably become the manager anyhow, but the change will be made more hazardous. With no excuse to supplant McCarthy, many fans will find a lot to howl about.

THE SPORT PATROL

THE BABE

For the past two seasons rumors have insisted that Babe Ruth was slated to manage almost every club in the American and National leagues. The latest of these reports came from Cleveland where Ruth was supposed to depose Walter Johnson.

Four or five of the clubs probably will have new managers next season, but Babe Ruth will remain a member of the New York Yankees.

Ruth is still the outstanding figure in baseball even though his playing days are just about over. As a manager he would keep his team in the spotlight as he has done as the home town king for the Yanks. Owner Ruppert hasn't paid Ruth's high salary all these years without receiving a good return, and he will not fail to recognize the value of Ruth as a manager.

New York is the logical spot for the Bambino to carry on. It has been his home and it has been the Metropolitan fans who have cheered him during his career as the home town idol. Besides, New York can supply more fans than any other city, a matter of primary importance to the club that pays a "Babe Ruth" salary.

But what about Joe McCarthy? In New York they say Joe is through if he doesn't win the pennant. This looks more like an excuse to allow Babe to become the manager than a condemnation of McCarthy's work.

You can't blame a manager for his team's showing when he has had the misfortunes that have befallen McCarthy. Tony Lazzeri, regular third baseman, injured his knee and had to be supplanted. Three of his best hurlers, Allen, Van Atta and MacFayden, have failed. Injuries to Combs, Ruth and Walker have wrecked the outfield. And the young keystone combination of Rolfe and Heffner has fallen below par.

In fact, McCarthy has performed a baseball miracle by keeping the Yanks in the race. He has found capable replacements in Saltzgaver, Broaca, Murphy and Deshong who have taken the places of the older stars.

This doesn't mean that the Yankees should keep McCarthy and get rid of Ruth, but it does point out that Joe isn't the kind of a manager that is fired because he doesn't win pennants when he should. He has had remarkable success as a manager both at New York and Chicago, being the only pilot who has ever won pennants in both leagues.

McCarthy and Ruth, however, can't both remain on the same club. Babe's baseball future will be as a manager. He may eventually become a club owner, but that removes him too far from the diamond to cash in on his popularity.

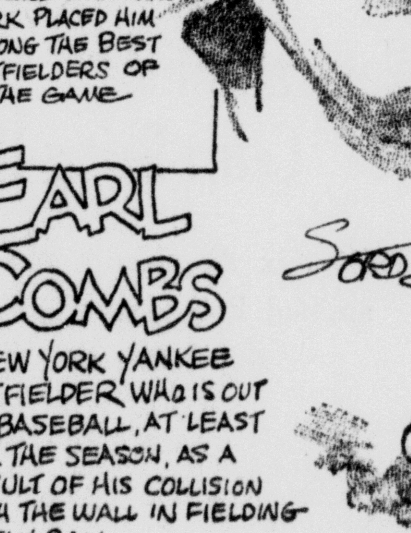

So it is likely that he will supplant McCarthy as the Yankee manager. Not because Joe has failed but because Ruth as a manager will be an invaluable drawing card.

And there is no reason why Ruth can't be a good manager as well as a outstanding pucker inner. His actions, both on and off the field, have been commendable in recent years and he has a wide range of baseball knowledge and experience.

Johnny O'Hara On Police Card

RINGSIDE SEATS ARE IN DEMAND

Johnny O'Hara, fascinating bantamweight from Kent, O., who not long ago defeated Troy Bellini, A. A. U. 118 pound champ in a non-title bout has been scheduled to take Bellini's place on the police show card it was announced today. He will fight Mickey Jarzey of Cleveland.

After Bellini had accepted the bout with Ted Hara here, he received orders from the sponsor of a Cleveland show not to box any place previous to the Cleveland show, August 10.

Immediately upon learning this Ed Fritz, matchmaker for the police show here communicated with O'Hara and the latter has been scheduled to box another flashy bantam, the said Jarzey of Cleveland.

Nine bouts have been arranged so far and indications are that perhaps a tenth will be added to the card. Each of the bouts, under A. A. U. rules, must be arranged for at least three rounds.

Owing to the demand for ringside tickets, all of which were sold a week ago, Police Chief Haven has arranged to increase the ringside section and more hingside seats will be available today.

Not since the professional Wolfgang-Davies and Perotta-Firpo bout has interest been so deep as in the coming battles. In fact if one judges accurately the interest now is greater.

With the advent of next week the ring will be placed and a special lighting plan above the ring will be arranged by the Pennsylvania Power company.

Wesley Ferrell Trims Senators

Ninth Victory Hung Up By Pitcher That Cleveland Didn't Want

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Last year he was through; so through in fact that he attempted to make himself into an outfielder. This year however, Wesley Ferrell decided to attempt a comeback on the pitching mound and if you have any doubt as to how well he has succeeded read today's account of yesterday's game between the Boston Red Sox and the Washington Senators in the capital.

Ferrell blanked the hapless Senators 8 to 0, and as a result Boston gained a 2-1 ledge in the series between the two clubs.

In the only other game played in the big leagues yesterday the St. Louis Browns staged a last minute rally to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 3. Sammy West was the batting "lev" of the day for the Browns, collecting three hits, one of which was a home run.

The New Castle All-Stars softball team handed the strong Youngstown and Tube champions a 11 to 4 upset at the B. & O. Field Sunday afternoon, with Bob Pascarella hurling a great game. The St. Andrews star allowed the Ohioans but six hits.

The All-Stars had the following in their lineup—Fornataro, Nickie Ross, Mazzeri, Ambrosia, Tex Richards, N. Gennock, Tip Richards, Kneram, Piccarri and Bob Pascarella.

Next Sunday the All-Stars will play the Struthers, Ohio, All-Stars at the B. & O. Field.

Score by innings— R. H. E. Youngstown . . . 0 10 0 201—4 6 4 All-Stars . . . 120 40 008—11 16 1 Batteries—Youngstown—Moran and Basista. All-Stars—Bob Pascarella and Fornataro.

Two Games In American Loop

Two games will be played tonight in the American softball league with the Unions-Saks game at Canyon field called off until Thursday night of this week at Canyon field.

The games tonight will find the Tolans battling the Pump Stations at the Franklin field, and the Scarazzos vs. the Hannons at the B. & O. field.

The umpires for the game will not be known until game time. None of the National League umpires however will be selected to handle the series games.

Saints Are Fighters.

Both teams won eleven and lost three in the first half of the season. The teams have battled four times and the Radiators hold three victories and the Saints one. The St. Andrews team is fighting mad and will be out there to try and take the measure of the Rads.

Included in the St. Andrews lineup will be such well known stars as Greco, Shires, Hangst and Hines of Ellwood City, together with Johnny Uram, Art Owens, Tommy Evans, Pascarella and others.

The lineup that the Saints will use will be as follows—Greco, back of plate; Bob Pascarella or Hines in the box. The infield will be made up of Russell at third, Bender at short, Tommy Evans at second, Owens at right short and Hangst at first.

The outfield will have J. Uram, Shires, Kneram, B. Augustin and Piccarri. The Saints have won 26 games and lost 10 this year.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Helen Jacobs will not compete in the Maidstone club invitation tennis tournament which will get under way today at East Hampton, N. Y. She lost to Caroline Babcock of Los Angeles, at Seabright, N. J., Saturday.

Dave Fleming, president of the Los Angeles club of the Pacific league has announced the sale of W. Gilthorpe Campbell, catcher, to the Cincinnati Reds. He will report at the end of the season.

Wilbur Hess of Houston, Texas, succeeded John McDiarmid as men's singles champion of North Carolina by defeating Doc Barr of Dallas in straight sets in the finals of the annual state open net tournament at Asheville, N. C., 6-2, 6-0, 8-6.

The return welterweight bout between Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin will be held at Madison Square Garden bowl in Long Island city, September 6, it was announced today in New York.

With perhaps 2,000 softball fans anxiously scanning the skies today for a break in the weather, the National Radiators and East Side Merchant teams are straining at the leash today anxious to get under way in the important second half battle. The game last night had to be postponed by the downpour of rain.

The two teams have agreed to battle it out tonight if possible at Centennial Field.

The setup for the game last night was perhaps the biggest of any softball game in the history of New Castle. The entire East Side of the city is steamed up over this impending contest. Both teams are eagerly awaiting the old familiar "play ball."

Centennial Field is proving a boon to softball here, inasmuch as the fans can sit in the grandstand and enjoy the game. There will not be any crowding on the field. No one not connected with the league will be allowed on the playing field.

The umpires for the game tonight will be Earl Riley back of the plate, Babovsky at first base, and Dennis at third base.

Some of the baseball people think Babe would be a bust as a manager. They say he has known too little discipline himself to discipline others. They forget that the Babe is 40 is not the wild lad he was at 20 or even at 30 and that authority either makes or breaks a man and it might very well make the Bambino.

Nobody doubts his ability to lead a team on the ball field. They admit he would be tops as a coach and agree that he knows a diamond in the rough as well as anybody. It is only the off-field situation that worries them.

However, the Babe himself has no doubts on that score. He thinks he'd be a howling success on or off the field and as he himself remarks, "how can they tell until I try it, me and I think they owe me at least one trial!"

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 31.—Fred Perry of England and Frank Shields of New York met today in the first of two singles matches which were expected to result in a victory for Perry and retention of the Davis cup by England.

Seventeen thousand were on hand when the two tennis stars took the court under a blistering sun.

Perry won the toss and started serving with a fault. He knocked a soft return over the baseline but soon steadied and the game went to deuce before Fred could pull it out after a long-sustained baseline duel.

Perry broke through Shields' service to take the second game.

Polish Nationals will play Hillsville at Hillsville, Bessemer will oppose Wampum on the latter's field and Mahoning will tackle West Pittsburg at West Pittsburg. Large crowds are attending the Lawrence county league games. The teams are striving hard and Wampum would like to upset Bessemer, league leaders. The first half was won by West Pittsburg.

Members of the American Legion team of this city have been instructed to report at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Legion home as the local baseball club will play Butler Legion team at Butler at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

At 6 p. m. Thursday on the Washington field here, the Legion teams of Sharon and this city will clash.

Reaction Continues To Rule
Market With Continuation
Of Monday's Decline

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 31.—Other than the mining shares, reaction continued to rule the stock market today in a continuation of yesterday's decline.

Metal stocks alone showed any sponsorship with gains running to a point and more. Dome Mines and U. S. Smelting were in the strong spots.

Rails were again under pressure, reflecting the indicated drop in loadings last week. Atchafalaya lost more than a point and N. Y. Central was under pressure.

U. S. Steel was lower but trading in this bellwether was light as Wall Street awaited the second quarter earnings report and dividend action to be taken by directors after the close of the market today.

Consolidated Gas was a weak spot, falling around a point, responding to the recommendation made to the New York city board of Aldermen that the city construct its own power plant. American Telephone started off lower but firmed later.

Oil marked time, while the chemicals were steady. Motors displayed a better tone after yesterday's decline. Westinghouse was lower while General Electric was quiet. Industrials generally showed few changes of importance.

Trading showed a further contraction from the activity of last week.

Grains were lower on profit-taking while cotton was higher. Other commodities showed limited changes. Bonds were lower, and the dollar firm.

Pittsburgh Truck Runs Into
Rear As Car Is Stopped At
Traffic Light

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Frank Dornik of Ellwood R. D. 2, received some minor damages to his car in accident last night near Pittsburgh. Mr. Dornik was traveling through Wilkesburg and had stopped for a traffic red light. A truck belonging to the Romack Transfer Company of Pittsburgh failed to stop in time and ran into the rear of the Dornik car. The rear bumper was broken and left fender damaged.

Two Autos In
Minor Accident

Machines Collide When One
Swings Wide To Avoid
Striking Another

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—The cars of two local drivers were slightly damaged about 9:30 last night on Fourth street and Division avenue. Emmett Schwaberg of North street, in his report at the local police station, stated that he was traveling South on Fourth street. Another car coming West on Division avenue made a right hand turn onto Fourth street. In order to avoid hitting another car that was parked on Fourth and ran into the front and left fender of Schwaberg's car. The damages to both cars was slight. The driver of the other car was Andy Biorli.

Class Has Picnic
Dinner On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—C. A. Martin Bible class of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a fine picnic dinner in the church dining room with 20 present. The rain had spoiled the original plans to have it in Ewing Park. After the dinner talks were heard by B. Wilson, and Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the church. A delightful entertainment followed. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Louise Fisher and Mrs. C. W. Jones. The class will meet again on the fourth Monday of August.

Chief Is Back
From Vacation

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Chief of Police W. C. Morrison is back on duty today after a two weeks vacation. The chief and his family enjoyed a vacation at Lake Erie. It is reported that the chief displayed unusual fishing ability and made some unusual catches that would make the disciples of Isaac Walton envy him.

CLASS MEETINGS

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—This evening members of the Sunshine and Wide Awake classes of the Hickory Knell Church of God will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Gallaher of Wurttemberg Heights for the regular meeting. Members of the social committee are Eleanor McQuiston, Evelyn Springer, Carl McKenna and Clarence Yahn.

W. M. S. MEETINGS

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Mrs. George McQuiston will receive members of the Mary Ruth society of the Hickory Knell Church of God at her home near North Sewickley tomorrow when they gather for an all-day meeting. The usual study period will be held at 2 o'clock. Thursday evening members of the Women's Missionary society of the Wurttemberg U. P. church will assemble at the home of Mrs. R. H. Kirk of Wurttemberg for the regular August meeting.

Tea Enjoyed By
Friendship Class

Many Participate In Event At
Home Of Mrs. Harvey
Hartzell Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Members of the Friendship Circle class of the local M. E. church had an enjoyable time Monday evening when they were entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. Harvey Hartzell on Perry street. Twenty-eight were present on the occasion. The evening was enjoyed in a delightful social manner with games and contests. As a result prizes were presented to Mrs. Emma Voorhees, Mrs. Ethel Harrison, Mrs. Strayler, and Mrs. Hazel Elliott. An added feature was the demonstration of a well known perfume by Mrs. Chester Hall and Mrs. H. H. Reynolds.

Man Falls Against
Car; Is Uninjured

Jack Dunning Escapes Injury
In Peculiar Accident Late
Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Jack Dunning of this city escaped unscathed when he fell back against a passing automobile driven by J. V. Holcomb of Fourth street, this city, late last night, while attempting to cross the street. In his report to local police Holcomb stated that he was traveling West on Lawrence avenue when an apparently intoxicated man started out to cross the street near the Central Hotel. He slowed up his car to avoid hitting him. Just as he was about to pass him, the man fell backwards into the car. Holcomb swerved his car away, but not enough to keep an undisputed him. The man was uninjured and was later taken home by an officer.

S. S. Picnics
Fine Successes

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Saturday was an outstanding day for more than two hundred and fifty members of the Knox Presbyterian Sunday school when they gathered at Wilson Grove along Connoquessing creek for the annual picnic and outing. A delectable dinner was enjoyed at noon after which the hours were passed in a merry manner, with swimming, quoits and a well-arranged program of sports in charge of Mr. Benhart, Clifford Rice and Herbert Rice. Fine prizes were awarded the winners.

Kiwanis Club To Meet Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Kiwanis club of this town will hold its weekly meeting tonight in the basement of the Trinity Lutheran church. The program for the occasion is in charge of Dr. C. M. Isenman, chairman of the Underprivileged Children's Committee.

MISSIONARY TEA

Ambassador May Taken By Death

Belgian Ambassador Dies Following Operation In Washington

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—The diplomatic corps was in mourning today in respect for Belgian Ambassador Paul May, one of its most popular members, who died during the night following an operation Saturday for gallstones.

His widow and three daughters, Francoise, Alberta Elizabeth and Ghislaine, survive. All three of them are now visiting in Belgium. May had been ambassador here since 1931 but this is the capital in which he started his diplomatic career which sent him to important posts throughout the world. He was sent here in 1933 as an embassy attaché. During the World War he was detailed in London.

Belfast, Ireland, Dublin, Irish Free State, Manchester, England, and the Isle of Man are to be connected by an air service operated by a railroad.

As we understand the munitions makers, Europe is foolishly drifting into another war, thank Goodness.

Reaction Continues To Rule Market With Continuation Of Monday's Decline

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 31.—Other than the mining shares, reaction continued to rule the stock market today in a continuation of yesterday's decline.

Metal stocks alone showed any sponsorship with gains running to a point and more. Dome Mines and U. S. Smelting were in the strong spots.

Rails were again under pressure, reflecting the indicated drop in loadings last week. Atchafalaya lost more than a point and N. Y. Central was under pressure.

U. S. Steel was lower but trading in this bellwether was light as Wall Street awaited the second quarter earnings report and dividend action to be taken by directors after the close of the market today.

Consolidated Gas was a weak spot, falling around a point, responding to the recommendation made to the New York city board of Aldermen that the city construct its own power plant. American Telephone started off lower but firmed later.

Oil stocks were steady. Motors displayed a better tone after yesterday's decline. Westinghouse was lower while General Electric was quiet. Industrials generally showed few changes of importance.

Trading showed a further contraction from the activity of last week.

Grains were lower on profit-taking while cotton was higher. Other commodities showed limited changes. Bonds were lower, and the dollar firm.

Pittsburgh Truck Runs Into Rear As Car Is Stopped At Traffic Light

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Frank Dornik of Ellwood R. D. 2, received some minor damages to his car in accident last night near Pittsburgh. Mr. Dornik was traveling through Wilkesburg and had stopped for a traffic red light. A truck belonging to the Romack Transfer Company of Pittsburgh failed to stop in time and ran into the rear end of the Dornik car. The rear bumper was broken and left fender damaged.

Two Autos In

Machines Collide When One Swings Wide To Avoid Striking Another

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—The cars of two local drivers were slightly damaged about 9:30 last night on Fourth street and Division avenue. Emmett Schweinsberg of North street, in his report at the local police station, stated that he was traveling South on Fourth street. Another car coming West on Division avenue made a right hand turn onto Fourth street. In order to avoid hitting another car that was parked on Fourth street, the driver made a wide turn and ran into the front and left fender of Schweinsberg's car. The damages to both cars was slight. The driver of the other car was Andy Biondi.

Class Has Picnic
Dinner On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—C. A. Martin Bible class of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a fine picnic dinner in the church dining room with 20 present. The rain had spoiled the original plans to have it in Ewing Park.

After the dinner talks were heard by G. B. Wilson, and Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the church. A delightful entertainment followed. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Louise Fisher and Mrs. C. W. Jones. The class will meet again on the fourth Monday of August.

Chief Is Back
From Vacation

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Chief of Police W. C. Morrison is back on duty today after a two weeks vacation. The chief and his family enjoyed themselves camping. It is reported that the chief displayed some unusual fishing ability and had some catches that would make the disciples of Isaac Walton envy him.

Tea Enjoyed By
Friendship Class

Many Participate In Event At Home Of Mrs. Harvey Hartzell Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Members of the Friendship Circle class of the local M. E. church had an enjoyable time Monday evening when they were entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. Harvey Hartzell on Perry street. Twenty-eight were present on the occasion. The evening was enjoyed in a delightful social manner with games and contests. As a result prizes were presented to Mrs. Emma Voorhees, Mrs. Ethel Harrison, Mrs. Strayler, and Mrs. Hazel Elliott. An added feature was the demonstration of a well known perfume by Mrs. Chester Hall and Mrs. H. H. Reynolds.

Tea and refreshments were then served by a committee composed of Mesdames J. K. Vogler, Mrs. O. J. Kemp, Mrs. Margaret Greenwood, Mrs. Jack Agnew and Mrs. Presley Yahn.

Special guests present on the occasion were Mesdames Carl Sneed, James Brown, Mrs. Curtis and Mrs. Strayler.

The class plans to hold its annual picnic next Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Ellwood City Country Club.

Man Falls Against

Jack Dunning Escapes Injury In Peculiar Accident Late Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Jack Dunning of this city escaped unscathed when he fell back against a passing automobile driven by J. V. Holcomb of Fourth street, this city, late last night while attempting to cross the street. In his report to local police Holcomb stated that he was traveling West on Lawrence avenue when an apparently intoxicated man started out to cross the street near the Central Hotel. He slowed up his car to avoid hitting him. Just as he was about to pass him, the man fell backwards into the car. Holcomb had to swerve his car away, but not enough to keep from sideswiping him. The man was uninjured and was later taken home by an officer.

S. S. Picnics
Fine Successes

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Saturday was an outstanding day for more than two hundred and fifty members and friends of the Knox Presbyterian Sunday school when they gathered at Wilson Grove along Connoquessing creek for the annual picnic and outing.

A delectable dinner was enjoyed at noon after which the hours were passed in a merry manner with swimming, quilts and a well-ranged program of sports in charge of Mr. Benheart, Clifford Rice and Herbert Rice. Fine prizes were awarded the winners.

Saturday was also a memorable occasion for members of the Sunday school of the Wurttemberg Methodist church when a large group assembled at Van Gordon's Beach for their picnic. At 1 o'clock the group partook of a sumptuous menu served by the ladies after which the remainder of the day was thoroughly enjoyed with swimming and a fine program of races and contests.

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Word was received here of the death of Frank Dambach, a brother of A. J. Dambach of Fourth street and former business man of this city, last Thursday near Los Angeles, Calif. The deceased had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services were held last Saturday morning. The deceased had been a member of the Pittsburgh company here 14 years ago. Besides his brother here he leaves his widow, three brothers and one sister. The sister and one brother reside in Zellenople. The widow has been in a sanitarium for her health for some time now also.

One Injured On Ellwood Highway

Julia Dajka, Castlewood, Sustains Bruises, Suffers Shock

Julia Dajka, occupant of an automobile operated by Mary Dajka, received bruises and suffered from shock at 4:30 p. m. Monday when the auto in which she was riding struck a truck operated by David O'Connor. All of the parties concerned in the accident reside at Castlewood and the crash occurred near Castlewood on the New Castle-Ellwood City highway.

According to the investigation of Highway Patrolman Holm, O'Connor had stopped his car on the highway waiting for another car to pass and the brakes on the other machine did not function properly.

Reaction Continues To Rule
Market With Continuation
Of Monday's Decline

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 31.—Other than the mining shares, reaction continued to rule the stock market today in a continuation of yesterday's decline.

Metal stocks alone showed any sponsorship with gains running to a point and more. Dome Mines and U. S. Smelting were in the strong spots.

Rails were again under pressure, reflecting the indicated drop in loadings last week. Atchafalaya lost more than a point and N. Y. Central was under pressure.

U. S. Steel was lower but trading in this bellwether was light as Wall Street awaited the second quarter earnings report and dividend action to be taken by directors after the close of the market today.

Consolidated Gas was a weak spot, falling around a point, responding to the recommendation made to the New York city board of Aldermen that the city construct its own power plant. American Telephone started off lower but firmed later.

Oils marked time, while the chemicals were steady. Motors displayed a better tone after yesterday's decline. Westinghouse was lower while General Electric was quiet. Industrial generally showed few changes of importance.

Trading showed a further contraction from the activity of last week.

Grains were lower on profit-taking while cotton was higher. Other commodities showed limited changes.
Bonds were lower, and the dollar firm.

In Accident At Pittsburgh Monday

Pittsburgh Truck Runs Into
Rear As Car Is Stopped At
Traffic Light

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Frank Dornik of Ellwood R. D. 2, received some minor damages to his car in accident last night near Pittsburgh.
Mr. Dornik was traveling through Wilkesburg and had stopped for a traffic red light. A truck belonging to the Romick Transfer Company of Pittsburgh failed to stop in time and ran into the rear end of the Dornik car. The rear bumper was broken and left fender damaged.

Two Autos In
Minor Accident

Machines Collide When One
Swings Wide To Avoid
Striking Another

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—The cars of two local drivers were slightly damaged about 9:30 last night on Fourth street and Division avenue.
Emmett Schweinsberg of North street, in his report at the local police station, stated that he was traveling South on Fourth street.
Another car coming West on Division avenue made a right hand turn onto Fourth street. In order to avoid hitting another car that was parked on Fourth street, the driver made a wide turn and ran into the front and rear left fender of Schweinsberg's car. The damages to both cars was slight. The driver of the other car was Andy Elordi.

Class Has Picnic
Dinner On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—C. A.
Marlin Bible class of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a fine picnic dinner in the church dining room with 20 present. The rain had spoiled the original plans to have it in Ewing Park.
After the dinner talks were heard by G. B. Wilson, and Rev. A. M.
Stevenson, pastor of the church. A delightful entertainment followed.
The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Louise Fisher and Mrs. C. W.
Jones. The class will meet again on the fourth Monday of August.

Chief Is Back
From Vacation

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Chief of Police W. C. Morrison is back on duty today after a two week vacation. The chief and his family enjoyed themselves camping. It is reported that the chief displayed some unusual fishing ability and had some catches that would make the disciples of Isaac Walton envy him.

CLASS MEETINGS

Eleanor McQuiston, Evelyn Springer, Carl McKenna and Clarence Yahn.

Members of the Harriet Gordon class of the Wurttemberg U. P. church will be received Wednesday evening at the home of Miss Lavee Hooker of Wurttemberg.
Miss Mary Hazen will be hostess to members of the Y. A. F. class of the Providence Baptist church of North Sewickley on Friday evening when they gather at her home at Riverview for a wienie roast.

W. M. S. MEETINGS
ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Mrs.
George McQuiston will receive members of the Mary Ruth society of the Hickory Knell Church of God at her home near North Sewickley tomorrow when they gather for an all-day meeting. The usual study period will be held at 2 o'clock.
Thursday evening members of the Wurttemberg U. P. church will assemble at the home of Mrs. R. H.
Kirk of Wurttemberg for the regular

Tea Enjoyed By
Friendship Class

Many Participate In Event At
Home Of Mrs. Harvey
Hartzell Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Members of the Friendship Circle class of the local M. E. church had an enjoyable time Monday evening when they were entertained at a tea at the home of Mrs. Harvey Hartzzell on Perry street. Twenty-eight were present on the occasion.
The evening was enjoyed in a delightful social manner with games and contests. As a result prizes were presented to Mrs. Emma Voorhees, Mrs. Ethel Harrison, Mrs.
Strayler, and Mrs. Hazel Elliott. An added feature was the demonstration of a well known perfume by Mrs. Chester Hall and Mrs. H. H.
Reynolds.

Tea and refreshments were then served by a committee composed of Mesdames J. E. Vogler, Mrs. O. J.
Kemp, Mrs. Margaret Greenwood,
Mrs. Jack Agnew and Mrs. Presley Yahn.

Special guests present on the occasion were Mesdames Carl Sneed, James Brown, Mrs. Curtis and Mrs.
Strayler.

The class plans to hold its annual picnic next Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Ellwood City Country Club.

Man Falls Against
Car; Is Uninjured

Jack Dunning Escapes Injury
In Peculiar Accident Late
Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Jack Dunning of this city escaped unscathed when he fell back against a passing automobile driven by J. V.
Holcomb of Fourth street, this city, late last night, while attempting to cross the street.
In his report to local police Holcomb stated that he was traveling West on Lawrence avenue when an apparently intoxicated man started out to cross the street near the Central Hotel. He slowed up his car to avoid hitting him. Just as he was about to pass him, the man fell backward into the car. Holcomb had to swerve his car away, but not enough to keep from sideswiping him. The man was uninjured and was later taken home by an officer.

S. S. Picnics
Fine Successes

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Saturday was an outstanding day for more than two hundred and fifty members and friends of the Knox Presbyterian Sunday school when they gathered at Wilson Grove along Conococheague creek for the annual picnic and outing.

A delectable dinner was enjoyed at noon after which the hours were passed in a merry manner with swimming, quoits and a well-arranged program of sports in charge of Mr. Benheart, Clifford Rice and Herbert Rice. Fine prizes were awarded the winners.

Saturday was also a memorable occasion for members of the Sunday school of the Wurttemberg Methodist church when a large group assembled at Van Gorder's Beach for their picnic. At 1 o'clock the group partook of a sumptuous menu served by the ladies after which the remainder of the day was thoroughly enjoyed with swimming and a fine program of races and contests.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT
ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Cablegrams have been received here of the birth of a daughter on Sunday, July 22, to Rev. and Mrs. John G.
Smith, who are missionaries stationed near Tokio in Japan. Mrs.
Smith was the former Floy Bauder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bauder, of this city and Rev. Smith is a son of Rev. and Mrs. W. S. Smith of Clade Run, former pastor of the Wurttemberg U. P. church.

SCHOOL REUNION
ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Wednesday, August 8, has been set as the date for the tenth annual picnic of the Red Brush and Scheivel school districts to be held in the orchard of Calvin Bailes near the Scheiavel school. A basket picnic will be featured at noon followed by a program of songs and speeches and a sports program to amuse the younger folks.

Reaction Continues To Rule
Market With Continuation
Of Monday's Decline

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, July 31.—Other than the mining shares, reaction continued to rule the stock market today in a continuation of yesterday's decline.

Metal stocks alone showed any sponsorship with gains running to a point and more. Dome Mines and U. S. Smelting were in the strong spots.

Rails were again under pressure, reflecting the indicated drop in loadings last week. Atchafalaya lost more than a point and N. Y. Central was under pressure.

U. S. Steel was lower but trading in this bellwether was light as Wall Street awaited the second quarter earnings report and dividend action to be taken by directors after the close of the market today.

Consolidated Gas was a weak spot, falling around a point, responding to the recommendation made to the New York city board of Aldermen that the city construct its own power plant. American Telephone started off lower but firmed later.

Oils marked time, while the chemicals were steady. Motors displayed a better tone after yesterday's decline. Westinghouse was lower while General Electric was quiet. Industrials generally showed few changes of importance.

Trading showed a further contraction from the activity of last week.

Grains were lower on profit-taking while cotton was higher. Other commodities showed limited changes. Bonds were lower, and the dollar firm.

Two Autos In
Minor Accident

Machines Collide When One
Swings Wide To Avoid
Striking Another

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—The cars of two local drivers were slightly damaged about 9:30 last night on Fourth street and Division avenue. Emmett Schweinsberg of North street, in his report at the local police station, stated that he was traveling South on Fourth street. Another car coming West on Division avenue made a right hand turn onto Fourth street. In order to avoid hitting another car that was parked on Fourth street, the driver made a wide turn and ran into the front and rear left fender of Schweinsberg's car. The damages to both cars was slight. The driver of the other car was Andy Biorli.

Class Has Picnic
Dinner On Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—C. A. Martin Bible class of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a fine picnic dinner in the church dining room with 20 present. The rain had spoiled the original plans to have it in Ewing Park. After the dinner talks were heard by G. B. Wilson, and Rev. A. M. Stevenson, pastor of the church. A delightful entertainment followed. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Louise Fisher and Mrs. C. W. Jones. The class will meet again on the fourth Monday of August.

Man Falls Against
Car; Is Uninjured

Jack Dunning Escapes Injury
In Peculiar Accident Late
Last Night

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Jack Dunning of this city escaped unscathed when he fell back against a passing automobile driven by J. V. Holcomb of Fourth street, this city, late last night, while attempting to cross the street. In his report to local police Holcomb stated that he was traveling West on Lawrence avenue when an apparently intoxicated man started out to cross the street near the Central Hotel. He slowed up his car to avoid hitting him. Just as he was about to pass him, the man fell backwards into the car. Holcomb had to swerve his car away, but not enough to keep from sideswiping him. The man was uninjured and was later taken home by an officer.

S. S. Picnics
Fine Successes

ELLWOOD CITY, July 31.—Saturday was an outstanding day for more than two hundred and fifty members and friends of the Knox Presbyterian Sunday school when they gathered at Wilson Grove along Connoquessing creek for the annual picnic and outing.

A delectable dinner was enjoyed at noon after which the hours were passed in a merry manner with swimming, quilts and a well-arranged program of sports in charge of Mr. Berchard, Clifford Rice and Herbert Rice. Fine prizes were awarded the winners.

Saturday was also a memorable occasion for members of the Sunday school of the Wurttemberg Methodist church when a large group assembled at Van Gorder's Beach for their picnic. At 1 o'clock the group partook of a sumptuous menu served by the ladies after which the remainder of the day was thoroughly enjoyed with swimming and a fine program of races and contests.

Pomona Grange Picnic Friday

Expect Large Crowd Will Gather At Cascade Park For Day

PROGRAM STARTS AT 2 IN AFTERNOON

Grangers of Lawrence County have set aside Friday August 3 for a day devoid of work, a day devoted to nothing but pleasure and reunion. The Lawrence County Pomona Grange holds its annual picnic that day in Cascade Park and everyone of the 1500 members, with their families will be in attendance if it is at all possible.

The day will be a full one for the Patrons of Husbandry. A basket dinner will be served at 12:15 and a lot of prize chickens will bid goodbye to the world in the picnic grove of the park that day. A basket dinner at a grange picnic means fried chicken and giblets, strawberry jam and flaky muffins, cole slaw and potato salad and a dozen other delicacies that tempt strangers to commit larceny.

Program At Two

At two o'clock there will be a program in the bandstand, with the speaker yet to be announced. At three o'clock a program of sports will be run off which will include races, horse shoe pitching, a ball game, other athletic events. There will also be special music.

W. S. Fullerton, master of Pomona Grange will be in charge of the day's events and with his assistants he promises the grangers a day of genuine enjoyment. Cascade Park is making special arrangements for the grangers and with good weather prevailing the day should be a huge success.

"Mayor" Hoyland Gives Oil Cure

Administers Castor Oil In First Appearance As Police Judge Of City

Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland today acted as police court judge and like His Honor, Mayor Charles Mayne, he put the castor oil bottle on his desk.

It was the first time Hoyland performed as mayor, it was the first time Hoyland administered the castor oil treatment.

One prisoner took the oil rather than a jail sentence, having been found guilty of intoxication.

Hoyland fined John Fyank (Aldridge), colored, $5.00, in default of which he was sent to jail on a charge of growing out of his alleged purchase of fishing equipment from a young lad who is said to have stolen it.

Lists 6 Reasons Why Teaching Is Hard Profession

(International News Service)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Miss Margaret T. Corwin, dean of New Jersey College for Women, sees six good reasons against choosing teaching as a career. Her admonitions to prospective teachers are:

- 1—"Don't decide to teach because you want a white collar job and long vacations. You will be painfully disappointed if you do."
- 2—"Don't go into teaching if you are ambitious for success. If you teach you must be prepared for a life of plain living."
- 3—"Don't go into teaching unless you are prepared to abandon the credit system. The greatest teachers enjoyed their work and craved few expressions of appreciation."

4—"Don't go into education with political or social ambitions. While the Brain Trust was recruited from our campuses, it is still an exceptional thing for a man or woman to leave the college world for politics."- 5—"Don't drift into teaching as the way of least resistance."
- 6—"Don't undertake teaching because friends have advised against business and other professions. A professor needs a keen sense of humor and ability to know and like people, as well as a knowledge of his own subject."

POLICE UNCOVER MASK AND GUNS

(International News Service)

STEUBENVILLE, O., July 31.—David Dascanio, 49-year-old stocky Italian, held as a suspect in the "phantom killings" today was to be placed in a police "lineup" and confronted with a number of strange "exhibits" which authorities found in his room.

He was to be grilled by police inquisitors as to why he possessed a black mask found in a trunk in his lodging house. In the compartments of the box also were found a large amount of ammunition and scores of rocks. Other articles which police refused to describe were also uncovered.

According to authorities, Dascanio's room had double shades over the windows and the keyhole in the door was plugged. In the place also was found newspaper clippings telling of the attacks by Steubenville's "Phantom Killer" and also of the killing of Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago, in the attempted assassination of President Roosevelt in Florida.

Although Dascanio has maintained steadfastly that "I no shoot anybody," County Prosecutor Arthur Hooper made preparations to recall the grand jury for a special session tomorrow to ask for a first degree murder indictment against the suspect. Once, during the long grilling, the Italian said "If I don't talk I live; if I talk I die."

Post Office Gets Inspection Today

Washington Man Views New Building On Diamond; Reports "Good Job"

Here for what he termed a "general inspection" of New Castle's new post office on the diamond, C. T. Holden, of Washington, D. C., representative of the public works division of the United States Treasury department today expressed his satisfaction with the new project.

"It's a pretty good job so far" was Mr. Holden's brief comment. Asked if he came here on any particular inspection mission, Mr. Holden replied that he did not.

As Mr. Holden went about his inspection trip with Federal Construction Engineer Miles E. Myers and Supt. George J. Murphy, head man for A. W. Kutsche and Company, the contractors, workmen were engaged in their regular work inside. Outside a street curb was being erected around the Washington and Jefferson street corner preparatory to opening the section of the street now blocked off by frame barricades.

Farmer, 100, Still Does Own Chores

Orson Greene Who Voted For Lincoln Still Going Strong

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Still hale and hearty and able to do the chores about his 160-acre farm near here, Orson Greene, who twice voted for Abraham Lincoln, served in the Civil War and attended his own son's golden wedding anniversary celebration, rounded out 100 years of life July 8.

Wiry and straight, his eyes glowing, the centenarian, who works in his garden every day and milks two cows morning and night, regards himself as an example of the result of a temperate, active life.

"I've always been hard," he said. "I've never touched tobacco in any form; I've never been drunk and I've never had a fight."

Born in Sandusky county, Ohio, in 1834, Greene came to Missouri in 1869, building his own home, in which he has lived with his family for 65 years. He is the father of seven children.

PROGRAM STARTS AT 2 IN AFTERNOON

Grangers of Lawrence County have set aside Friday August 3 for a day devoted to work, a day devoted to nothing but pleasure and reunion. The Lawrence County Pomona Grange holds its annual picnic that day in Cascade Park and everyone of the 1500 members, with their families will be in attendance if it is at all possible.

The day will be a full one for the Patrons of Husbandry. A basket dinner will be served at 12:15 and a lot of prize chickens will bid goodbye to the world in the picnic grove of the park that day. A basket dinner at a grange picnic means fried chicken and giblets, strawberry jam and flaky muffins, cole slaw and potato salad and a dozen other delicacies that tempt strangers to commit larceny.

Program At Two

At two o'clock there will be a program in the bandstand, with the speaker yet to be announced. At three o'clock a program of sports will be run off which will include races, horse shoe pitching, a ball game, other athletic events. There will also be special music.

W. S. Fullerton, master of Pomona Grange will be in charge of the day's events and with his assistants he promises the grangers a day of genuine enjoyment. Cascade Park is making special arrangements for the grangers and with good weather prevailing the day should be a huge success.

The Lawrence County Pomona Grange holds its annual picnic that day in Cascade Park and everyone of the 1500 members, with their families will be in attendance if it is at all possible.

The day will be a full one for the patrons of Hubbard. A basket dinner will be served at 12:15 and a lot of prize chickens will bid goodbye to the world in the picnic grove of the park that day. A basket dinner at a grange picnic means fried chicken and giblets, strawberry jam and flaky muffins, cole slaw and potato salad and a dozen other delicacies that tempt strangers to commit larceny.

Program At Two
At two o'clock there will be a program in the bandstand, with the speaker yet to be announced. At three o'clock a program of sports will be run off which will include races, horse shoe pitching, a ball game, other athletic events. There will also be special music.

W. S. Fullerton, master of Pomona Grange will be in charge of the day's events and with his assistants he promises the grangers a day of genuine enjoyment. Cascade Park is making special arrangements for the grangers and with good weather prevailing the day should be a huge success.

Forest Belt, Drouth Check, Gets Under Way

Government's scheme for alleviating drouth ravages in West with a 100-mile wide, 1,000-mile long cultivated forest, announced only a few days ago, already is being made an actuality under direction of Raphael Zon (left) and Fred Morrell, Forest Service executives, who are shown studying a map where tree belt is to be set out with 7-year-old saplings from government nurseries. A total of $75,000,000 will be spent in renting land and setting trees. (Central Press)

"Mayor" Hoyland Gives Oil Cure

Administers Castor Oil In First Appearance As Police Judge Of City

Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland today acted as police court judge and like His Honor, Mayor Charles Mayne, he put the castor oil bottle on his desk.

It was the first time Hoyland performed as mayor, it was the first time Hoyland administered the castor oil treatment.

One prisoner took the oil rather than a jail sentence, having been found guilty of intoxication. Hoyland fined John Frank (Aldridge), colored, $5.00, in default of which he was sent to jail on a charge of growing out of his alleged purchase of fishing equipment from a young lad who is said to have stolen it.

MAY SOLVE GAS MYSTERY
(International News Service)
DENVER—The mystery of Colorado's "ice cream" gas sands in North Park are to be solved this summer. A large oil company holding extensive leases in the vicinity announced that it would spend thousands of dollars if necessary to learn what causes the strange carbon dioxide gas to spout from a well with tremendous pressure at 140 degrees below zero.

HELD IN LOVE-LETTER SLAYING

Poetess Helen Louise Duke is shown at her desk in her woodland, Cal., home, with (inset) her husband, Judson Duke, a San Leandro city official who, according to police, shot and killed Lamar Hollingshead, a University of California student who had written love letters to Mrs. Duke. Police say they obtained a confession, in which Duke said he meant only to frighten Hollingshead.

Lists 6 Reasons Why Teaching Is Hard Profession

(International News Service)
NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—Miss Margaret T. Corwin, dean of New Jersey College for Women, sees six good reasons against choosing teaching as a career. Her admonitions to prospective teachers are:

- 1—"Don't decide to teach because you want a white collar job and long vacations. You will be painfully disappointed if you do."
- 2—"Don't go into teaching if you are ambitious for success. If you teach you must be prepared for a life of plain living."
- 3—"Don't go into teaching unless you are prepared to abandon the credit system. The greatest teachers enjoyed their work and craved few expressions of appreciation."

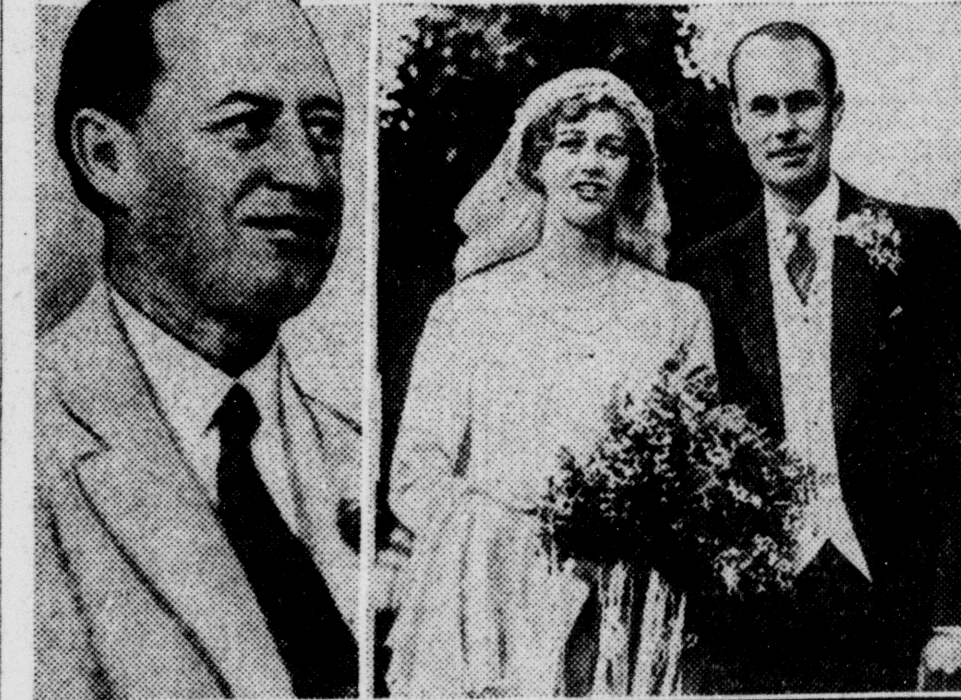

4—"Don't go into education with political or social ambitions. While the Brain Trust was recruited from our campuses, it is still an exceptional thing for a man or woman to leave the college world for politics."

5—"Don't drift into teaching as the way of least resistance."

'Phantom Killer' Is Being Grilled

David Descanio, 49, Is Confronted With Slayings Of Steel Workers

(International News Service)
STUEBENVILLE, O., July 31.—David Descanio, 49-year-old stocky Italian, held as a suspect in the "phantom killings" today was to be placed in a police "lineup" and confronted with a number of strange "exhibits" which authorities found in his room.

He was to be grilled by police inquisitors as to why he possessed a black mask found in a trunk in his lodging house. In the compartments of the box also were found a large amount of ammunition and scores of rocks. Other articles which police refused to describe were also uncovered.

According to authorities, Descanio's room had double shades over the windows and the keyhole in the door was plugged. In the place also was found newspaper clippings telling of the attacks by Stueben's "Phantom Killer" and also of the killing of Mayor Anton Cermak, of Chicago, in the attempted assassination of President Roosevelt in Florida.

Although Descanio has maintained steadfastly that "I no shoot anybody," County Prosecutor Arthur Hooper made preparations to recall the grand jury for a special session tomorrow to ask for a first degree murder indictment against the suspect. Once, during the long grilling, the Italian said "If I don't talk I live; if I talk I die."

Post Office Gets Inspection Today

Washington Man Views New Building On Diamond; Reports "Good Job"

Here for what he termed a "general inspection" of New Castle's new post office on the diamond, C. T. Holden, of Washington, D. C., representative of the public works division of the United States Treasury department today expressed his satisfaction with the new project.

"It's a pretty good job so far" was Mr. Holden's brief comment. Asked if he came here on any particular inspection mission, Mr. Holden replied that he did not.

As Mr. Holden went about his inspection trip with Federal Construction Engineer Miles E. Myers and Supt. George J. Murphy, head man for A. W. Kutsche and Company, the contractors, workmen were engaged in their regular work inside. Outside a street curb was being erected around the Washington and Jefferson street corner preparatory to opening the section of the street now blocked off by frame barricades.

Farmer, 100, Still Does Own Chores

Orson Greene Who Voted For Lincoln Still Going Strong

(International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Still hale and hearty and able to do the chores about his 160-acre farm near here, Orson Greene, who twice voted for Abraham Lincoln, served in the Civil War and attended his own son's golden wedding anniversary celebration, rounded out 100 years of life July 8.

Wiry and straight, his eyes glowing, the centenarian, who works in his garden every day and milks two cows morning and night, regards himself as an example of the result of a temperate, active life.

"I've always worked hard," he said. "I've never touched tobacco in any form; I've never been drunk and I've never had a fight."

Seek Peace In Chicago Strike

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, July 31.—Department of Labor conciliators struggled to achieve peace today in the strike of 800 stock handlers at the Union Stock Yards, cheered by the diminished threat of a sympathetic walk-out by union butchers.

Further conferences were arranged between labor union and stock yard officials to end the strike that has tied up activities at the yards. Shipments of food animals has been reduced to one-tenth of normal by the walkout.

The threatened strike by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workers of America in sympathy with its affiliate, the Stock Handlers Union, was believed averted.

Company K Will Form Medical Corps

Company K of the Sons of Union Veterans held their regular meeting in the city hall Monday evening. It was made known that word has been received from Congressman J. Howard Swick who is working with the Company in order to secure additional rifles for drill work. Plans were made to form a medical corps for the Company. The medical corps will be made up of young women who will be drilled and trained in military style. They will be expected to serve in case of emergency or sickness, and will be fully trained in first-aid.

The next drill was planned for August 7 at 7:30 in the City Hall.

Borland And Marvin Speak Before Lions

Delegates Report Sessions Of Convention Held In Grand Rapids

Reports of the recent Lions International convention at Grand Rapids, Mich., were brought to the New Castle club today by its president and delegate, Dr. Arthur H. Borland, and by District Governor Ezra D. Marvin, also a member of the club here.

The club's weekly luncheon was largely devoted to the two speakers. Reports of the new committees which President Borland recently named were called for. Others reported the club golf tournament making good progress.

Frederick Taylor, Jr., of near Pulaski, was a guest at the meeting.

Calchas was the famous prophet of the Greek army before Troy, gifted by Apollo with knowledge of the past and the future.

Bolshevism as a culture assumes that cultural traditions of the past are in their essence bourgeois and therefore tainted.

Supervisors To Meet In Interest Of Canal, Friday

F. W. Bradley, president of the Lawrence County Supervisors and Auditors, announced today that a special meeting of the organization will be held on Friday evening, August 3, at 7:30 o'clock, in the city council chambers, for the purpose of co-operating in the interest of the proposed canal.
